Indigenous Services Canada – British Columbia 2026 / 2027 Program Guide

Introduction

This publication is the annual BC Region Program Guide. 'The Guide' contains important program and budget information intended for the administrators and program managers of First Nations, Indigenous organizations and Indigenous Services Canada staff.

All information in this Guide is up to date upon publication – any changes made throughout the year will be communicated directly to Chief and Council and Indigenous Organizations by Indigenous Services Canada Program Managers. Changes and updates can also be made throughout the year to the online version of The Guide which is available on the AFOABC website: https://afoabc.org/publications-2/

In the event of a variance, your Indigenous Services Canada funding agreement, the Reporting Guide, and Indigenous Services Canada's Program Manuals will take precedence over this Guide.

What information will I find in the Program Guide?

The Guide is a 'user-friendly,' quick reference tool. It provides:

- A brief definition of each program, service, and activity.
- Proposal, Application, Work plan (PAW) and reporting information.
- Each program's 'funding methodology' (current funding formula).

Within this section, there is useful information on:

- Proposal, Application and Work plan (PAW) submission options; and
- Reporting Requirement (DCI) information; and
- Grants and Contributions Information Management System (GCIMS).

At the back of the Guide, you will also find a List of Acronyms and their meanings, links to the National funding agreement models used by Indigenous Services Canada, as well as a Chart of Accounts which lists Grants and Contribution funding codes used by Indigenous Services Canada.

General Information and What's New

The Program Guide is reviewed and updated every two years by Indigenous Services Canada BC Region staff. Whenever possible, web links are included for listed reference manuals and documents. Reporting requirements and a calendar of due dates are also included. Please share this guide with staff members who manage these programs.

Overview of Transfer Payments

The Policy on Transfer Payments (PTP) and the Directives on Transfer Payments provide guidance and direction to Federal Departments to ensure that transfer payment programs are managed with integrity, transparency, and accountability in a manner that is sensitive to risks; are citizen and recipient-focused; and are designed and delivered to address government priorities in achieving results.

A Transfer Payment is a transfer of goods, services or assets or the payment of money to a third- party recipient. This transfer does not result in the Government acquiring any goods, services or assets directly.

The two types of transfer payments used by ISC are:

- Grants – subject to eligibility specified in the program's terms and conditions, recipients are accountable to their members. Audit to the department is not required. The recipient may have to report on activities and results achieved.
    - New for April 1, 2019, a 10-year grant covering core funding has been available for eligible First Nations. Please contact your Funding Services Officer for more information.

- Contributions – subject to performance conditions specified in a funding agreement, recipients are accountable to Canada, and are subject to audit.

To access the Policy on Transfer Payments, please visit: https://www.tbs-sct.gc.ca/pol/doc-eng.aspx?id=13525

To access the Directive on Transfer Payments, please visit: www.tbs-sct.gc.ca/pol/doc-eng.aspx?id=14208

To access the Terms and Conditions for ISC Transfer Payments, please visit: https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1386868587379/1618143863185

Overview of Funding Agreements

A funding agreement is a legal contract for the transfer of federal funding to eligible recipients for the delivery of programs, services, and activities. The contract is binding on the parties to the agreement and sets out the agreement's terms and conditions and the parties' obligations. ISC develops and maintains generic funding agreement models which are used for different purposes.

In the Funding Information section of this Guide, links are available to the National funding agreement models for 2026-2027:

- First Nations and Tribal Councils National Funding Agreement Model 2026-2027.
- Streamlined Funding Agreement Model for First Nations (new/optional) 2026-2027;
- Funding Agreement Model – Other 2026-2027.

Comprehensive Funding Agreement

On April 1, 2019, Indigenous Services Canada introduced a new Comprehensive Funding Agreement (CFA).

The Comprehensive Funding Agreement adopts the language of the New Fiscal Relationship (NFR) and it includes all funding approaches: Set, Fixed, Flexible, Block, Grant and NFR Grant.

For more information on funding agreement models, please visit: https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1545169431029/1545169495474

Proposal, Application & Work plan (PAW) and Data Collection Instrument (DCI) Information

Proposals, Applications and Work plans (PAW) are standardized forms used by Indigenous Services Canada to collect information from funding recipients on the results they intend to achieve with funding requested.

The Proposal, Application, Work plan (PAW) templates can be downloaded at the following website: https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1571829044381/1571829074923

Reporting requirements, in the form of Data Collection instruments (DCIs), are listed in a 'Reporting and Due Dates' Schedule or Annex of the recipient's funding agreement (including any Amending Agreements). Indigenous Services Canada collects program data to support statutory requirements, resource allocation, performance reporting, accountability, program planning, policy analysis and operational requirements.

For ease of reference, the corresponding Data Collection Instrument (DCI) number documents are linked in this Program Guide allowing recipients to be sure they are completing the correct program report as listed in their funding agreement with the Department.

