Department of Indigenous Services Canada – British Columbia Region
2022– 2023 Program Guide

Introduction

This publication is the annual BC Region Program Guide. 'The Guide' contains important program and budget information intended for the administrators and program managers of First Nations, Indigenous organizations and Indigenous Services Canada staff.

All information in this Guide is up to date upon publication – any changes made throughout the year will be communicated directly to Chief and Council and Indigenous Organizations by Indigenous Services Canada Program Managers. In the event of a variance, your Indigenous Services Canada funding agreement, the Reporting Guide, and Indigenous Services Canada's Program Manuals will take precedence over this Guide.

What information will I find in the Program Guide?

The Guide is a 'user-friendly,' quick reference tool. It provides:

- A brief definition of each program, service, and activity.
- Proposal, Application, Work plan (PAW) and reporting information.
- Each program's 'funding methodology' (current funding formula).

Within this section, there is useful information on:

- Proposal, Application and Work plan (PAW) submission options; and
- Reporting Requirement (DCI) information; and
- Grants and Contributions Information Management System (GCIMS).

At the back of the Guide, you will also find a List of Acronyms and their meanings, links to the National funding agreement models used by Indigenous Services Canada, as well as a Chart of Accounts which lists Grants and Contribution funding codes used by Indigenous Services Canada.

General Information and What's New

The Program Guide is reviewed and updated each year by Indigenous Services Canada BC Region staff. Whenever possible, web links are included for listed reference manuals and documents. Reporting requirements and a calendar of due dates are also included. Please share this guide with staff members who manage these programs.

Overview of Transfer Payments

The Policy on Transfer Payments (PTP) and the Directives on Transfer Payments provide guidance and direction to Federal Departments to ensure that transfer payment programs are managed with integrity, transparency, and accountability in a manner that is sensitive to risks; are citizen and recipient-focused; and are designed and delivered to address government priorities in achieving results.

A Transfer Payment is a transfer of goods, services or assets or the payment of money to a third-party recipient. This transfer does not result in the Government acquiring any goods, services or assets directly.

The two types of transfer payments used by ISC are:

- Grants – not subject to any pre-conditions or required to be accounted for by the recipient and do not require an audit by the department. The recipient may have to report on activities and results achieved.
    - New for April 1, 2019, a 10-year grant covering core funding are available for eligible First Nations. Please contact your Funding Services Officer for more information.

- Contributions – subject to performance conditions specified in a funding agreement with the recipient that are to be accounted for and are subject to audit.

To access the Policy on Transfer Payments, please visit:

To access the Directive on Transfer Payments, please visit:

Overview of Funding Agreements

A funding agreement is a legal contract for the transfer of federal funding to eligible recipients for the delivery of programs, services, and activities. The contract is binding on the parties to the agreement and sets out the agreement's terms and conditions and the parties' obligations. ISC develops and maintains generic funding agreement models which are used for different purposes.

In the Funding Information section of this Guide, links are available to the National funding agreement models for 2022-2023:

- First Nations and Tribal Councils National Funding Agreement Model 2022-2023.
- Streamlined Funding Agreement Model for First Nations (new/optional) 2022-2023;
- Funding Agreement Model – Other 2022-2023.

For more information on funding agreement models, please visit:
www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1545169431029/1545169495474

Comprehensive Funding Agreement

On April 1, 2019, Indigenous Services Canada introduced a new Comprehensive Funding Agreement (CFA). First Nations, Tribal Councils and other organizations will transition to the new agreement over the next few years as their agreements expire. The Comprehensive Funding Agreement is the only Indigenous Services funding agreement which the 10-year grant can be delivered.

The Comprehensive Funding Agreement adopts the language of the New Fiscal Relationship (NFR) and it includes all funding approaches: Set, Fixed, Flexible, Block, Grant and NFR Grant.

For more information on funding agreement models, please visit: www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1545169431029/1545169495474

Proposal, Application & Work plan (PAW) and Data Collection Instrument (DCI) Information

Proposals, Applications and Work plans (PAW) are standardized forms used by Indigenous Services Canada to collect information from funding recipients on the results they intend to achieve with funding requested.

Indigenous Services Canada collects program data to support statutory requirements, resource allocation, performance reporting, accountability, program planning, policy analysis and operational requirements.

The Proposal, Application, Work plan (PAW) templates can be downloaded at the following website: https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1571829044381/1571829074923 processes, manages funding agreement information, and provides on-line access for First Nations and other funding recipients.

Benefits of GCIMS access for First Nations and other Indigenous partners:

- Tracking of reports submitted with immediate feedback for any issues which might trigger funding halts so they can be managed in a timely manner.
- Electronic access to reports which provide information for the statistical analysis of program information.
- Electronic access to cash flow and payment information.
- Electronic access to funding agreement information such as terms and conditions.
- The ability to access the status of amendments or budget adjustments within the funding agreement.

General Information & What's New

Comprehensive Community Planning (CCP) and the Mentorship Initiative

Comprehensive Community Planning (CCP) is a holistic process that engages community members in planning and implementing the long-term vision for their community. Funding for participating in aspects of the CCP process is available through Professional and Institutional Development (P&ID), the First Nation Infrastructure Fund (FNIF) and through other sources external to ISC.

BC Region holds an annual CCP Workshop that is designed and delivered by experienced First Nations CCP Champions. The purpose of the workshop is to bring together First Nations to share lessons learned, best practices, and to increase capacity in the planning process. Participants at the annual workshops have long cited the benefits of learning from and with other First Nations.

The CCP Mentorship Initiative was developed out of the desire of CCP Workshop participants to continue First Nation to First Nation learning throughout the year. Under the CCP Mentorship Initiative, experienced First Nations planning champions (mentors) work with First Nations in the early stages of planning (mentees). ISC provides funding for mentors and mentees to work together.

Individuals registered under the Indian Act can apply for a status card. Two versions are currently available:

- The Secure Certificate of Indian Status is available in one of three ways: by visiting an Indian Registration Administrator at a band office, by visiting the regional office, or by mailing an application to the Secure Certificate of Indian Status (SCIS) National Processing Unit. For more information about the SCIS, including identification requirements and application forms, visit the Indigenous Services Canada (ISC) website: www.canada.ca/indian-status

The Band Support Funding (BSF) Program provides funding to First Nations, in the form of a grant, to assist band councils in funding the costs of local governments and the administration of departmentally funded services. This can include the formation, implementation, and enforcement of policies and regulations, selection of representatives, and efficient delivery of services to citizens in a way that enhances social and economic well-being.

The Estates Management Funding Program provides funding for activities to support estates management related activities.

Funding can be provided to:

- Develop skills for effective governance of estates programs; and
- Support activities aimed at informing band members on the benefits of estate planning and the importance of writing wills; and
- Increase the role of First Nations in the administration of the estates of deceased individuals and of the estates of those who have been declared, by provincial or territorial laws, to be incapable of managing their property.

FUNDING METHODOLOGY:

As in previous years, the Regional Estates Unit will contact First Nations directly when funding becomes available.

Note: BC Region Estates Unit recommends proposals for final review and submits for headquarters for final approval.

Indian Registration & Band Lists

These resources enable bands to provide registration and status card services to community members by employing an Indian Registration Administrator directly or through a Tribal Council. The Department must certify the Indian Registration Administrator before they can assume their duties.

REPORTING ADDITIONAL INFORMATION: (if applicable)	First Nations are required to report information to the regional office in accordance with the Indian Act and Indian Registration Administrator training. Each First Nation must submit supporting documentation to the regional office along with a data entry report for every change event.

CONTACT INFORMATION:

FUNDING METHODOLOGY:

Funding is only available for that retain the services of one or more Indian Registration Administrators. The service may be delivered by the First Nation or by a Tribal Council. When the service is delivered by both the First Nation and a Tribal Council, the entire amount will be funded to the organization chosen by the First Nation.

Allocations are based on the national formula of $7.07 per capita (registered individuals as of December 31st) plus $15.00 per compensable event (processed in the previous calendar year). Bands and tribal councils whose allocations are calculated at under $5,000 will receive $5,000.

Example:
800 registered Indians times $7.07 equals $5,656 plus 20 compensable events times $15.00 equals $300 for a total of $5,956. The total funding allocation would be $5,956.

NOTE:

Compensable events include births, deaths, marriages, divorces, band transfers, and SCIS applications aided by an Indian Registration Administrator that result in the issuance of a status card. Events reported by one band on behalf of another band are split events: the reporting band and the affected band(s) will split $15.00.

First Nations with a Block or a NFR Grant funding agreement have this program built into their core funding.

Tendering Policy for ISC-Funded Capital Projects – Interim Update

As of August 1, 2021, the interim update to the Tendering Policy on Federally Funded Capital Projects for First Nations on reserve came into effect as a step to address immediate issues raised by First Nations and Indigenous Services Canada (ISC) regional offices. A more comprehensive review will be undertaken in collaboration with First Nations to tackle more complex issues within the policy.

The updated policy applies to capital projects (excluding housing) approved for funding by ISC on and after August 1, 2021. Projects entering feasibility stage on or after September 1, 2021, will be subject to this new policy. Projects approved for feasibility, design or construction funding prior to August 1, 2021, will be subject to the tendering policy in place at the time of approval and are not required to comply with the updated policy. The updated tendering policy has been published on ISC's departmental website: www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1100100010608/1533651727486. For more information, please contact your Capital Management Officer.

Housing Support Program (HSP)

The Housing Support Program (HSP), formerly known as the New Approach for Housing Support (NAHS) has merged its multi-year and single year project applications to one Housing Support Program (HSP) Project Application. Subsidy rates will remain at the increased levels and a flat rate for multi-unit construction is available. See HSP section for more information.

All Housing Support Program (HSP) Governance and Capacity and HSP Project applications must be sent to: HousingBC-logementcb@sac-isc.gc.ca.

Community Facilities

First Nations Infrastructure Investment Plan (FNIIP)

The First Nations Infrastructure Investment Plan (FNIIP) is a national Indigenous Services Canada (ISC) initiative designed to apply a consistent approach to short- and medium-term planning and budget forecasting. The FNIIP is a useful tool to support First Nations infrastructure and housing planning processes and allows the Department to better forecast infrastructure needs.

FNIIP is a 5-year plan that is based on a First Nations community priorities submitted annually to ISC. First Nations, along with BC Region's Capital Management Officer (CMO) work on the development of "the plan" based on community needs and priorities that may include drinking water, housing and education facilities. The annual FNIIP provides an opportunity for Chief and Council to review their capital program each year and amend "the plan" to address the changing needs of their community. Projects that should be included in the FNIIP are described on the following pages.

The projects are assessed against national priorities, the national priority-ranking criteria, and is used to determine which projects are selected within the available resource levels for the next five fiscal years. The national priorities include:

- Mitigating health and safety risks through existing and new assets;
- Protecting and maintaining the life cycles of existing assets, emphasizing health and safety;
- Addressing backlogs of water and sewage Capital Facilities and Management Program (CFMP) activities; and
- Investing in sustainable communities (e.g. housing, electrification, roads, education and community facilities) and community capacity enhancement.

Protocol for ISC-Funded Infrastructure (PIFI)

The Protocol for ISC-Funded Infrastructure (PIFI) is an omnibus protocol that is referenced in the funding agreement for First Nations for 2022-2023. It lists all the policies, protocols, guidelines, and standards applicable to the Capital Facilities and Maintenance Program (CFMP). First Nations follow the PIFI as part of their overall funding agreement. The PIFI will be updated over time as references are amended and new regulations and standards are adopted.

The Protocol for ISC-Funded Infrastructure can be found at the following site: Protocol for ISC-Funded Infrastructure (sac-isc.gc.ca)

Capital Facilities and Maintenance Program (CFMP)

Capital Facilities and Maintenance Program (CFMP) provides financial assistance to plan, construct and/or acquire, and operate and maintain community capital facilities and services (infrastructure, including schools) and housing (residential) consistent with approved policies and standards.

ISC's policies and procedures relating to the CFMP are set out in several frameworks, mainly the department's Level of Service Standards (LOSS), the protocols for water and wastewater, and the school space accommodation standards. The Department's policy, as stated in LOSS, is to support and assist First Nations in providing basic community services comparable to the levels of services that would generally be available in non-First Nations communities of similar size and circumstances.