Acceptable Electronic Formats

Reports are available in PDF or online to report the information required in your agreement, amendment and/or according to the Reporting Guide.

Report templates are available for download from:

- The Reporting Guide at https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1573764124180/1573764143080
- Through the Grant and Contribution Information System (GCIMS). Contact your Funding Services Officer if you do not have access to GCIMS.
- Through the Indigenous Services Portal (EIS Portal - Education only). If you do not have access to the portal, contact your regional office.

If you are having difficulty accessing a PDF document, please visit our Help page.

Notification of Reporting Requirements

The "Notification of Reporting Requirements Report" is a monthly email notification sent by the Department to provide recipients with report statuses of overdue, due soon, revisions required and pending department review. Recipients with appropriate GCIMS access can view this report directly from the system.

Failure to meet reporting requirements set out in the terms and conditions of the funding agreement may result in automated halted funds. Please contact your Funding Services Officer for more information.

DCI Submission Options

Recipients are asked to send one copy of each report using one of the three options listed below:

1. Upload directly to GCIMS (DCI only available at this time)
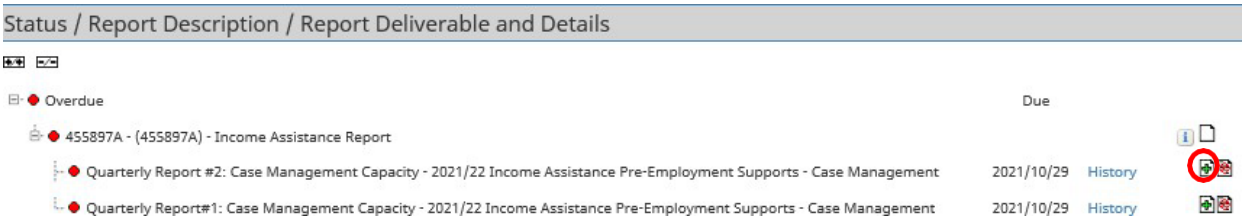
   If you have access to GCIMS, you can upload reports directly. Maximum file size is 100 MB.

Uploading a DCI



- Search for the report and click on the Green Plus sign to upload the completed report

2. Email: bcreports@sac-isc.gc.ca

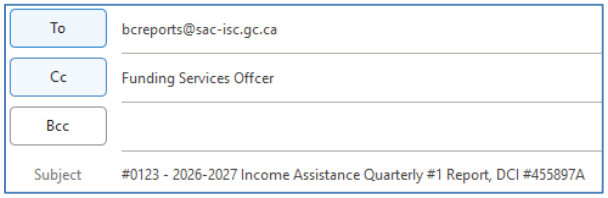
   Email Submission Guidelines

   Be sure to include in the subject line: (an example is given below)

   - Recipient #
   - Report name or acronym
   - DCI# (if applicable)
   - The fiscal year for which the report is required

   Example: 0123 - 2026-2027 Income Assistance Quarterly #1 Report, DCI # 455897A



Use the subject line format shown above to ensure correct routing and processing of your report and enter the Program Contact/Representative or the Funding Services Officer's email address in the 'CC' line.

To help eliminate possible confusion for you and the department; please use a separate email for each report/application and make sure to attach the report/application to your email.

After an electronic submission you will receive an email confirmation. If you did not receive an email confirmation, please contact the Program Contact/Representative or the Funding Services Officer.

3. Upload through the EIS Portal (Education only)
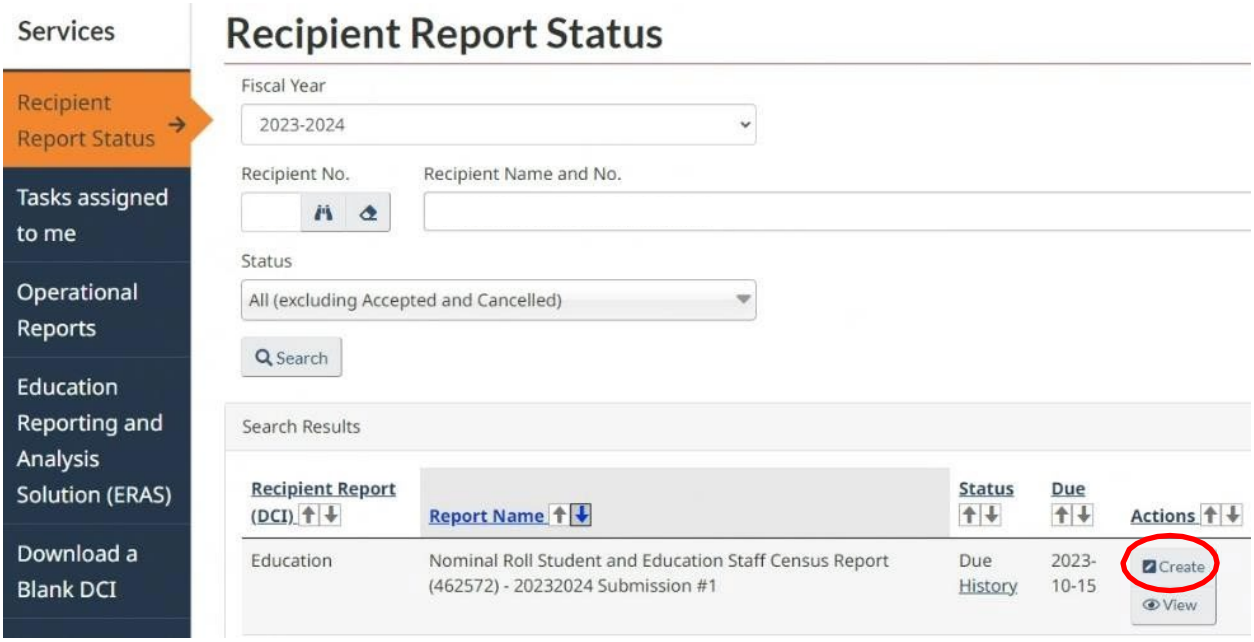
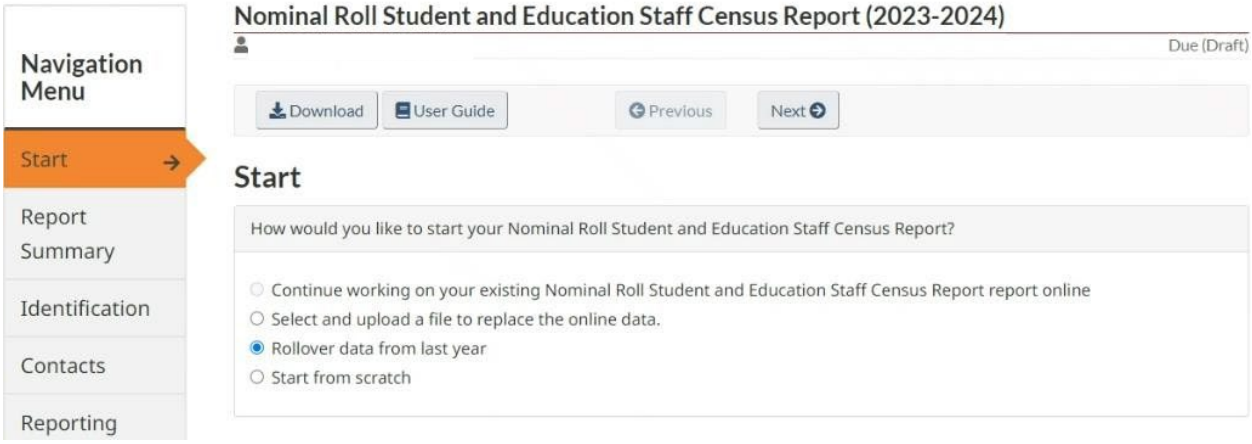
   If you have access to the EIS Portal, you can upload, perform an electronic review and submit Education related PAWs and DCIs.





Grants and Contribution Information Management System (GCIMS)

The Grants and Contribution Information Management System (GCIMS) is a web-enabled transfer payment management system that automates the Department's transfer payment business processes, manages funding agreement information, and provides on-line access for First Nations and other funding recipients.

Benefits of GCIMS access for First Nations and other Indigenous partners:

- Tracking of reports submitted with immediate feedback for any issues which might trigger funding halts so they can be managed in a timely manner.
- Electronic access to reports which provide information for the statistical analysis of program information.
- Electronic access to cash flow and payment information.
- Electronic access to funding agreement information such as terms and conditions.
- The ability to access the status of amendments or budget adjustments within the funding agreement.

Please contact your Funding Services Officer to request access to GCIMS. For more information on GCIMS, please visit: https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1100100010038/1618138097980

General Information & What's New

Services to Individuals and Governance programs support First Nations governance and capacity enhancement, community-driven planning and management of individual services to facilitate self- determination of communities and individuals.

Comprehensive Community Planning (CCP) and the Mentorship Initiative

Comprehensive Community Planning (CCP) is a holistic process that engages community members in planning and implementing the long-term vision for their community. Funding for participating in aspects of the CCP process is available through Professional and Institutional Development (P&ID), the First Nation Infrastructure Fund (FNIF) and through other sources external to ISC.

BC Region holds an annual CCP Workshop that is designed and delivered by experienced First Nations CCP Champions. The purpose of the workshop is to bring together First Nations to share lessons learned, best practices, and to increase capacity in the planning process. Participants at the annual workshops have long cited the benefits of learning from and with other First Nations.

The CCP Mentorship Initiative was developed out of the desire of CCP Workshop participants to continue First Nation to First Nation learning throughout the year. Under the CCP Mentorship Initiative, experienced First Nations planning champions (mentors) work with First Nations in the early stages of planning (mentees). ISC provides funding for mentors and mentees to work together.