In managing the CFMP, the Department is in conformance with the Indian and Inuit Affairs Program (IIAP) Environment Policy and associated guidelines. In the absence of applicable federal, provincial or territorial environmental legislative requirements, ISC will adopt best environmental practices and principles. The CFMP must also comply with the Department's Sustainable Development Strategy and support national efforts toward climate change.

The objective of the CFMP is to provide financial support to First Nations and other eligible recipients to:

- Invest in physical assets (or services) that mitigate health and safety risks in their communities;
- Ensure that assets meet established codes and standards;
- Ensure that assets are managed in a cost-effective and efficient manner that protects, maintains and maximizes asset life cycle; and
- Ensure that these activities are undertaken in an environmentally sound and sustainable manner.

FNIIP plans should also include projects or initiatives that support the sustainable development of community infrastructure, such as Asset Management Plans.

The major categories for capital projects on the FNIIP are:

- Water and wastewater
- Housing
- Education Facilities
- Roads and Bridges
- Structural Mitigation
- Electrification
- Solid Waste Disposal
- Fire Protection
- Subdivisions
- Community Buildings

If there is an existing infrastructure asset, operations and maintenance funding is provided annually.

APPLICATION INFORMATION:

Access to Capital for Block/Grant Funding Recipients

Block and NFR Grant funded recipients seeking support in addition to their annual capital allocation must demonstrate that their capital allocation has been used to address high priority projects. Financial statements and submitted completion reports will be used to validate planned projects with actual expenditures before accepting additional capital projects for funding.

Project Stage

To receive project approval, funding applications are required at each project stage (Feasibility, Pre-Design/Design, and Construction/Acquisition). Project submissions must meet all ISC's project application requirements. Typically, these include a confirmation of compliance with Level of Service Standard (LOSS) guidelines and a technical merit assessment. LOSS guidelines can be found on the ISC's national web page at https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1100100010585/1533644999181.

Life Cycle Cost Considerations

The intent of Life Cycle Cost (LCC) analysis is to demonstrate that a proposed technical solution provides value-for-money when compared to all the potential solutions that would achieve the same project objectives.

As such, all viable options should be considered by the project team, including but not limited to:

- Decentralized systems
- Municipal-Type Service Agreements
- Renovations to existing facilities
- Other applicable options

As part of a feasibility study, proponents will analyze all projected capital, operations, and maintenance costs over a common time horizon (generally the expected lifetime of the asset in question).

In cases where Life Cycle Cost considerations are required in an asset-specific document (e.g., Level of Service Standards), those considerations should prevail.

FUNDING METHODOLOGY:

Submissions for 2023-2024 were due on September 30, 2021, documenting planned projects and associated funding for the following fiscal year. Capital Management Officers (CMO) and Senior Engineers will assist First Nations to advance identified FNIIP projects through the funding stages with a focus on construction projects to be tender ready by February. Only the projects contained in the BC Region FNIIP will be accepted for funding during the planned project year unless they involve urgent health and safety related issues.

From April to September, funding decisions will be made on a monthly basis, based on the readiness of projects on the approved BC FNIIP. After September, projects for the next fiscal year's plan may be added when previous approved projects are delayed, as additional funding may become available in the current fiscal year.

A project risk score is determined via the CFMP Project Risk Assessment Tool. The Tool requires the input of the results of the General Assessment Tool (which assesses recipient risk) as one of many elements of the assessment used to identify and mitigate risks associated with capital projects. With the Project Risk Assessment Tool, Capital Management Officers, and Senior Engineering staff can identify overall risk ratings for a capital project in a First Nation community. The score is then used to determine the type of contribution approach that may be used (fixed, flexible, or set) and the required approval process.

In keeping with the management control framework, capital projects under $1.5 million, will be funded through fixed funding. For capital projects over $1.5 million, the following chart demonstrates the funding approach to be used.

Project Risk Level	Type of Contribution Funding Approach
LOW	Flexible
MEDIUM	Flexible
HIGH	Set

For projects selected to receive funding, recipients must manage the project to completion, ensuring that construction adheres to federal and provincial standards and that the capital asset will be operated and maintained using maintenance management plans.

First Nations Infrastructure Fund (FNIF)

The First Nation Infrastructure Fund (FNIF) helps First Nation communities develop, improve and increase their public infrastructure to improve the quality of life for their communities. FNIF also funds projects off-reserve that are cost-shared with non-First Nation partners, such as neighboring municipalities, or other Indigenous partners (such as self-governing First Nations or Inuit organizations).

FNIF was created as a complementary source of funding to the Capital Facilities and Maintenance Program for the following categories of infrastructures projects: planning and skills development; solid waste management; roads and bridges; energy systems; connectivity; structural mitigation; and cultural and recreational facilities.

There is no need to apply. Projects are identified, reviewed and selected by ISC regional offices based on the FNIIP's annual process and priority ranking. In some cases, the regional offices, in consultation with the First Nations communities, may identify projects that are not documented in a FNIIP. These projects are screened for eligibility and assessed by the same criteria as projects received through the FNIIPs.

How are projects assessed once they are considered eligible?

Priority may be given to projects that, having met the mandatory and eligibility criteria, also:

- target high-needs communities;
- have a regional impact by providing a benefit for more than one First Nation and/or cross regional boundaries;
- are cost-shared (for example, a neighboring municipality, the private sector) and/or supplement funding with a contribution of own-source revenue from the First Nation;
- align with regional priorities (e.g., municipal, provincial, federal); and/or
- demonstrate the potential to partner with neighboring communities.

FUNDING METHODOLOGY:

Building Canada Fund ($155 million) – ten (10) year targeted funding for the period 2014-2024. With the exception of the Gas Tax Fund, which is managed at the regional level, FNIF funding is held at ISC Headquarters and then prioritized across all regions on additional project assessment criteria.

Structural Mitigation Program

Structural disaster mitigation projects aim to save lives and help reduce damage to community infrastructure. These types of activities may include structural improvements to community assets. For example, a channel may benefit from structural improvements such as the construction of floodways and dykes to minimize the vulnerability of housing and infrastructure to floods.

The limited funding for 2022-2023 will mean that only shovel-ready projects will receive funding as selected by ISC Headquarters. Only those projects that are ready for construction, with a detailed design that is 95% complete, will be considered for funding. For subsequent years, and in parallel to the FNIIP process, Regions prepare and update plans which prioritize ranked projects, and share these shortlists with the Structural Mitigation Working Group (represented by all regions) to consider and recommend to ISC Headquarters.

Structural mitigation projects may be:

1. Projects designed to reduce the severity of, or control a natural hazard; or
2. Measures to reduce the susceptibility of existing community infrastructure to natural hazards.

FUNDING INFORMATION:

Regions prepare and update plans which prioritize ranked projects and share these shortlists with the Structural Mitigation Working Group (represented by all regions) to consider and recommend to ISC Headquarters. Priority will be given to investments that help maximize the life cycle of physical assets, mitigate health and safety risks, ensure assets meet applicable codes and standards, and ensure assets are managed cost-effectively and efficiently.

Communities will need to demonstrate that the proposed projects will protect community assets from potential natural hazards. Projects will be prioritized based on the Structural Mitigation Program Funding Framework and ranked using the Structural Mitigation Ranking Tool (SMRT) for national prioritization for construction. As there will be insufficient funds to address all projects in a given fiscal year, the SMRT will provide a fair and transparent process to identify which projects will be approved.

Education Assets and Facilities

Education capital funding provides for the design, construction and upgrading of band operated elementary/secondary schools on reserve. First Nations must identify school projects in their First Nations Infrastructure and Investment Plan (FNIIP). Funding recommendations are based on variables that include availability of existing facilities, location of nearest schools, and anticipated student Nominal Roll populations, and will be assessed through a national School Priority Ranking Framework (SPRF). New projects, not already underway, will be ranked nationally against all schools across Canada. The National Schools List, with school projects ranked in order of SPRF score, is a planning tool that will assist the Department in determining the allocation of resources for projects over $1.5 million. The primary focus/ranking of the list is centered on immediate health and safety needs.

FUNDING METHODOLOGY:

Funding is project-based and allocated in accordance with eligibility requirements. All approved projects will be funded based on an approved cash flow projection by the First Nation.

ADDITIONAL FUNDING INFORMATION:

First Nations submit their FNIIP with the proposed school project, including planned grade distribution. BC Region will assess against Regional and National prioritization variables, including completing an SPRF. If approved, a formal application will be required. For additional information about the proposal and application process, contact your Capital Management Officer. Eligible projects are identified, reviewed and selected by ISC regional offices based on the First Nation Infrastructure Investment Plan's annual process and priority ranking.

The Education Infrastructure Fund assessment criteria can be found at:
https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1456150810793/1533641989260

Potential projects are assessed by criteria such as the following, although other factors may also be considered:

- level of cost sharing or use of alternative financing models;
- use of alternative procurement models (e.g., design-build); and
- use of alternative construction models (e.g., modular or prefabricated buildings).

Housing

ISC BC Region provides funding support for housing-related projects through the Housing Support Program (HSP), formerly known as a New Approach for Housing Support (NAHS). The HSP provides a wide range of eligible activities and flexibility for First Nations when applying for housing funds.

The HSP was designed to support First Nations along a continuum of sustainable housing to develop and implement longer term housing strategies. The HSP is designed with flexibility to support housing related capacity enhancement and training and the creation of housing policies and plans. The HSP also supports housing renovations and new home construction projects.

There are 2 separate HSP applications. The Multi-Year and Single Year NAHS applications have been merged to 1 HSP project application, removing the multi-year component and percentage factors. Each application targets the continuum of sustainable housing from planning to construction. First Nations applicants complete the relevant application(s) which support the housing priorities in their community:

1. Governance & Capacity Application - Supports the creation of housing policies and plans, as well as training/capacity enhancement.
2. Housing Support Project Application - Provides a flat rate subsidy towards new home construction or purchase, regular and health and safety renovations, and is inclusive of building inspection costs.

Subsidies were increased due to Budget 2018 and will remain at the increased levels. This applies to health and safety renovations and for new construction, which now includes tiny home construction. Regular renovation rates will revert back to the half subsidy amount at the higher level when the application is processed. However, First Nations are eligible for reimbursement up to the full subsidy upon receiving the completion documentation showing the approved scope of work was completed and costs above the half subsidy are cost shared at 50-50. Confirmation is required using the Project Details/Reporting Tool, which is included in the application.

A flat rate will be provided for multi-unit construction (up to 6 units) inclusive of inspection and site preparation costs. Costs range per unit from a maximum of $100,000 for Zone 1, $125,000 for Zone 2 and 3 and $150,000 for Zone 4. A multi-unit is defined as three or more attached units and does not include tiny homes or where the project cost is less than the flat rate.

To be eligible for this funding, planned and ongoing housing projects should be identified in the First Nation's Infrastructure and Investment Plan (FNIIP) and placed in priority order. Due to the increased requests for housing funding, the annual level of funding commitments is subject to available Community Infrastructure budgets. Please note, that ISC BC Region does not accept applications directly from First Nation members.

APPLICATION INFORMATION:

First Nations with Block or a NFR Grant funding agreements must demonstrate how they use their capital block on high priority items, including housing, before receiving additional funds from the housing program.

FUNDING METHODOLOGY:

Funding is allocated in accordance with program eligibility requirements. First Nations with a Block or a NFR Grant funding agreement, a portion of the capital core is to be allocated towards housing needs.

ADDITIONAL FUNDING INFORMATION:

All housing construction projects are required to be inspected for building and fire code compliance. As ISC's funding for inspections may not cover the full cost of inspection services, First Nations are advised to confirm rates of independent inspectors in advance to ensure construction budgets allow for all necessary inspections. The number and type of inspections vary according to the scope of the project but include site, foundation, framing, electrical, plumbing, insulation, fire, lock-up, and others through to the completion certificate for occupancy.

Inspectors must have a valid certification through the BC Building Officials Association (BOABC) www.boabc.org. Where a certified building inspector is not available, ISC may consider the First Nation's use of a skilled and qualified inspector who is in good standing with a recognized professional industry organization, such as a professional engineer or architect, to perform BC Building Code inspections or other required regulatory inspections for the project.

Other federal agencies or programs, such as Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC) and the First Nations Market Housing Fund (FNMHF), can provide funding support for construction, renovation or capacity building.