Manager, Governance	Monica.Christ@sac-isc.gc.ca	(778) 783-6100

Status Cards

Individuals registered under the Indian Act can apply for a status card. Two versions are currently available:

- The paper-laminated Certificate of Indian Status is available in-person only from Indian Registration Administrators at First Nation offices. For office hours and identification requirements, please contact the First Nation office directly.
- The Secure Certificate of Indian Status is available in one of four ways: by visiting an Indian Registration Administrator at a First Nation office, by visiting the regional office in Vancouver, by visited a trusted source partner, or by mailing an application to the Secure Certificate of Indian Status (SCIS) National Processing Unit. For more information about the SCIS, including identification requirements and application forms, visit the Indigenous Services Canada (ISC) website: www.canada.ca/indian-status.

- Multiple organizations now have the ability to deliver registration and/or Secure Certificate of Indian Status card services in urban areas as trusted source partners:
    - Prince George:
        - Aboriginal Housing Society of Prince George
    - Vancouver:
        - Lu'ma Group of Companies
        - First Nations Health Authority (FNHA)
    - Victoria:
        - Community Social Planning Council
        - Victoria Native Friendship Centre
        - John Howard Society of Victoria (status card support only)
- For enquiries regarding trusted source partnerships, please email: sourcesfiables-trustedsources@sac-isc.gc.ca

Band Support Funding (BSF)

The Band Support Funding (BSF) Program provides funding to First Nations, in the form of a grant, to assist First Nation councils in funding the costs of local governments and the administration of departmentally funded services. This can include the formation, implementation, and enforcement of policies and regulations, selection of representatives, and efficient delivery of services to citizens in a way that enhances social and economic well-being.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS	PAW #	PAW Name	Due Date
	41814	Band Support Funding Application	January 10
REPORTING DUE DATES:	DCI #	DCI Name	Due Date
	No report due

Application Information:

The Band Support Funding Application is required by all Recipients, except those First Nations that are receiving BSF through Block or NFR Grant Funding Agreement. First Nations with a Block or NFR Grant Funding Agreement are only required to submit the application when they are renewing or entering a new agreement.

Contact Information:

Manager, Funding Services	604-368-4421
Allocation Officer	236-785-9278

Funding Methodology:

Initial allocations are based on 70% of the previous year's allocation. Adjustments will be made after the July Indian Government Support (IGS) database update.

Allocations are based on the BSF Band Profile, as generated by the Indian Government Support System (IGSS) and the maximum allowable rates are defined by the program policy. The funding formula is comprised of seven components. Each component refers to an activity performed by the First Nation council for which costs are determined, and these components are used to determine the funding level.

First Nations with a Block or a NFR Grant funding agreement have this program built into their core funding.

Funding formula tables are available on-line at other ISC website:
Appendix 4: https://sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1100100013828/1565364945375#chp18

Employee Benefits (EB)

Employee Benefits (formerly Band Employee Benefits) provides funding to eligible First Nations and Tribal Councils to support the employer's share of contributions to eligible employees' pension plans. These may include the costs of employer sponsored pension plans, the Canada/Quebec Pension Plan (CCP/QPP) and any additional employee benefits. Funding is limited to a maximum of 5.5% Private Pension Plan (PPP) of gross salaries, plus current Canada Pension Plan levels, administrative costs, and a maximum of 2% of other benefits.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS	PAW #	PAW Name	Due Date
	41802	Employee Benefits Application	January 10
REPORTING DUE DATES:	DCI #	DCI Name	Due Date
	41784	Employee Benefits Report for all Recipients, except those receiving EB through Block Funding	April 30

Application information:
First Nations with a Block or a NFR Grant funding agreement have this program built into their core funding.

For more information please see https://sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1100100013843/1565365323640

Contact information:

Manager, Funding Services	604-368-4421
Allocation Officer	236-785-9278

Funding Methodology:

Initial allocations are based on 70% of the previous year's allocation. Adjustments are made after the Indian Government Support database update in July. Funding for new plans will be allocated based on the information in the Application for Band Employee Benefits form and the List of Eligible Employees form.

To maintain funding eligibility, the Annual Information Report, Certified Financial Statements, and monthly remittance must be submitted directly to the Office of the Superintendent of Financial Institutions (OSFI). Funding may be withheld if OSFI reporting and remittance requirements are not met.