Ministerial Loan Guarantee

The department can provide Ministerial Loan Guarantees (MLG) to secure financing for on-reserve housing loans.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS:	PAW #	PAW Name	Due Date
	Applications for MLG's must be submitted to ISC by the First Nations for both individual and Band housing projects.

CONTACT INFORMATION:

Regional Housing Officer 1-800-665-9320 (toll-free)

FUNDING METHODOLOGY:

ISC administers the Ministerial Loan Guarantee program to provide the loan security needed by lenders when providing financing to First Nations or individual Band members for construction, acquisition or renovation of housing located on the reserve.

Asset Condition Reporting System (ACRS)

All on-reserve community assets that receive operations and maintenance (O&M) funding are inspected every three years. Experienced and qualified contractors inspect the condition of the community assets and identify maintenance works that need to be completed to maintain the assets in good operating condition. Inspections begin in April and end in September. In 2022-2023 ACRS inspections will take place in 66 First Nations located in south-east and south-west BC.

ISC provides additional funding for ACRS identified projects that address health and safety concerns related to major repairs or replacements of components of water and wastewater systems; fire protection assets; and school facilities ("ACRS Group 2 projects"), depending on the arrangement type of the recipient:

	ACRS Group 2 Priority Projects

Regular Arrangement	✓	✓	✓	✓
Block				✓[1]
Grant	✓[2]	✓[2]	✓[2]	✓[2]
Block Grant				✓[3]

[1] First Nations with a Block-funding agreement must complete water, wastewater and fire protection Priority Projects using their minor capital allocation and are encouraged to apply for funding to address ACRS Group 2 Priority Projects for their school facilities.

[2] The first ACRS cycle of a First Nation entering a NFR Grant Funding Agreement is considered transitional, and the First Nation is eligible to apply for additional capital funding to complete ACRS Group 2 Priority Projects for water and wastewater, schools and fire protection assets.

[3] First Nations with a Block-funding agreements entering a NFR Grant funding agreement will be funded for ACRS Group 2 Priority Projects as per their existing funding agreement and are eligible to apply for funding to address ACRS Group 2 Priority Projects for their school facilities.

[2,3] Moving forward ACRS Group 2 Priority Projects for all asset types must be addressed within the minor capital Grant allocation. Based on funding availability, First Nations with a NFR Grant funding agreement would be eligible to apply for funding of ACRS Group 2 Priority Projects for their school facilities. This may be revisited once the escalator for Grant is implemented. ACRS inspections will continue to support the operations and maintenance and asset management of a community's infrastructure.

Water and Wastewater Systems

First Nations Water and Wastewater Enhanced Plan (FNWWEP)

To meet the objectives of the First Nations Water and Wastewater Enhanced Plan (FNWWEP), several program enhancements have been introduced, including an assessment of existing water and wastewater facilities; increased training through the Circuit Rider Training Program; modification of existing policies related to small water and septic systems and agreements for water and wastewater services.

The FNWWEP is scheduled over five years and capital resources will continue to be committed to supporting programs focused on developing strategies that will help with community water and wastewater systems. Financial support is available for systems that provide service for community housing on Band lands of at least five homes.

Water and Wastewater Systems

Safe Drinking Water and Wastewater Systems

Safe drinking water and wastewater systems are a priority for BC Region's Community Infrastructure Program. In 2016-2017, a five-year investment was committed to on-reserve water and wastewater infrastructure to address health and safety needs, ensure proper facility operation and maintenance, and to end long-term drinking water advisories on reserve. In addition, Canada has committed to spending at least six billion dollars ($6,000,000,000) between June 20, 2021, and March 31, 2030, at a rate of at least four hundred million dollars ($400,000,000) per fiscal year, by funding the actual cost of construction, upgrading, operation, and maintenance of water infrastructure on Reserves for First Nations.

Annual Performance Inspections

Annual inspections are required as part of ISC's water and wastewater protocols to track the progress of system risk ranking in the Integrated Capital Management System (ICMS) for each community water and wastewater system. In BC Region, these inspections are undertaken by consultants.

Circuit Rider Training Program (CRTP)

The Circuit Rider Training Program is a long-term capacity enhancement program that provides on-site training and mentoring services to operators of First Nation's drinking water and wastewater systems. Qualified experts rotate through a circuit of First Nation's communities, training the people responsible for operating, monitoring and maintaining drinking water and wastewater systems. Participation in the CRTP is encouraged where operators may benefit from additional support to achieve and maintain certification, or where the Annual Performance Inspection of the water or wastewater system indicates the need to work on operations, operator or monitoring and reporting factors.

Operator Training and Certification Program

This program complements the on-site support provided under the Circuit Rider Training Program. The Operator Training and Certification Program aims to develop operator knowledge and skills through classroom training, leading to operator certification under the Environmental Operators Certification Program (EOCP).

Operations & Maintenance (O&M)

General Information & What's New

O&M – Additional Funding Requests

Additional O&M funding requests can be submitted to address urgent situations that affect the health, safety or security of a First Nation and its infrastructure. Examples of urgent situations include a main distribution line that breaks during a cold snap, a drinking water well with a failed pump, or an entire control system that is knocked out by a surge of electricity. These are situations where repairs to community infrastructure are considered beyond the scope of work that is funded as regular maintenance. For these situations, First Nations are requested to submit details of the required repairs, along with cost quotations from qualified contractors to their Capital Management Officer at 1.800.665.9320 (toll-free).

O&M of Infrastructure Assets and Facilities – Funding Top-Up

Budget 2019, the 2020 Fall Economic Statement, and Budget 2021 provided new investments that significantly increase funding for the O&M of community infrastructure assets. ISC has updated the O&M funding formula to better reflect the O&M needs of First Nations, effective in 2021-2022. Funding allocations for O&M of water and wastewater assets will now cover 100% of formula funding, up from the 80% previously provided. The formula funding contribution for community buildings, including Band offices and community centres, will more than double from 20% to 45% of formula calculations.

Municipal Type Service Agreements (MTSAs) – Funding Top-Up

In addition to the increase in funding for the O&M of community infrastructure assets, there is an increase in O&M funding for services delivered under Municipal Type Service Agreements (MTSAs) for water, sewer, fire protection, 9-1-1 telephone dispatch, street lighting and garbage collection, disposal and recycling. MTSAs will now be funded at 100% of eligible MTSA costs, where applicable.

Operation and Maintenance (O&M) of Infrastructure Assets and Facilities

Support is provided for the operation and maintenance (O&M) of community facilities and infrastructures such as community buildings or water treatment systems, and community assets such as fire trucks.

APPLICATION INFORMATION:

To receive O&M Funding, capital assets must be recorded in the Integrated Capital Management System (ICMS). To do this, the First Nation submits Completion Documents related to the asset they want to add, including record drawings and a completed ICMS asset Inventory Forms (formerly CAIS form). At that time, the capital asset may be added to the ICMs inventory. This means that once the asset is added the Department funds O&M for that asset going forward. (Includes all funding sources).

The O&M funding is captured in the non-Block/non-Grant First Nations agreements on an annual basis. First Nations with a Block or a NFR Grant funding agreement have this program built into their core funding.

CONTACT INFORMATION:

Maintenance Systems Officer 604-655-4720

FUNDING METHODOLOGY:

Funding is based on formula funding calculations (see Funding Calculation below) and cost-sharing criteria:

	Cost-shared Funding Levels
Asset Type	ISC Contribution	First Nation Contribution
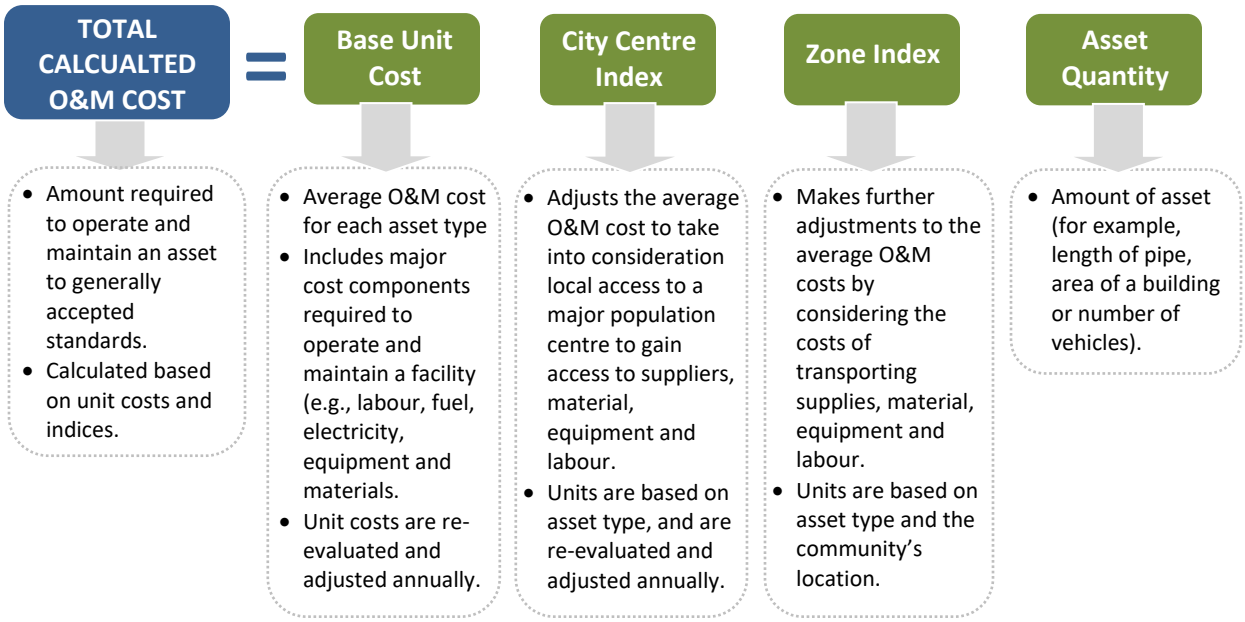
Teacherages	100%	0%
Fire Protection	90%	10%
Roads/Bridges	90%	10%
Community Electrical Services	90%	10%
Water/Wastewater	100%	0%
Solid Waste	80%	20%
Dykes	80%	20%
Community Buildings	45%	55%

NOTE: O&M funding for school facilities is included in the funding provided under the BC Tripartite Education Agreement (BCTEA).

To determine the O&M funding provided by ISC, the information contained in the ICMS Asset Inventory is applied against the O&M funding formula:



First Nations with a Block or a NFR Grant funding agreement have this program built into their core funding.

Municipal Type Service Agreements (MTSA)

ISC supports the purchase of essential municipal services from a neighboring local government, private contractor, individual or third-party involved in the provision of municipal services. These services include:

- Water supply and distribution
- Wastewater collection and disposal
- Fire suppression services
- Garbage collection and disposal (landfill fees)
- Recycling services
- Street lighting services
- 9-1-1 emergency telephone dispatch services
- Other: Maintenance of railway crossings (on roads to residential areas)

CONTACT INFORMATION:

Allocation Officer	1-800-665-9390 (Toll-Free)
Geomatics Project Coordinator	604-366-5014

FUNDING METHODOLOGY:

Initial allocations are based on 70 % of the MTSA funding amount allocated in 2021-2022. Adjustments will be made after the review of MTSA funding applications.

MTSA applications are reviewed for the reasonableness of the funding request, the level of service requested and compliance with the Capital Facilities and Maintenance Program's policies. Only the portion of your MTSA serving Band member residences will be funded.

Funding is based on the cost of services identified in an MTSA or in supporting invoices, funded at a 100% ISC contribution of eligible costs.

First Nations with a Block funding agreement have MTSA funding built into their annual agreement.

On April 1, 2022, NFR Grant funding agreements will receive 100% of the MTSA net amount funded in 2021-2022. No application is required. The 1st year of a Grant arrangement is considered a transitional year and a Grant funded recipient is eligible to apply for funding of new services and for a MTSA funding adjustment to existing services. Starting the 2nd year of the Grant funding arrangement and every year after, a funding escalator will be applied to account for any cost increases.

Fire Protection

ISC's Capital and Facilities Maintenance Program (CFMP) can provide funding support for fire protection services to First Nations communities Capital Facilities and Maintenance Program (sac-isc.gc.ca). ISC's funding for Tier 1: Home Fire Protection & Tier 2: Community Fire Protection is allocated through a subsidy every year to assist with the costs of fire protection in First Nations. The general Fire Protection funding subsidy may be used for:

- Community fire prevention training;
- A home fire safety inspection program;
- Installing smoke alarms, carbon monoxide detectors or maintaining fire extinguishers;
- Training community volunteers; and
- Any other activities that support community fire protections that are deemed eligible by ISC.

ISC's Level of Service Standard (LOSS) for fire suppression is the departmental directive which operates under the CFMP and aims to provide comparable service to what would be available in off-reserve communities of similar size and circumstance.

APPLICATION INFORMATION:

Any request for capital investments for fire protection must be identified through the community's First Nations' Infrastructure Investment Plan (FNIIP). Items supported may include fire halls, fire trucks, equipment, and tools.

ISC may also provide funding through a subsidy of 90% of the calculated costs for operations and maintenance of fire halls, fire boxes, and fire trucks. The ongoing costs of operating and maintaining a fire department typically exceed the funding assistance that ISC can provide.

CONTACT INFORMATION:

Manager, Strategic Initiatives Officer 604-880-0615

FUNDING METHODOLOGY:

In addition to funding provided through the FNIIP, there is an allocation of $60 per house to support fire protection activities.

A formula-based allocation system utilizes the Housing and Infrastructure (H&I) database to determine the number of houses on-reserve. A subsidy of $60 per house is allocated for each First Nation. The number of houses is calculated based on the previous year's Housing and Infrastructure (H&I) database collection exercise.

Block and NFR Grant funded recipients must utilize their core funding to support fire protection activities.

General Information & What's New

The Lands and Economic Development Directorate (LED) operates to promote and support sustainable development of First Nations lands, resources, and Indigenous economies, while protecting the environment. In Partnership with First Nations, LED works to deliver programs and services that are suited to the specific needs and objectives of each Indigenous community.

LED's operations in British Columbia are divided into three (3) major service areas: Economic Development, Lands Management, and Environment and Natural Resources. The functions of each are described below, together with the specific funding programs they offer and administrate for Indigenous Services Canada (ISC).

> NOTE*: Additional details on funding for each of the programs listed below can be found later in this section, including information on how to apply to them through Indigenous Services Canada.

1. Economic Development

The Economic Development Unit encourages economic activity among First Nations by working together with community partners with the objective of increasing Indigenous participation in the broader economy; while promoting and provides advice on the following programs and services:

- Lands and Economic Development Services Program (LEDSP) – Core
- Lands and Economic Development Services Program (LEDSP) – Targeted
- Community Opportunity Readiness Program (CORP)

2. Lands Management

The Lands Management section is divided into 3 separate units: Lands Operations, Lands Modernization, and Program and Project Support.

The Lands Operations Unit provides a variety of land management services to those First Nations in British Columbia that continue to operate under the land and resource management provisions of the Indian Act. On this basis, Lands Operations' staff are responsible for:

- Indian Land Registry services, including the registration of leases, permits, or mortgages, as well as helping using the land registry system;
- Individual Land Holding transactions, such as allotments, transfers, and cancellations;
- Processing payments received from leasing activities, which are then transferred to First Nations and their members;
- Processing land surveys for Indian Reserve territories; and
- Monitoring and compliance activities relating to the terms and conditions included within leases and permits for reserve lands.

The Lands Modernization unit works with First Nations supporting First Nation capacity enhancement to manage reserve lands under the Indian Act, and initiatives which provide alternatives to the Indian Act. These programs allow Indigenous communities to gain greater control over management of their reserve lands, resources, and environment thereby facilitating new economic development opportunities. They include:

- Reserve Land and Environment Management Program (RLEMP)
- First Nation Lands Management (FNLM)
- Land Use Planning (LUP)
- First Nations Commercial and Industrial Development Act (FNCIDA)

The Program and Project Support (PPS) unit provides First Nations with services and guidance in relation to Additions to Reserve (ATR) projects, as well as land transactions authorized under Section 35 of the Indian Act. In some cases, funding for ATR projects can be authorized for First Nations under the following ISC program, if the purpose of the reserve addition is in support of economic development initiatives: Lands and Economic Development Services Program (LEDSP).

For more information on Canada's Additions to Reserve policy and procedures, please visit: https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1332267668918/1611930372477

3. Environment and Natural Resources

The Environment and Natural Resources (ENR) unit plays a significant role in ensuring the health and safety of First Nations people by supporting programs designed to protect the natural environment on both reserve lands and other lands under ISC's jurisdiction. Environmental protection programs are delivered in partnership with First Nations, guided by federal environmental laws, regulations, policies and guidelines. In the BC Region, the ENR unit is responsible for the administration of Environmental Management and Natural Resources and Timber and Sand & Gravel Permits.

Environmental Management

The Environmental Management team works to resolve historic land contamination issues on First Nation reserve lands, ensuring ongoing compliance with federal environmental laws, and to reduce the potential for future environmental degradation. Specific services include:

- Management of Contaminated Sites
- Environmental Operations
- Waste Management and Environmental Capacity Building Workshops

Most projects on First Nation lands require an environmental assessment. These assessments are used to anticipate potentially significant environmental impacts that a project may have before the project begins. There is a departmental responsibility to meet the requirements of the Canadian Environmental Assessment Act. The department's Environmental Review Process sets out the requirements for the environmental screening and assessment of projects on reserve lands, including how measures are implemented to minimize potential impacts to the environment.

For community projects that could have a negative impact the environment, the ENR Unit also facilitates funding to BC First Nations through the following support program:

- Lands and Economic Development Services Program (LEDSP) – Targeted

For more information about ISC's environmental management visit: https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1100100034649/1612813702740

For more information on environmental assessments, visit: https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1345141628060/1612813855724

Natural Resources: Timber and Sand & Gravel Permits

Under the Indian Act, Indigenous Services Canada's statutory authority for First Nations reserve timber and non-metallic substances (such as sand or gravel) is limited to the granting of permits to cut timber or the removal of non-metallic substances on First Nations reserve lands. This includes imposing terms, conditions and restrictions on permit holders. In granting and administering these permits, ISC works with First Nations to secure benefits for communities in the form of revenues and royalties, employment and other economic benefits, environmental protection, and forest regeneration. The Environment and Natural Resources Unit is responsible for administering the Indian Timber Regulations and the provisions of the Indian Act to both support First Nations with the permit application process and increase Indigenous participation in the forest industry.

For more information about ISC's Environment and Natural Resources role, visit: https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1100100034243/1612298633640.

Reserve Land and Environment Management Program (RLEMP)

The Reserve Land and Environment Management Program (RLEMP) program provides funding to First Nations to develop the capacity to manage and exercise increased responsibility over their reserve land, resources and environment pursuant to the legislative requirements of the Indian Act. For those First Nations that are accepted into the program, funding is available to train and certify a professional land manager as well as on-going funding to support land and environmental activities.

First Nations seeking to participate in RLEMP must apply by submitting a "First Nation Entry Request and Capacity Self-Assessment" form to the ISC BC Regional office (see link below). If accepted into the program, the First Nation must also submit a Band Council Resolution expressing its desire to participate in the program. Note that block funded, and 10-year grant bands are eligible to apply.

RLEMP has been designed to provide support funding to a First Nation to operate a lands office while building their capacity to manage land activities such as land use planning, environmental monitoring, and compliance management.

Lands Operations staff with Indigenous Services Canada provides ongoing support to First Nations that are accepted into the RLEMP, where necessary, and this can include training and transaction review services.

FUNDING METHODOLOGY:

The RLEMP funding formula has been designed to directly link funding to the level of activity for key land and environmental management functions. The formula is based on factors, including the volume and complexity of land transactions, band population and reserve area, as well as land use, environmental and compliance activities.

Different rates of funding will apply depending on the level of responsibilities (i.e., training and development level, operational level, etc.) obtained by the First Nation. Additional funds (subject to availability) can be provided to First Nations who wish to undertake the development and implementation of a Land Use Plan, a Community Environmental Sustainability Plan and a Compliance Framework.

First Nations Land Management Program (FNLM)

The term 'First Nations Land Management Regime (FNLM) refers to the Framework Agreement and the First Nations Land Management Act (FNLMA). Together they provide an opportunity for First Nations to opt out of the 33 land-related sections of the Indian Act and assume the internal management over their reserve lands and resources under their land code.

The Land Advisory Board (LAB) and the First Nation Land Management Resource Centre (FNLMRC) are Indigenous-led organizations which support First Nations that want to enter the FNLM initiative. They also provide ongoing guidance to First Nations operating under this system.

The completion of a Land Governance Community Profile Form is the first step for communities to be considered for entry into the initiative. Completed Profile Forms are accepted at any time.

Opting into the FNLM Regime

Participating First Nations are provided with funding to develop a land code, negotiate an individual agreement, and hold a ratification vote in the community. These activities are laid out in an implementation document, and this phase of activity is commonly referred to as the 'developmental phase.' If the vote is successful, the First Nations moves on to the 'operational phase'. Operational First Nations that manage their lands under their own Land Code are no longer bound by the land and resource management sections of the Indian Act and receive funding in support of the administration and management of their lands, resources and environment.

Federal Contaminated Site Action Plan (FCSAP) & Contaminated Sites On-Reserve (CSOR)

The Federal Contaminated Site Action Plan (FCSAP) is a federal program (cost shared between ISC and Environment Canada) addressing contaminated sites on federal lands. The extent of FCSAP funding and the scope of the program (regarding the number and size of the projects that can be implemented) is determined on a year-to-year basis.

Contaminated site management includes ongoing remediation and closure of known contaminated sites and identification and assessment of newly discovered sites.

BC Region's Contaminated Sites On-Reserve Program targets projects on sites with high human health and ecological risks. Funding is prioritized based on the National Contaminated Site Classification System developed by Environment Canada. There are three types of projects that are eligible for funding under FCSAP: Assessment, remediation/risk management, and care and maintenance.

Other environmental issues may be eligible for funding through the Lands and Economic Development Directorate.

A list of known, on-reserve, contaminated sites is available on the Integrated Environmental Management System (IEMS), which is updated annually.

Leasing Land on Reserve

Leasing land is one method by which First Nations can create economic activity and employment opportunities on reserve. First Nations can request that the Minister Indigenous Service Canada authorize the leasing of reserve land that a Band has specifically designated for that purpose. Individual Band members that have been allocated reserve land by certificate of possession may also request that the Minister prepare a lease of their allocated land.

The ISC Lands Management Manual contains more information on the process of leasing Band land and can be found online. See Chapter 5 for a description of the land designation process, and Chapter 7 for the leasing process:

Land Survey Requests

ISC has limited funding for land surveys needed by First Nations, with the goal of achieving clear boundary definitions in support of economic development and the settlement of estates.
First Nations are invited to submit all known survey needs through a call letter process held each year in January. Submission requests are due in early January of the following year. Requests are made through a Band Council Resolution which also authorizes a surveyor to perform the work, if funded.

The potential categories for survey requests include:

- Designations for leasing purposes
- Additions to Reserve
- Reserve boundary investigations and/or surveys (e.g., for the purposes of a Section 50 of the Indian Act Sale of estate lands)

Survey requests are subject to available funding. Surveys for capital projects are not an approved category for this program because survey funding can be included in capital project submissions.

First Nations Commercial and Industrial Development Act (FNCIDA)

The First Nations Commercial and Industrial Development Act (FNCIDA) provide regulatory support to First Nations that are pursuing large-scale, on-reserve, commercial or industrial projects. Specifically, it allows First Nations to request the federal government develop regulations that apply to a specific project on a specific piece of reserve land. FNCIDA duplicates relevant portions of provincial laws and regulations that apply to similar large-scale commercial or industrial projects off reserve. This approach facilitates access to the appropriate parts of a provincial regime.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS:

Regulatory gaps occur on reserve lands where there is an absence of applicable and appropriate laws to govern complex commercial or industrial activities. To be eligible, projects must (a) identify a regulatory gap; (b) have a commercial or industrial partner; and (c) have formal support from the province.

For application requirements and further information on FNCIDA please visit:

BC Tripartite Education Agreement

The BC Tripartite Education Agreement: Supporting First Nation Student Success (BCTEA) signed by the Government of Canada, Government of British Columbia, and the First Nations Education Steering Committee (FNESC) is due to expire in June 2023. While a successor agreement will be negotiated between the three parties, a formal request will be made to extend the current agreement for two years. For more information on BCTEA and its implementation, please see www.fnesc.ca/bctea/.