FUNDING FACTORS:

Canada Pension Plan (CPP) calculation:

- CPP is reimbursed based on the smaller of (but no lower than a result of $0):
- The reported Employer Contributions to the Canada Pension Plan
- The reported Employee Contributions to the Canada Pension Plan
- [(The total salary of Eligible employees) - (the number of employees' x the Basic Exemption)] x the current CPP rate
- The Maximum Annual Employee Contribution (3,249.79) x the # of employees contributing to CPP

Private Pension Plan (PPP) Calculation:

- Maximum PPP Rate 5.50%
- PPP is reimbursed based on the smaller of (but no lower than a result of $0):
- The reported Employer Contributions to the Private Pension Plan
- The reported Employee Contributions to the Private Pension Plan
- The total salary of Eligible employees' x the current PPP rate

Other Benefits (i.e. group insurance – health, dental) Insurance Calculation:

- Maximum Group Rate 2.00%
- The total salary of Eligible employees' x the Group rate only if eligible employee contributes to PPP

Administration Cost Calculation

- $125 per employee (for less than 10 employees) or
- $1,000 plus $25 per employee for over 10 employees.

Tribal Council Funding (TCF)

The Tribal Council Funding Program supports the core operations of Tribal Councils to enable them to deliver programs and services to their membership/citizens and to support their capacity development.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS:	PAW #	PAW Name	Due Date
	5814375	Tribal Council Funding Application	January 10
	n/a	Current "Certificate of Good Standing"	January 10
REPORTING DUE DATES:	DCI #	DCI Name	Due Date
	5814389	Tribal Council Funding Report	April 30

Application information:

For a work plan to be accepted, the Tribal Council must plan on delivering programs/services and supporting the capacity enhancement of its member First Nations. Work plans consisting of only core administration costs are not eligible.

Contact information:

Manager, Funding Services	236-330-1562
Allocation Officer	236-785-9278

Funding Methodology:

Funding levels will be determined by the value of eligible expenditures described in the Tribal Council work plan, and by the funding formula, which is calculated according to the following three factors:

1. the number of member First Nations;
2. the total on-reserve population of the member First Nations; and
3. the number of ongoing major programs delivered by each Tribal Council.

	TIER 1	TIER 2	TIER 3
TOTAL FUNDING	$200,000	$350,000	$500,000
TO BE ELIGIBLE:	Must meet ALL of the following: • Serve an on-reserve population less than 2,000; • Serve two to five First Nations; and • Deliver up to three ongoing ISC programs.	Must meet ONE or MORE of the following: • Serve an on-reserve population of 2,000 to 5,500; or • Serve six to eight First Nations; or • Deliver three to five ongoing ISC programs.	Must meet ONE or MORE of the following: • Serve an on-reserve population totaling more than 5,500; or • Serves nine or more First Nations; or • Deliver six or more ongoing ISC programs.

Professional & Institutional Development (P&ID)

The Professional and Institutional Development (P&ID) program is a proposal-based contribution program implemented through projects. The P&ID program seeks to develop the capacity of First Nations and Inuit communities to perform core functions of government such as planning and risk management, leadership and financial management. Some examples of typical P&ID projects include: Governance training for newly elected leadership, development or updating of financial or HR policies, development or updating of custom election codes and training in strategic planning.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS AND SUPPORTING DOCUMENTS	PAW #	PAW Name	Due Date
	638262	Project or Work Plan Funding Application (2026-2027 fiscal year) Quotes required for requests for Consultant Fees, Purchases and/or Training Long Term Community Plan (optional)	Call for Proposals distributed in the winter of the current the fiscal year Program continues to accept proposals throughout the fiscal year until program budget is fully allocated
REPORTING DUE DATES:	DCI #	DCI Name	Due Date
	4548549	Activity and Expenditure Report – Professional & Institutional Development	May 31

Application Information:

First Nations with a Block and NFR Grant funded agreement are eligible to apply.
Applications must include information on project activities, deliverables, budget and timeline.
P&ID projects are to be completed within the fiscal year the funding is received.
Applicants may submit more than one P&ID proposal per fiscal year; applications should note the priority of each proposal.

For more information please see the Professional and Institutional Development Program: Program guidelines (sac-isc.gc.ca)

Contact Information:

General Inquiries: bcregionpid@sac-isc.gc.ca

Funding Methodology:

A call for proposals is sent out annually and is open throughout the fiscal year. All eligible submissions will be evaluated by the P&ID committee using the terms and conditions of the program and the program guidelines. Community needs, applicant funding history, status of P&ID final reporting and availability of program funding are also considered during the evaluation process. Proposals received earlier in the application period may be more likely to be approved for funding than those submitted later.

Additional Information:

The P&ID program typically only considers projects or portions of projects that can be completed within one fiscal year. Program funding for a current year's activities should not be interpreted as a guarantee that the department will fund related activities for upcoming fiscal years. P&ID program funding should not be relied upon as a source of ongoing revenue. Activities that provide training, resources or services for a specific departmental program (health, child education, business development, etc.) are not eligible for funding.

Estates Management

The Estates Management Funding Program supports estates management related activities.

Funding can be provided to:

- Develop skills for effective governance of estates programs;
- Support activities aimed at informing First Nation members on the benefits of estate planning and the importance of writing wills; and
- Increase the role of First Nations in the administration of the estates of deceased individuals and of the estates of those who have been declared, by provincial or territorial laws, to be incapable of managing their property.

Headquarters will contact First Nations directly when funding becomes available.

Note: ISC headquarters provides final approval.

Indian Registration and Band Lists

These resources enable First Nations to provide registration and status card services to community members by employing a Community-Based Registration Administrator directly or through a Tribal Council. Community-Based Registration Administrators must be certified by the Department before assuming their duties.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS:	PAW #	PAW Name	Due Date

REPORTING ADDITIONAL INFORMATION: (if applicable)	First Nations are required to report information to the regional office in accordance with the Indian Act and Community-Based Registration Administrator training. Each First Nation must submit supporting documentation to the regional office along with a data entry report for every change event.

Contact Information:

Indian Registration and Band Lists: bcirbl@sac-isc.gc.ca or call 236-330-9961

Funding Methodology:

Funding is only available to retain the services of one or more Community-Based Registration Administrators. The service may be delivered by the First Nation or Tribal Council. When the service is delivered by both the First Nation and a Tribal Council, the entire amount will be funded to the organization chosen by the First Nation.

Allocations are based on the national formula of $7.07 per capita (registered individuals as of December 31st) plus up to $15.00 per compensable event (processed during the previous calendar year). First Nations and Tribal Councils whose allocations are calculated at under $5,000 will receive $5,000.

Example: 800 registered individuals times $7.07 equals $5,656 plus 20 compensable events times $15.00 equals $300 for a total of $5,956. The total funding allocation would be $5,956.

NOTE: Compensable events include births, deaths, marriages, divorces, band transfers, and Secure Certificate of Indian Status applications aided by a Community-Based Registration Administrators that result in the issuance of a status card. Events reported by one First Nation on behalf of another First Nation are split events: the reporting First Nation and the affected First Nation(s) will split $15.00.

First Nations with a Block or a NFR Grant funding agreement have this program built into their core funding.

General Information & What's New

Community Infrastructure is responsible for investing in First Nations infrastructure and housing, providing funding to mitigate health and safety risks, and promoting the responsible management of assets.

BC Region Project Submission In-Box

BC Region has centralized email addresses to accept and process capital and housing projects.

- For capital project applications and supporting documentation, please submit to: Projetsdimmobilisationscb-capitalprojectsbc@sac-isc.gc.ca
- For housing applications and supporting documentation, please submit to: HousingBC-logementcb@sac-isc.gc.ca

Reference materials have been posted to Naut'sa mawt Tribal Council's website:

- Capital project applications, check lists and terms of reference can be found at https://www.nautsamawt.org/practicalguidetocapitalprojects.
- Housing applications, and the Practical Guide to Housing Support can be found at https://www.nautsamawt.org/practicalguidetohousingsupports.

Housing Support Program – Allowance of Stacking up to 100%

Effective July 2025, ISC BC Region has lifted stacking restrictions for housing projects. First Nations can now combine ISC funding with other government sources (e.g., BC Housing, CMHC) up to 100% of project costs for projects funded on or after April 1, 2025. This change responds to feedback from BC First Nations and addresses rising construction costs.

Note: Other funding partners may have their own requirements or limitations. We encourage you to consult directly with those partners to confirm their specific conditions. If you have questions about how this change may impact your current or future housing projects, please reach out to your ISC Regional Housing Officer or the BC Housing Inbox at HousingBC-logementcb@sac-isc.gc.ca for further information and support.

Tendering Policy for ISC-Funded Capital Projects – Update

As of April 1, 2026, the updated Policy on Tendering for First Nations' Federally Funded Capital Projects (https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1777043954217/1777044067367) came into effect to address concerns raised by First Nations and ISC regional office regarding the procurement of professional and contracting services for capital projects funded by ISC through the Capital Facilities and Maintenance Program (CFMP) and First Nations Infrastructure Fund (FNIF).

The tendering policy is supported by 5 appendices:

(bullet) Appendix 1: Guidelines for the Development of Fist Nations' Own Tendering Policies

(bullet) Appendix 2: Developing and Evaluating Business Plans

(bullet) Appendix 3: Thresholds for Professional Services and Construction

(bullet) Appendix 4: Best Practices to Support the Implementation of the Tendering Policy

(bullet) Appendix 5: Additional Guidance on Evaluating Bids and Proposals

To obtain a copy of the updated tendering policy and its appendices, please contact your Capital Management Officer (CMO).

Investments for Self-Governing and Modern Treaty First Nations

Budget 2022 announced an investment of $4 billion over seven years, starting in 2022-2023, to Indigenous Services Canada (ISC) and Crown-Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada (CIRNAC) to accelerate work in closing Indigenous housing gaps. This funding was divided as follows:

- $2.4 billion over five years to support First Nations housing on reserves;
- $565 million over five years to support housing in First Nations Self-Governing and Modern Treaty Holders communities;
- $845 million over seven years to support housing in Inuit communities; and
- $190 million over seven years for housing in Metis communities.