COVID-19 Safe Return to School Funding (2020-2021 and 2021-2022 fiscal year)

In 2021-2022, $11.5 million in funding was distributed to First Nation communities in BC to support the creation of safe, healthy school environments and prevent the spread of COVID-19 as schools reopened. In 2020-2021, ISC flowed this funding to First Nations who operate schools and the First Nations Education Steering Committee (FNESC) flowed funding to First Nations with students who are ordinarily resident on reserve and enrolled in off reserve schools. In 2021-2022, ISC flowed COVID-19 related funds to all BC First Nations, based on a per-student calculation with base using 2020-2021 Nominal Roll data.

These funds were used to support expenses such as (but not limited to) those outlined below, regardless of where the student is enrolled in school:

- salaries for teachers, custodians and bus drivers
- hiring of additional personnel (i.e., tutors, etc.)
- access to technology
- purchase of e-learning software
- development of take-home learning materials

Before- and After-School Programming (2021-2022 through 2026-2027 fiscal years)

Budget 2021 announced a national investment of $515M over five years, starting in fiscal year 2021-2022 to support Before- and After- School Programming (BASP) for First Nations students on reserve. Nationally, this was broken down to $67 million in 2021-2022 and the remaining years at $112 million per year.

Year one (2021-2022) of BASP funding provided support to First Nations based on the previous year's nominal roll for First Nations students, up to Grade 6, who are ordinarily resident on reserve and attend First Nations operated schools. Year two (2022-2023) of BASP funding will be distributed by FNESC to eligible First Nations in BC and will be expanded to support students regardless of where they are attending school and in BC region all grade levels will be eligible for funding, despite the National approach being limited to kindergarten (age 4) through Grade 6.

Nominal Roll: Eligibility of Graduated Adults to Enroll in High School Courses

Starting in September 2021, adult students who have already graduated high school (received either a Dogwood or Adult Graduation diploma) may enroll in certain eligible secondary level courses for the purposes of upgrading, meeting post-secondary or trades school entrance requirements through First Nations Schools or Adult Learning Centres on reserve offering ISC approved adult education programs. For a list of eligible secondary level courses, review the Ministry of Education's website: www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/education-training/adult-education/adult-upgrading/already-graduated.

These students should be included on your Nominal Roll report based on the appropriate FTE rate for how many eligible courses they are taking at a rate of 0.125 FTE per course. If you wish to offer enrollment to adult aged students (graduated or not) but your First Nation is not currently approved by ISC to offer an Adult Education Program, please connect with the Education Programs team at bceducation@sac-isc.gc.ca to inquire about the Additions to Grades/Programs process.

Income Assistance First Nations Youth Employment Strategy Pilot (2021-2022 Fiscal Year)
The September 2020 Speech from the Throne committed to "scaling up the Youth Employment and Skills Strategy". This resulted in the creation of a pilot program called the Income Assistance First Nations Youth Employment Strategy (IAFNYES) in partnership with and co-funded between ISC's First Nations & Inuit Youth Employment Strategy (FNIYES) and Income Assistance (IA) programs. The goal of this pilot strategy is to support on reserve and Yukon region First Nations youth between the ages of 18 and 30 who are receiving IA to help them transition to the workforce or return to school through their participation in mentored work placements and by providing some case management supports to them as they complete their placement. For fiscal year 2021-2022, funding was distributed to successful applicants through a call for proposals process for groups issuing Pre-Employment Supports (PES) in BC Region. This program remains under review and funding availability for the 2022-2023 fiscal year has not been confirmed.

Emergency Post-Secondary Education (PSE) Funding (2020-2021 to 2022-2023 Fiscal Years)
Starting 2020-2021, ISC provided additional funding directly to First Nations in response to COVID-19 to support Indigenous students in receipt of funding through the Post-Secondary Student Support Program (PSSSP) or the University and College Preparation Program (UCEPP). Budget 2021 included a 2-year commitment to continue this funding for fiscal years 2021-2022 and 2022-2023. An application is not required for this funding as it will be provided to all First Nations based on a per capita calculation. First Nations have the decision-making authority regarding distributing this funding, provided it is consistent with the PSSSP/UCEPP National Guidelines.

One-Time 2021-2022 Funding to Support Transportation Planning
For 2021-2022, BC Region has received a one-time total of $1,761,820 This funding is based on the 2020-2021 Nominal Roll for elementary/secondary students residing on reserve, regardless of where they attend school, based on a per capita calculation of $168.85 per student. As funding flowed to First Nations in March 2022, it may be carried over into 2022-2023. This is intended to support First Nations with transportation planning and can be applied to activities that may have already occurred or may be used for future planning activities. Should planning for transportation not be needed, these funds can be used towards supporting students with costs related to school supplies, accommodation, transportation, financial assistance, or guidance and counselling.

Funding for the Purchase of Menstrual Products (starting in 2021-2022)
On November 5, 2021, all students in First Nations schools on reserve across Canada received access to free menstrual products. Starting in the 2021-2022, $248,124 was be distributed to BC

First Nations to support the purchase of menstrual products. Funding was provided based on Nominal Roll submissions. This funding will be ongoing for future years, however the amount allocated will be adjusted annually based on inflation and population. Eligible types of products to be purchased and distributed with this funding include (but are not limited to) pads, tampons, menstrual cups and dispensers to deliver these products to students.

Funding Increase for Accommodation Supports for Boarded Students (starting in 2021-2022)
An increase in funding for accommodation supports for boarded students was confirmed to begin in the 2021-2022 school year and will remain on an ongoing basis while ISC continues to work with FNESC to ensure First Nation students who must leave home for education are appropriately supported. In addition to room and board, funding will consider additional factors including ancillary expenses, transition support, travel for chaperones to accompany minors, criminal record check for boarding home parent(s), bus pass for local transportation and seasonal travel (remote or non-remote communities).

For more information, please refer to Student Accommodation Services found under Elementary/Secondary.

Please note that terminology throughout this chapter has been updated in order to remain consistent with that found in BCTEA. However, it is important to note that the terms public school(s) and public tuition may continue to be referred to as provincial school(s) or provincial tuition within First Nations' Chart of Accounts. Similarly, the term First Nations school(s) may be referred to as band-operated school(s) within First Nations' Chart of Accounts.

Programs Administered by the First Nations Education Steering Committee Society (FNESC) and the First Nations Schools Association (FNSA)

The following ISC programs are administered by FNESC and FNSA. For more information on the programs and proposal and application information and deadlines, please visit http://www.fnesc.ca/program-table-calendar/.

First Nations and Inuit Youth Employment Strategy
The First Nations and Inuit Youth Employment Strategy (FNIYES) is a component of the Government of Canada's Youth Employment Strategy led by Service Canada. This program provides educational opportunities and summer work opportunities for First Nations and Inuit youth, including post-secondary students, to improve their job skills and participate effectively in the labour market. The two programs under FNIYES are the Skills Link Program and the Summer Work Experience Program, including the Co-operative Education Co-op. To access these funds, First Nation community and school representatives are encouraged to refer to the FNESC website for the call for proposal, reporting templates and deadlines for the Summer Work Experience Program at www.fnesc.ca/programs/summer-work-experience-program-swep/, the Skills Link Program at www.fnesc.ca/slp/, and Co-operative Education Co-op at www.fnesc.ca/programs/cooperative-education-coop/.

First Nation Student Success Program

Special Education funding for provincial and private/independent schools is included in the First Nation Student Rate. For more information, please visit: Operating Grants - Province of British Columbia. (See Appendix – Education for the First Nation Student Rates by School District)

BC First Nations Post-Secondary Partnerships Program

The Post-Secondary Partnerships Program (PSPP) is a First Nations-directed and regionally delivered proposal-driven program supporting First Nations established post-secondary education institutions and First Nations-directed community-based programming. Since 2020-2021 FNESC, in partnership with the Indigenous Adult and Higher Learning Association (IAHLA), has administered the PSPP in BC as provided for under option 1 of the PSPP National Program Guidelines. Information is available on the FNESC and IAHLA websites at http://www.fnesc.ca/pspp/ and https://iahla.ca/pspp/.

COVID-19 Post-Secondary Partnerships Program Funding (2020-2021 and 2021-2022 fiscal years)

For the 2020-2021 and 2021-2022 fiscal years, ISC distributed COVID-19 related Emergency Post-Secondary Partnerships Program funding to BC region. This funding was administered by FNESC, working with the Indigenous Adult and Higher Learning Association, in order to support First Nations and First Nations-established post-secondary institutes in delivering activities which remove barriers to access post-secondary education and training due to COVID-19 and was to be spent in accordance with PSPP guidelines and terms and conditions. First Nations may choose to carry this funding over to 2022-2033 if they are unable to expend these funds in 2021-2022.

Services Administered by the First Nations Education Steering Committee Society (FNESC) and the First Nations Schools Association (FNSA)

First Nations School Assessments
For a First Nations school, a school evaluation must be completed once every 5 years using one of the following processes:

- An assessment through the First Nations Schools Assessment Process; or
- An external evaluation and inspection conducted in accordance with the BC Independent School Act; or
- An alternative form of assessment or evaluation mutually agreed to by the Band Council and ISC BC Region.

To discuss the school assessment process and related reporting requirements, please contact FNESC by phone at 1-877-422-3672 (toll-free) or by email at fnsa@fnesc.ca.

First Nations Language and Culture Program (FNLCP)
Under BCTEA, funding for language and culture is provided to support students attending First Nation Schools. For most schools in the BC Region, the per capita amount is calculated using ISC's nominal roll, including school-age and adult students living on reserve and attending programs from K4 through to the Grade 12 level. First Nations schools access their FNLCP grants through the submission of work plans that detail the activities to be undertaken according to the eligible expenditures. To access these funds, First Nations school administrators are encouraged to refer to the FNESC website for work plan, application and reporting deadlines at www.fnesc.ca/first-nations-languages/.

Online Resources
FNESC and FNSA have a host of online resources including Curriculum and Teacher Resources; Education Coordinator supports, post-Secondary education supports and timely bulletins which share information regarding the BCTEA. For more information, see www.fnesc.ca and www.fnsa.ca.

Second Level Services
Under BCTEA, FNESC and FNSA provide Second and Third Level Services to First Nations and First Nations schools in BC. Second Level Services include curriculum supports, student assessments, school assessments, Professional Growth Process, school capacity development, parents club, the Connected Classrooms Initiative, and data management. For more information on available supports, see www.fnesc.ca.

Junior Kindergarten (Age 4)

The ISC Elementary and Secondary Education Program terms and conditions allow for First Nations across Canada to provide full-time K4 as a part of the comprehensive K-12 curriculum that supports First Nation student progression towards a recognized secondary certification. This is available to BC First Nations even though an equivalent option is not being provided to BC provincial students. The National Education Program Guidelines allow First Nation operated schools to meet or exceed the provincial practice, if the student will be four years old on December 31 of the school year in which funding support is required. For information see the Guidelines at the following link: https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1649275033010/1649275061861 or contact the Education Programs team at bceducation@sac-isc.gc.ca.

Kindergarten – Grade 12 Reciprocal Tuition

In November 2009, the Province of British Columbia (BC) and (FNESC signed a Reciprocal Tuition Agreement. According to that agreement, the Ministry of Education will pay reciprocal tuition for the education of off-reserve students who are attending First Nations schools that have FNSA certification or BC Independent School status (group 1 or 2) and who are not eligible for federal funding on the Nominal Roll. First Nations schools which are FNSA certified and do not have Independent School status can apply for funding from the Ministry of Education, Learning Division of Indigenous Education. For information on the application process visit:

www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/education-training/k-12/administration/program-management/indigenous-education/reciprocal-tuition. More information about the reciprocal tuition agreement is available from the FNESC office and at www.fnesc.ca.

Application to Add Grade(s) or Program(s) to a First Nations School

First Nations who wish to add a grade or program to an existing First Nations school must apply to ISC and be approved before the new grade or program can be implemented. Although applications are accepted year-round, applications to add grade(s) or program(s) must be submitted by January 31 to be considered for implementation for the following school year. First Nations under Block funding must have additions to grades approved if they wish to include the additional grades into a new Block funding arrangement. For more information or to apply, contact the Education Programs team at bceducation@sac-isc.gc.ca.

Education Information System (EIS)

The Education Information System (EIS) is a database system for ISC First Nation education programs used by the Department and First Nations and was built to modernize the processes for funding requests, reporting on program activities and the use of funds and performance measurement. The use of the EIS Portal requires training and a user access ID to log into the system. Please contact the Funding Services team email at bcfundingservices@sac-isc.gc.ca to request and submit the Portal Access Request Form. Once you have completed the training and are granted access, you will receive your login user ID and password, along with instructions on how to log in.

First Nations Schools – BC Tripartite Education Agreement (BCTEA) Funding Model

The BC Tripartite Education Agreement (BCTEA) funding model is based on the provincial funding formula, with additions and adaptations to reflect the needs of First Nations schools (Note: This may be referred to as band-operated schools in First Nations' budgets). It provides increased flexibility for First Nations to choose how to spend their school funding to meet their priorities while reducing the amount of reporting.

BCTEA funding is allocated to First Nation schools for costs associated with education for eligible on-reserve students (K4 to Grade 12). These include instructional costs such as school staff, recruitment, salaries, books, supplies, low-cost special education services and language and curriculum development. School Operations and Maintenance (O&M) are factored into the formula, as well as transportation. The First Nation operating the school is responsible for transportation of students. For more information on BCTEA funding, visit www.fnesc.ca/BCTEA/.

FUNDING METHODOLOGY:

The BCTEA funding model for First Nations schools is formula-based funding calculated using the annual Nominal Roll count. Recipients that administer First Nations schools on reserve receive BCTEA funding for all attending students regardless of the reserve of residence.

The sources used to develop the BCTEA funding formula are the BC Ministry of Education Operating Grants Manual (OGM) and the School District Statements of Financial Information (SOFI) detailing the funding received and expenses and other sources of data. The BCTEA Funding Manual for First Nations Schools is available through FNESC at www.fnesc.ca/bctea/.

First Nations with a Block or a NFR Grant funding agreement have this program built into their core funding.

BCTEA Funding Formula Factors / Rates for 2021-2022 School Year:

Please note that the rates for the 2021-2022 school year are currently being finalized and will be shared with First Nations once available. The table below provides rates from the previous school year for reference.

See Appendix – Education for the latest First Nation Student Rates by School District.

Public Tuition

Public tuition funding provides education services for eligible, on-reserve students attending public schools in grades Kindergarten for Age 5 to grade 12. Please refer to the Ministry of Education's Operating Grants Manual for a detailed description of which services are included in the First Nation Student Rates (see Appendix – Education for the latest First Nation Student Rates).
First Nations with a Local Education Agreement (LEA) in place may have these funds provided directly to the First Nation. A First Nation with a LEA may also opt to have ISC fund the province directly by making a request in writing, including a Band Council Resolution, to bceducation@sac-isc.gc.ca. For First Nations without an LEA, ISC provides the funds to the province directly.

Under BCTEA, the parties agreed to… "develop and implement a strategy, and related policies, to support the negotiation and implementation of Local Education Agreements (LEAs) between First Nations and boards of education or BC Independent Schools." (BCTEA S.4.12)

First Nations without a LEA have the option of entering a provincial LEA, under which ISC will provide funding directly to First Nations for their students attending public schools. The parties have created a Provincial LEA template (along with other resources including a handbook) that is available at this link: http://www.fnesc.ca/lea/ under the title "Provincial LEA (Draft Sept. 2020)".

Note: The terms public schools and public tuition may be referred to as provincial schools or provincial tuition in First Nations' budgets.

FUNDING METHODOLOGY:

Initial allocations for public school tuition are based on the 2020-2021 Nominal Roll report and the 2020-2021 First Nation Student Rates provided by the Ministry of Education. In June, allocations are adjusted for price and volume changes after the 2021-2022 Nominal Roll has been verified and confirmed and the First Nation Student Rates updated. For information on the calculation for your community, please refer to your Education Budget Reconciliation Report or connect with your Funding Services Officer.

First Nations with LEAs are funded for the entire year, unless the LEAs expire on or before June 30, in which case are funded up to that date. Funds remaining under the terms of the agreement will be transferred to the First Nation once the LEAs are renegotiated and copies submitted to ISC.

New LEAs, renewals and extensions of LEAs are due to Indigenous Services Canada by October 15, to ensure that Provincial Tuition is included in the First Nation's funding arrangement for the next fiscal year. Please send signed copies to the Education Programs team at bceducation@sac-isc.gc.ca.

First Nations must notify ISC in writing within 30 days of either a notice of early termination or an upcoming expiry of an LEA.

First Nations with a Block or a NFR Grant funding agreement have this program built into their core funding.

Independent/Private Schools Off Reserve

Independent and private schools operating off reserve are different school types/categories versus public schools regarding the Nominal Roll and 1701 reports and the BCTEA funding formula. There is an established process for application for Independent School status with varying requirements and funding eligibility, depending on the category of school (Group 1, 2, 3 or 4).

First Nations are strongly encouraged to have a Local Education Agreement (LEA) in place with the off-reserve school where their students are enrolled, regardless of the number of students attending from the First Nation. First Nations with more than 10 students attending an independent school must have an LEA in place. FNESC has resources regarding LEAs including a handbook and template at www.fnesc.ca/lea/.

FUNDING METHODOLOGY:

Tuition funds are available for Independent and private school education services for eligible on reserve K5 to grade 12 students attending schools in Group 1 or 2 categories. Funding is based on the eligible students included on the Nominal Roll and 100% of the corresponding First Nation Student Rate for the School District where the school is located. The First Nation Student Rate includes special education funding. All funding provided by ISC for Independent school tuition must be paid to the school.

Initial allocations are based on the 2020-2021 Nominal Roll report submitted by the First Nation and the 2020-2021 First Nation Student Rates provided by the Ministry of Education. Student Accommodation Services

Accommodation services may be available for students who must leave home under the three circumstances described below. They must be school aged (4-18), enrolled in and attending K4 to Grade 12 and able to demonstrate they were ordinarily resident on reserve prior to relocating. For each student who requires accommodation supports, First Nations should ensure this is indicated on their Nominal Roll report.

Note: Certain students may already be eligible for accommodation services if their First Nation, reserve and grade appear on the ISC Pre-Approved Accommodation List. Contact Education Programs staff at bceducation@sac-isc.gc.ca for any questions regarding this list.

Circumstances for Accommodation Services

For students who must attend school away from their home communities, funding may be available for accommodation services:

- Where there is no school with the appropriate grade levels or program within a reasonable travelling distance. Any school offering the BC Core Curriculum, or ISC approved First Nations school operating an ISC approved Kindergarten 4 (K4) program or a First Nations operated early childhood program is considered appropriate.
- Where the student requires access to medical services. Each application must be submitted annually and accompanied with a medical certificate that provides medical reasons for access to medical services.
- Other – must be accompanied by written documentation or explanation of unique circumstances.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS:	PAW #	PAW Name	Due Date
	For a new request, or if a student was previously approved for accommodation supports in 2021-2022 and has had a change in circumstance, email the Education Programs team with appropriate supporting documentation (if applicable). Students requiring accommodation supports should be reflected on the Nominal Roll Student and Education Staff Census Report.		October 15

FUNDING METHODOLOGY:

Annual allocations for accommodation are made by the actual number of approved students who require group/boarding home assistance multiplied by $8,211 (5-day non-remote locations), $10,217 (7-day non-remote locations) or $14,065 (average for remote/isolated communities). The amount for remote communities may vary based on location. The funding may be used for items such as room and board; clothing; monthly allowance; transportation while in room and board, ancillary expenses, transition support, travel chaperone, criminal record check and seasonal transportation. Adult students are NOT eligible for this funding.

The initial allocation is based on the number of students on the 2020-2021 Nominal Roll. In June, allocations are adjusted for enrollment changes after the 2021-2022 Nominal Roll has been verified and confirmed.

The table below provides a summary of accommodation supports starting in 2021-2022:

Component	Rate
Room and Board	$6,480 (7-day accommodation)
	$4,629 (5-day accommodation)
Ancillary	$280
Transition Support	$1,436
Travel Chaperone – Remote /Isolated (7-day accommodation only)	$516
Travel Chaperone – Non-Remote (7-day accommodation only)	$155
Criminal Record Check	$28
Bus Pass	$600
Seasonal Travel – Non-Remote/5-day	$1,238
Seasonal Travel – Remote/Isolated	$4,725 (Average for isolated communities)

Note: Administration of 5% is applied to the total to support the coordination of accommodation services.

First Nations with a Block or a NFR Grant funding agreement have this program built into their core funding.

Example

A funding agreement Recipient in a non-remote location has a First Nations school to grade 9, with 14 students in grades 10-12 who must leave the community for school, and another grade 6 student who must be near the BC Children's Hospital for medical care. This funding agreement Recipient is eligible for 7-day accommodation funding for 15 students X $10,217 plus administration of 5% = $160,918.

Post-Secondary

Post–Secondary Education (PSE) - General Information

The PSE program has two components: the Post-secondary Student Support Program (PSSSP) and University and College Entrance Preparation Program (UCEPP), and the Post-Secondary Partnerships Program (PSPP) - each with its own objectives and delivery format. Indigenous Services Canada works to address the variations in demand for post-secondary funding, both within and between funding agreement Recipients. Considering challenges and pressures related to COVID-19 starting in the 2020-2021 fiscal year, additional funding supports were made available by ISC to support Indigenous Post-Secondary institutions and students.

Post-Secondary Resource Line

A Post-Secondary Resource Line to support the work of Education Coordinators is available through FNESC toll-free at: 1-877-280-4151 or via email at pse@fnesc.ca.

Post-Secondary Student Support Program (PSSSP) and University and College Entrance Preparation Program (UCEPP)

The Post-Secondary Student Support Program (PSSSP) and the University and College Entrance Preparation Program (UCEPP) provide Post-Secondary Education (PSE) funding to funding agreement Recipients to assist eligible First Nations students attending eligible post-secondary institutions and programs.

The PSSSP provides non-repayable financial support for First Nations (Registered Indian) students to advance towards a recognized post-secondary education credential (including CEGEP, community college, undergraduate studies, advanced professional or post-graduate studies at eligible colleges and universities in Canada and abroad, and First Nations designated and directed institutions, as prioritized and directed by First Nations.

The UCEPP provides non-repayable financial support for First Nations (Registered Indian) students who are enrolled in accepted university and college entrance preparation programs to enable them to attain the academic level required for entrance into degree and diploma credit programs, as prioritized and directed by First Nations.

Funding for PSSSP/UCEPP is provided directly to First Nations and they administer the program in adherence to the National Guidelines.

Students who are registered but are not members of a First Nation (students on the General List who does not have a band affiliation or who are not deemed members by a BC First Nation) can apply to access PSSSP and UCEPP through the British Columbia Association of Aboriginal Friendship Centres. FUNDING METHODOLOGY:

The current funding allocation methodology for PSSSP/UCEPP in the BC Region is described below:

1. Initial Allocation: The BC Region PSE allocation for student supports is allocated to each First Nation through an initial allocation. Initial allocations for eligible First Nations are based on the lesser of: 1. reported audited annual expenditures; or 2. a per capita amount calculated using the regional budget and the total population as of December 31.
2. Protected Pool: If audited annual expenditures are lower than the calculated per capita amount, the difference is placed in the Protected Pool for each individual First Nation. First Nations must apply to access the funds in their Protected Pool.
3. General Pool: If a First Nation does not apply for some or all their Protected Pool, the residual funds are placed in a General Pool accessible to other First Nations. First Nations that demonstrate the need for funds above their initial and Protected Pool budget can apply for additional funds from the General Pool.

This funding allocation methodology does not apply to Treaty or Self-Government Agreement First Nations and First Nations which have block or NFR Grant funding arrangements with ISC. First Nations with NFR Grant funding arrangements can access the General Pool, but do not contribute to the General Pool.

Post-Secondary Partnerships Program (PSPP)

In BC Region, the Post-Secondary Partnerships Program (PSPP) is administered through a First Nations-directed and regionally delivered proposal-driven process to support First Nations established post-secondary education institutions and First Nations-directed community-based programming. The overall aim of the program is to increase the number of First Nations students pursuing post-secondary education.