From the funds set aside for Self-Governing and Modern Treaty (SGMT) First Nations communities, they received a distinctions-based allocation through an amendment to their fiscal financing agreement with Canada and is representative of their portion of the $4 billion announced in Budget 2022.

As a recipient of a funding investments, SGMT First Nations are not eligible for additional targeted funding initiatives that are sourced from the $4 billion announced for Indigenous Infrastructure in Budget 2021 and Budget 2022.

Self-Government and Treaty First Nations should share capital and housing proposals submitted to ISC with CIRNAC to ensure alignment and to avoid duplication of funding. Nothing precludes SGMT First Nation from applying to ISC capital and housing programs where they have not drawn down A-base investments through their fiscal arrangement, but applications will be subject to priority and availability of funding.

Community Facilities

First Nations Infrastructure Investment Plan (FNIIP)

The First Nations Infrastructure Investment Plan (FNIIP) is a national Indigenous Services Canada (ISC) initiative designed to apply a consistent approach to short- and medium-term planning and budget forecasting. The FNIIP is a useful tool to support First Nations infrastructure and housing planning processes and allows the Department to better forecast infrastructure needs.

FNIIP is a 5-year plan that is based on a First Nation's community priorities. First Nations, along with BC Region's Capital Management Officer (CMO) work on the development of a plan based on community needs and priorities that may include drinking water, housing and education facilities. The FNIIP provides an opportunity for Chief and Council to review their capital program each year and amend their plan to continue to address the changing needs of their community. First Nations are encouraged to submit a FNIIP at least every other year to communicate their priorities to Community Infrastructure. Projects that should be included in the FNIIP are described on the following pages.

The projects are assessed against national priorities. The national priority-ranking criteria is used to determine which projects are selected within the available resource levels for the next five fiscal years. The national priorities include:

- Mitigating health and safety risks through existing and new assets;
- Protecting and maintaining the life cycles of existing assets, emphasizing health and safety;
- Addressing backlogs of water and sewage Capital Facilities and Management Program (CFMP) activities; and
- Investing in sustainable communities (e.g. housing, electrification, roads, education and community facilities) and community capacity enhancement.

Protocol for ISC-Funded Infrastructure (PIFI)

The Protocol for ISC-Funded Infrastructure (PIFI) is an omnibus protocol that is referenced in the funding agreement for First Nations. It lists all the policies, protocols, guidelines, applicable laws, regulations and standards applicable to the Capital Facilities and Maintenance Program (CFMP). ISC employees provide advice to eligible recipients regarding compliance with these requirements. First Nations follow the PIFI as part of their overall funding agreement. The PIFI will be updated over time as references are amended and new regulations and standards are adopted.

The Protocol for ISC-Funded Infrastructure can be found at the following site:
https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1409148994545/1533650060879

Capital Facilities and Maintenance Program (CFMP)

The Capital Facilities and Maintenance Program (CFMP) provides financial assistance to plan, construct and/or acquire, and operate and maintain community capital facilities and services (infrastructure, including schools) and housing (residential) consistent with approved policies and standards.

ISC's policies and procedures relating to the CFMP are set out in several frameworks, mainly the Department's Level of Service Standards (LOSS), the protocols for water and wastewater, and the school space accommodation standards. The Department's policy, as stated in the LOSS, is to support and assist First Nations in providing basic community services comparable to the levels of services that would generally be available in non-First Nations communities of similar size and circumstances.

In managing the CFMP, the Department is in conformance with the Indian and Inuit Affairs Program (IIAP) Environment Policy and associated guidelines. In the absence of applicable federal, provincial or territorial environmental legislative requirements, ISC will adopt best environmental practices and principles. The CFMP must also comply with the Department's Sustainable Development Strategy and support national efforts toward climate change.

The objective of the CFMP is to provide financial support to First Nations and other eligible recipients to:

- Invest in physical assets (or services) that mitigate health and safety risks in their communities;
- Ensure that assets meet established codes and standards;
- Ensure that assets are managed in a cost-effective and efficient manner that protects, maintains and maximizes asset life cycle; and
- Ensure that these activities are undertaken in an environmentally sound and sustainable manner.

FNIIP plans should also include projects or initiatives that support the sustainable development of community infrastructure, such as Asset Management Plans. The major categories for capital projects on the FNIIP are:

- Water and wastewater
- Housing
- Education Facilities
- Roads and Bridges
- Structural Mitigation
- Electrification
- Solid Waste Disposal
- Fire Protection
- Subdivisions
- Community Buildings

If there is an existing infrastructure asset, operations and maintenance funding is provided annually.

	460674	Annual Report (contact regional office for regional report) First Nations Infrastructure Investment Plan (FNIIP)	September 30

Application Information:

After projects are identified in the FNIIP, and discussions with the Capital Management Officer and a Senior Engineer, First Nations will be encouraged to submit a project application, subject to the asset category priority ranking and the availability of funding.