Starting in the 2020-2021 fiscal year, the First Nations Education Steering Committee (FNESC), working with the Indigenous Adult and Higher Learning Association, began leading and administering this program and the call for proposals process in BC Region. FNESC and IAHLA's role includes establishing a PSPP Review Committee to oversee the process and adjudicate proposals, setting regional guidelines, and distributing and adjudicating BC PSPP Calls for Proposals.

To learn more about the call for proposals process and how the PSPP is delivered in BC region, visit FNESC's website at www.fnesc.ca/pspp/ or IAHLA's website at https://iahla.ca/pspp/

These two separate documents set out the program requirements for the Income Assistance and Assisted Living Programs on-reserve to recipients that have entered into a funding agreement with Indigenous Services Canada (ISC). These documents came into effect as of April 1, 2018 and replace the Social Programs National Manual published in 2017-2018. They are meant to be read in conjunction with the funding agreement signed by the funding recipient; applicable provincial/territorial legislation; ISC's Regional Office program manuals or guidelines; and any other ISC-approved documentation. Income Assistance First Nation Youth Employment Strategy (IAFNYES)

On September 23, 2020, the Speech from the Throne committed to "scaling up the Youth Employment and Skills Strategy" to restore pre-COVID employment levels. To support the response to the Speech from the Throne, Indigenous Services Canada (ISC) submitted a proposal to formalize a partnership between ISC's First Nations and Inuit Youth Employment Strategy (FNIYES) and Income Assistance (IA) programs under the Youth Employment and Skills Strategy (YESS).

In the Fall Economic Statement for the 2021-2022 fiscal year, $33.4M ($16.7M for each program) was approved for a one-year pilot strategy for this partnership, called the Income Assistance First Nations Youth Employment Strategy (IAFNYES).

The goal of IAFNYES is to reach up to 2000 on-reserve and Yukon First Nations youth between the ages of 18 and 30 who are receiving Income Assistance in order to help them transition to the workforce or return to school.

The objectives of IAFNYES are to:

- provide short term work placements for youth to increase their access to more permanent employment opportunities;
- support the development and enhancement of essential employability skills;

- promote the benefits of education as key to labour market participation;
- introduce youth to a variety of career options;
- support access to services to help youth transition to and remain in the workforce; and
- reducing long term dependency on Income Assistance.

Family Violence Prevention Program (FVPP)

The Family Violence Prevention Program (FVPP) terms and conditions (see link below) were revised in 2021-2022: Contributions to improve the safety and security of Indigenous women, Children, families and 2SLGBTQQIA+people. The Guidelines are in the process of being updated to reflect the revisions. Until this is completed, please write to: fvpp-ppvf@sac-isc.gc.ca if you have any questions.

The FVPP website has also been updated to reflect the changes to the Terms and Conditions, please visit: Family Violence Prevention Program (sac-isc.gc.ca)

FVPP Shelters and Transition homes

The 2021 Shelter and Transitional Housing Initiative launched its Call for Proposals in November 2021. Through the 2020 Fall Economic Statement and Budget 2021, $724.1 million was allotted to expand supports for Indigenous women, children, and 2SLGBTQQIA+ people facing gender-based violence.

Funding through this initiative will contribute to the construction of at least 38 shelters and 50 transitional housing across the country, including in urban areas and the North.

You can apply for funding at any time until December 2023. The review of applications will be ongoing, and the selection of eligible applications will be conducted in phases twice a year at a minimum. Urban Programming for Indigenous Peoples

The Urban Programming for Indigenous Peoples (UPIP) was created in 2017 and is designed to assist First Nations (status and non-status), Inuit and Métis living in or transitioning to urban centres. UPIP has four funding streams: organizational capacity, programs and services, coalitions and research and innovation.

The only funding stream managed in BC Region is the Coalitions. This stream supports local coalitions that bring together all levels of government and other stakeholders.

Under this stream, UPIP will connect organizations and all levels of government to:

- identify key local priorities and needs
- ensure efficient and coordinated delivery of urban Indigenous programs

The coalitions will:

- promote local collaboration
- identify local needs
- develop local plans on how best to address the priorities

BC Region provides UPIP Coalitions funding to indigenous partners: Metro Vancouver Aboriginal Executive Council (MVAEC), Surrey Urban Indigenous Leadership Committee (SUILC) and Prince George Coalition.

For information on the other funding streams, please refer to the ISC website: Urban Programming for Indigenous Peoples (sac-isc.gc.ca).

Income Assistance Program Reviews

In the BC Region, the Program Review Team (PRT) conducts annual program reviews on the delivery of the Department's Income Assistance (IA) program. Program reviews evaluate a program's delivery against requirements outlined in its National Program Guidelines. In 2017, with the launch of Indigenous Services Canada's (ISC), brought a mandate to focus on collaboratively working with its partners to improve service delivery and support Indigenous self-determination. In order to better align IA Compliance reviews with ISC's new mandate, PRT anticipates a new approach to program reviews that will be communicated to First Nations shortly. For more information, please contact the Program Review Team by email: erp-prt@sac-isc.gc.ca

Income Assistance Family Supports (IAFS)

The program activities which were formally part of the National Child Benefit Reinvestment (NCBR) initiative program will continue to be distributed through the Income Assistance (IA) budget under the title "Income Assistance Family Supports" for the sole benefit of IA clients and their dependents residing on reserve in BC.

See the chapters noted below in ISC BC Region's Social Development Policy and Procedures Handbook for details.

- Basic Support Allowance (Chapter 4, Volume 1)
- Persons with Persistent Multiple Barriers (PPMB) Designation and Assistance (Ch. 4, Volume1)
- Persons with Disabilities (PWD) Designation and Assistance (Chapter 8, Volume 1)
- Shelter Allowances (Chapter 5, Volume 1)

Shelter allowances may be paid to cover actual documented costs such as rent, utilities, and in limited cases, home maintenance. See Shelter Allowances (Chapter 5, Volume 1) in ISC BC Region's Social Development Policy and Procedures Handbook for details.

   - The BASIC NEED caseloads per Service Unit (SU) entitlement. One SU represents one full-time Band Social Development Worker (BSDW).
   - The Child Out of Parental Home (COPH) caseloads per SU entitlement.

FUNDING METHODOLOGY:

Recipients are funded using a geographic, 'weighted' per capita formula. The weighted population is the First Nation's Total Registered Population (Indian Registry Population Codes 1 through 6 as of December 31 of the previous fiscal year) multiplied by the First Nation's Remoteness Index Factor.

First Nations with a Block or a NFR Grant funding agreement have this program built into their core funding.

Example

The BC Region annual budget of is divided by geographic 'weighted' per capita formula of all eligible non-block First Nations. For 2019-20, the weighted per capita amount is $18.15.

If a First Nation's population is 556 with a remoteness factor of .22, the total weighted population would be 556 x 0.22 = 122 + 556 = 678. The total weighted population of 678 would multiply by the per capita amount of $18.15 that equals a total funding allocation of $12,308.

Assisted Living

Homemaker Services& Service Delivery

These two programs provide funding for (a) the administration of the Assisted Living program and (b) for non-medical home care support services called "homemaker services" under the Assisted Living program. Non-medical home care includes social support services which help individuals maintain independence and the ability to remain in their own home. Services may range from housekeeping, meal preparation, and attendant care to community supports, such as adult care, meals on wheels, psycho-social programs, short-term respite care for caregivers, and non-health transportation. Before the delivery of Homemaker Services, an assessment is required to support the applicant's eligibility for funding.

FUNDING METHODOLOGY:

The initial budget is set at a fixed budget (85% program and 15% service delivery) based on the funding formula of $2,000 base per band, plus a per capita component (total number of a First Nation's registered members aged 19 and older who are residing on their own reserves). The 15% Assisted Living Service Delivery amount is intended to support the administration and delivery of the following: Assisted Living services; Homemaker Services, Adult Institutional Care, and Adult Family Care Homes. Homemaker Services deficits are not reimbursed as this is a fixed regional budget

First Nations with a Block or a NFR Grant funding agreement have this program built into their core funding.

Example

A First Nation community with a total adult population of 265, multiplied by the per capita amount of $209.75, plus the $2,000 base funding equals a total allocation of $57,584 of which $48,946 (85%) would be directed toward program costs and $8,638 (15%) for service delivery.

Assisted Living Adult Institutional Care

The Adult Institutional Care Services Program provides financial assistance and Adult Family Care Homes. Adult Institutional Care assists eligible adults living on-reserve who require placement in a residential care facility.

Adult Family Care Homes are single family residences located on-reserve, intended for adults who require 24-hour supervision outside their own home, and who choose to remain in their home communities.

Before placement in a residential care (Adult Institutional Care) facility or an Adult Family Care home, health and financial assessments are required to support the applicant's eligibility for funding. There must be approval from ISC for institutional care or adult family care home clients in order for First Nations communities to receive reimbursement through their reporting submissions.

General Information & What's New

In January 2016, in response to a 2007 complaint by the Assembly of First Nations and the First Nations Child and Family Caring Society, the Canadian Human Rights Tribunal found the First Nations Child and Family Services (FNCFS) program to be flawed, inequitable, and discriminatory under the Canadian Human Rights Act. The tribunal ordered the department to cease its discriminatory practices and to reform the program to reflect the findings in their decision.

Indigenous Services Canada is currently working with partners to reform the FNCFS program and reduce the number of Indigenous children in care. The reform plans to fully implement the order of the Canadian Human Rights Tribunal on First Nations Child Welfare by:

- Funding based on the needs of First Nations child and family services agencies
- Working to make the system truly child centered, community directed, and focused on prevention and early intervention.

An Act respecting First Nations, Inuit and Métis children, youth and families (the "Act") came into force on January 1, 2020. The Act establishes national standards for the delivery of child and family services to Indigenous children, such as the best interests of the child, cultural continuity and substantive equality. It also affirms that the inherent right to self-government includes jurisdiction over child and family services, including the right to make, administer and enforce laws.

The key areas within the federal approach to implementation of the Act, include: distinctions-based governance engagement mechanisms; capacity-building; coordination agreement discussions, and operationalization of Indigenous child and family service models.

Agreement-in-Principle

On December 31, 2021, the parties to the Canadian Human Rights Tribunal complaint regarding the FNCFS Program and Jordan's Principle announced they had reached an Agreement-in-Principle for the Long Term Reform of the First Nations Child and Family Services Program.

The purpose of the Agreement-in-Principle on Long-Term Reform is to provide a framework for reform of the First Nations Child and Family Services Program, for improved implementation of Jordan's Principle, and to prevent the recurrence of discrimination. These reforms aim to satisfy the Canadian Human Rights Tribunal orders regarding discrimination perpetrated by Canada in its FNCFS Program and its narrow application of Jordan's Principle. The reforms, designed to be in the best interest of First Nations children, youth, young adults and families, also aim to ensure that the discrimination they have experienced is not repeated.

Immediate Measures: Transition Year 2022-2023

On April 1, 2022, Canada will begin funding:

- Prevention based on a formula that multiplies $2,500 by the on-reserve First Nations population and the First Nations population in the Yukon (to be allocated among agencies and First Nations);
- First Nations Representative Services based on a formula that multiplies $283 by the First Nations population on-reserve and in the Yukon (or $332.9 million over five years for First Nations in Ontario - funded to First Nations);
- The actual costs of post-majority care to former children in care up to and including the age of 27 in the Province of BC in keeping with MCFD policy (to be funded to agencies, or where a First Nation does not receive services from an FNCFS agency, then directly to the First Nation or service provider authorized by the First Nation); and

All other areas of funding will remain unchanged, including needs based funding for operations and access to the claims process for actuals for protection (including intake and investigations), legal services and building repairs.

FUNDING METHODOLOGY:

The funding is based on CHRT Orders. For funding formula and administrative procedure information please contact the BC CFS Unit: bccfs@sac-isc.gc.ca

It is important to note that the Agreement-in-Principle on Long Term Reform confirms that First Nations affirming their jurisdiction under An Act respecting First Nations, Inuit and Métis children, youth and families will not receive less funding than they would have received under the reformed approach. These First Nations will be provided funding through the grant mechanisms established under the Act. For funding options and information on the Jurisdiction Initiative, please contact the BC CFS Unit: bccfsjurisdiction-juridiction@sac-isc.gc.ca

2022 CHRT 41 - Capital Funding
Through the order of the Canadian Human Rights Tribunal (CHRT 41), First Nations, First Nations child and family services agencies and First Nations-authorized Jordan's Principle service providers can access funding for the purchase and construction of capital assets needed to:

- support the delivery of child and family services to First Nations children on-reserve and in Yukon
- provide safe, accessible, confidential and culturally- and age-appropriate spaces needed to support the delivery of Jordan's Principle funded services on-reserve, which can include space to administer those services

On January 18, 2022, the Canadian Human Rights Tribunal (CHRT) issued consent order 2022 CHRT 41 (amended), requiring Canada to fund the planning, purchase and construction of capital assets on-reserve (or off-reserve if no suitable property is available on-reserve or is more accessible) for the delivery of FNCFS or for the delivery of services under Jordan's Principle, based on actual costs incurred on or after January 18, 2022.

Delegated Aboriginal Child and Family Services Agencies

The FNCFS program provides funding to assist in ensuring the safety and well-being of First Nations children ordinarily resident on reserve by supporting culturally appropriate prevention and protection services for First Nations children and families. ISC is committed to its obligations pursuant to 2016 CHRT 16 to not reduce agency budgets as a result of the Agreement in Principle. ISC is also committed to preventing service disruptions by working with Indigenous Child and Family Services Agencies and First Nations to support prevention funding transition.

In 2022-23, as a first step ISC will fund BC Indigenous Child and Family Services Agencies for prevention funding equal to their 2022-23 fiscal year business plan. The balance of new funding based on CHRT 8 will be provided to the First Nation. First Nations and Indigenous Child and Family Services Agencies and service providers will have flexibility to share these new prevention resources so long as the allocations are consistent with the promotion of family wellness and the prevention of child maltreatment and fulfill statutory child welfare requirements.

The following considerations shall be taken into account in determining Agency costs:

- The actual cost determined by the Recipient to be in the best interest of the child;
- Whether the cost is generally recognized as normal and necessary for the conduct of the activity;
- The restraints and requirements related to such factors as generally accepted accounting principles, arm's length bargaining, federal, provincial and local laws and regulations;
- To ensure substantive equality and the provision of culturally appropriate services, the needs of each individual child and his or her family must be considered and evaluated, in light of their distinct needs and circumstances including their cultural, historical and geographical needs and circumstances, for instance by taking into account any needs that stem from historical disadvantages and the lack of services on-reserve and/or surrounding services; and
- The costs related to children and families ordinarily resident on reserve and for children registered under the Indian Act or who are entitled to be registered.

Maintenance Expenditures

Maintenance funding is meant to cover the costs directly related to maintaining a child in placement out of the parental home, in accordance with provincial standards. Maintenance costs for children-in-care are submitted on a monthly basis by both Ministry of Child and Family Development (MCFD) and First Nation agencies. Such costs include:

- Non-medical services to children with behavioral issues and specialized needs
- Purchases on behalf of children in care
- Other provincially-approved purchases not covered by other funding sources; monthly payments to cover costs for children in care in placements out of the parental home (including foster care, group homes, institutional care, and kinship care); post-adoption subsidies and supports; and professional services not covered by other jurisdiction or under the Non Insured Health Benefits Program.

Costs for maintenance will continue to be reimbursed based on actual costs incurred as reported on DCI #455917 "Child and Family Services Maintenance Report.".

Prevention and Operations

Operations and Prevention funding needs are identified in the annual Business Plan which covers all aspects of the agency's operations, including the following expenses when they are not already covered by any federal department (including ISC), or provincial, territorial, or municipal government funding:

Prevention/least disruptive measures; Intake and investigations services; Legal fees; Building repairs; Child service purchase costs; Staff salaries and benefits; Board of Director expenses; Travel expenses; Agency and professional development; Administration and office expenses, and Audits and evaluation

Community Wellbeing and Jurisdiction Initiative (CWJI)

Community Wellbeing and Jurisdiction Initiative funding has been transitioned to the prevention funding formula as determined under the Agreement In Principle and provided directly to First Nations not affiliated with a Delegated Aboriginal Agency. Jordan's Principle

Jordan's Principle ensures that all First Nations children can access the products, services and supports they need, when they need them. Jordan's Principle is named in memory of Jordan River Anderson, a young boy from Norway House Cree Nation in Manitoba.

A legal rule
In 2016, the Canadian Human Rights Tribunal (CHRT) determined that Canada's approach to services for First Nations children was discriminatory. One way we are addressing this is through a renewed approach to Jordan's Principle. A number of follow-up orders have been issued by the CHRT and since Spring 2022, Jordan's Principle Initiative has implemented a "Back-to-Basics" approach that is non-discriminatory, centers the needs and best interests of the child, takes into consideration the distinct circumstances of their community, is simple to access, timely, and minimizes the administrative burden on families.

What we are doing
For the long-term the Department is working to build better structures and funding models that will ensure First Nations children get the services they need. To do this, we are working closely with provinces/territories, Indigenous partners and service organizations.

Since 2016, the Government has committed $2.36 billion toward meeting the needs of First Nations children through Jordan's Principle.

In addition to funding individual and group requests for First Nations children, Jordan's Principle BC Region has worked with First Nations partners to implement an 'Enhanced Service Coordination Model' in BC Region, placing nearly 40 Service Coordinators across the province to support children and their families to navigate the existing federal and provincial services and supports, including preparing and submitting Jordan's Principle requests on their behalf.

Child and Family Services – Jurisdiction & Engagement

An Act respecting First Nations, Inuit and Métis children, youth and families (the "Act") came into force on January 1, 2020. The Act establishes national standards for the delivery of child and family services to Indigenous children, such as the best interests of the child, cultural continuity and substantive equality. It also affirms that the inherent right to self-government includes jurisdiction over child and family services, including the right to make, administer and enforce laws.

The key areas within the federal approach to implementation of the Act include:

Distinctions-based governance engagement mechanisms
Governance engagement mechanisms are forums for Indigenous partners to discuss and make recommendations on the implementation of the Act.

Capacity-building
Jurisdiction capacity-building funding is available to Indigenous governing bodies and section 35 rights-holding communities planning for the exercise of jurisdiction over child and family services. Among other activities, capacity-building funding supports the codification of Indigenous laws, development of child and family service models, and community consultation.

General Information & What's New

Emergency Management is a shared responsibility. It begins with individual community members and is a partnership among First Nations' governments, the federal government and the provincial government.

Indigenous Services Canada (ISC) supports communities on reserve to access emergency management services under the authority of the Emergency Management Assistance Program (EMAP).

Funding through EMAP supports First Nations to build resiliency, prepare for emergencies (e.g. emergencies such as wildfires, flooding, severe weather events) and to respond and recover from emergencies. EMAP includes all four pillars of emergency management:

1. mitigation
2. preparedness
3. response
4. recovery

When an emergency exceeds the capacity of a First Nation, Emergency Management British Columbia (EMBC, 1-800-663-3456) is the first point of contact. Through EMBC, ISC reimburses eligible response and recovery costs incurred by First Nations on reserve. In addition, ISC supports First Nation partners in their efforts to increase community-based capacity and disaster resilience through mitigation and preparedness activities.

In 2018, ISC also introduced the Building Back Better (BBB) Strategy Guide, under EMAP, which provides additional supports during response (e.g., social and cultural supports for evacuees) and Recovery phases (e.g. mitigative enhancements post-disaster, support for personal losses).

This document is intended to offer information on EMAP and BBB, in the context of British Columbian emergencies and emergency management partners, and to support conversations between BC First Nations and ISC on how EMAP supports communities and who to contact during an emergency event. ISC BC Region can further be reached at bcaandc.do@canada.ca.

Building Back Better Strategy Guide - www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1534954506773/1535121720820

Emergency Management (EM) Assistance Program Preparedness & Non-Structural Mitigation

Mitigation involves identifying potential emergencies as well as proactive measures to mitigate risk. The EMAP authority allows for non-structural mitigation activities such as risk assessment, hazard mapping, planning and environmental studies. Structural mitigation activities such as new capital equipment and construction are specifically excluded and must be undertaken under other appropriate departmental authorities, including but not limited to the Capital authority.

Preparedness involves activities that allow First Nations to respond efficiently and in a timely manner to an emergency. These can include developing policies, preparing guidelines, conducting training, and developing or updating emergency plans. Preparedness also includes periodic testing through simulation exercises.

Under the Canada - BC Emergency Management Services Agreement, Emergency Management BC (EMBC) provides guidance, training and workshops at no cost to First Nations. ISC non-structural mitigation and preparedness funding complement EMBC's services in order to support First Nations to build capacity, knowledge, skills and abilities to respond to and recover from emergency situations.

FUNDING METHODOLOGY:

ISC carries out an annual funding call for EMAP Non-Structural Mitigation and Preparedness projects, and prioritizes local efforts through small-scale projects that complement EMBC's services. Applications are also accepted on an ongoing basis, and are prioritized as funding becomes available.

Emergency Management Assistance Program Response

Response involves actions to deal with the short-term consequences of an imminent or occurring emergency to protect First Nation members from loss of life or injury, and to protect houses and other infrastructure. Under the Canada – BC Emergency Management Service Agreement, Emergency Management BC's (EMBC) Emergency Coordination Centre (1 800 663-3456) is the first point of contact should an emergency occur day or night.

EMBC is the first point of contact in an emergency event. First Nations work through EMBC to access response support through EMBC's expense authorization form (EAF) process. The EAF forms and process, associated claims materials, and guidelines, can be obtained from EMBC Regional Offices.

EMBC reimburses eligible response expenditures approved under the EAF, while ISC may reimburse additional costs that are not provincially eligible, such as response items included in the Building Back Better Strategy Guide.

FUNDING METHODOLOGY

EMBC reimburses First Nations for 100 % of eligible costs incurred during an emergency on-reserve. ISC then reimburses EMBC. Where specific costs are not provincially eligible, ISC can review them to determine if they are federally eligible. If so, the department will reimburse First Nations directly. First Nations may contact their regional EMBC office regarding the process to submit a response claim, and may work directly with ISC staff to address any items that are not provincially eligible.

Emergency Management Assistance Program Recovery

Recovery involves measures to restore essential community infrastructure to pre-disaster conditions as quickly as possible, and may include a mitigation component to reduce the vulnerabilities of the impacted community to improve its planning for future emergency events.

The provincial platform for recovery is the Disaster Financial Assistance (DFA) program. First Nations work through EMBC to access recovery supports, including DFA. First Nations are responsible for completing their own DFA applications and must do this by provincially set due dates.

EMBC will inform ISC when an event is not DFA eligible. In such occasions, ISC will determine if the event is EMAP eligible and will work directly with First Nations on recovery.

ISC may also reimburse additional costs that are not provincially eligible, such as recovery items included in the Building Back Better Strategy Guide.

FUNDING METHODOLOGY

Under DFA, EMBC will reimburse First Nations for 80% minus $1,000 of eligible recovery costs. Funding Agreement Cash Flow Regime

The following is the BC Region regime regarding the distribution of funds for the initial allocation provided in funding arrangements with First Nations and Tribal Councils. This regime is established to provide funding to allow recipients to meet their cash flow requirements while respecting the cash management guidelines, Section 6.4 of the Treasury Board Transfer Payments Directive (www.tbs-sct.gc.ca/pol/doc-eng.aspx?id=14208).

In addition to the cash flow regime, funding may be pooled and will be released upon receipt and approval of necessary applications, reports, operational and work plans, i.e. Tribal Council Application and Work Plan, capital projects, etc.

Recipients may adjust their expenditure plans based on actual cash flow requirements. Please call the relevant Program Manager to discuss changes to the cash flow.

Concerning compliance with reporting requirements, the Grants and Contributions Information Management System (GCIMS) system may automatically halt funds in accordance with Directive 123 Reporting Management for all Prior Year overdue reports.

National Funding Agreement Models 2022-2023

According to the Treasury Board Secretariat Directive on Transfer Payments, a funding agreement is a written agreement or documentation constituting an agreement between the Government of Canada and an applicant or a recipient setting out the obligations or understandings of both with respect to one or more transfer payments. It describes the requirements needed to maintain the accountability relationship between Indigenous Services Canada (ISC) and the funding recipient. ISC has published the 2022-2023 national funding agreement models below.

- Provincial/Territorial Governments Funding Agreement Model 2022-2023

- Comprehensive Funding Agreement (with 10-year grant) 2022-2023