Project Stage Application:

To receive project approval, funding applications are required at each project stage (Feasibility, Pre- Design/Design, and Construction/Acquisition). Project submissions must meet all ISC's project application requirements. Typically, these include confirmation of compliance with Level of Service Standard (LOSS) guidelines and a technical merit assessment. LOSS guidelines can be found on the ISC's national web page at https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1100100010585/1533644999181.
Please submit your capital project applications and supporting documentation to: Projetsdimmobilisationscb-capitalprojectsbc@sac-isc.gc.ca

Life Cycle Cost Considerations:

The intent of Life Cycle Cost (LCC) analysis is to demonstrate that a proposed technical solution provides value-for-money when compared to all the potential solutions that would achieve the same project objectives. As such, all viable options should be considered by the project team, including but not limited to:

- Decentralized systems
- Municipal Type Service Agreements
- Renovations to existing facilities
- Other applicable options

As part of a feasibility study, proponents will analyze all projected capital, operations, and maintenance costs over a common time horizon (generally the expected lifetime of the asset in question). In cases where Life Cycle Cost considerations are required in an asset-specific document (e.g., Level of Service Standards), those considerations should prevail.

Funding Information:

Funding is project-based and allocated in accordance with eligibility requirements. All approved projects will be funded based on an approved cash flow projection by the First Nation.

A project risk score is determined via the CFMP Project Risk Assessment Tool. The Tool requires the input of the results of the General Assessment Tool (which assesses recipient risk) as one of many elements of the assessment used to identify and mitigate risks associated with capital projects. With the Project Risk Assessment Tool, Capital Management Officers, and Senior Engineering staff can identify overall risk ratings for a capital project in a First Nation community. The score is then used to determine the type of contribution approach that may be used (fixed, flexible, or set) and the required approval process.

For projects selected to receive funding, recipients must manage the project to completion, ensuring that construction adheres to federal and provincial standards and that the capital asset will be operated and maintained using maintenance management plans.

First Nations Infrastructure Fund (FNIF)

The First Nation Infrastructure Fund (FNIF) helps First Nation communities develop, improve and increase their public infrastructure to improve the quality of life for their communities. FNIF also funds projects off-reserve that are cost-shared with non-First Nation partners, such as neighboring municipalities, or other Indigenous partners (such as self-governing First Nations or Inuit organizations).

FNIF was created as a complementary source of funding to the Capital Facilities and Maintenance Program (CFMP) for the following categories of infrastructures projects: planning and skills development; solid waste management; roads and bridges; energy systems; connectivity; structural mitigation; and cultural and recreational facilities.

There is no need to apply. Projects are identified, reviewed and selected by ISC regional offices based on the First Nations Infrastructure Investment Plan (FNIIP) and priority ranking. In some cases, the regional offices, in consultation with the First Nations communities, may identify projects that are not documented in a FNIIP. These projects are screened for eligibility and assessed by the same criteria as projects received through the FNIIPs.

How Are Projects Assessed Once They Are Considered Eligible?

Priority may be given to projects that, having met the mandatory and eligibility criteria, also:

- Target high-needs communities;
- Have a regional impact by providing a benefit for more than one First Nation and/or cross regional boundaries;
- Are cost-shared (for example, a neighboring municipality, the private sector) and/or supplement funding with a contribution of own-source revenue from the First Nation;
- Align with regional priorities (e.g., municipal, provincial, federal); and/or
- Demonstrate the potential to partner with neighboring communities.

Structural Mitigation Program

Structural mitigation projects are intended to support community health and safety, protect infrastructure assets, and support community resilience through strategic investment planning.

Structural mitigation projects are permanent infrastructure projects that modify hazards, including (1) removing, reducing or eliminating them; (2) segregating hazards by keeping them away from people and infrastructure assets; and, (3) altering the design and construction of infrastructure assets to make them more resilient to potential hazards.

Funding Information:

Regions prepare and update plans which prioritize ranked projects. Priority will be given to investments that help maximize the life cycle of physical assets, mitigate health and safety risks, ensure assets meet applicable codes and standards, and ensure assets are managed cost-effectively and efficiently.

Communities will need to demonstrate that the proposed projects will protect community assets from potential natural hazards. Projects will be prioritized based on the Structural Mitigation Program Funding Framework and ranked using the Structural Mitigation Ranking Tool (SMRT) for national prioritization for construction. As there will be insufficient funds to address all projects in a given fiscal year, the SMRT will provide a fair and transparent process to identify which projects will be approved.

Education Assets and Facilities

Education capital funding provides for the design, construction and upgrading of First Nation operated elementary/secondary schools on reserve. First Nations must identify school projects in their First Nations Infrastructure and Investment Plan (FNIIP). Funding recommendations are based on variables that include: the current general condition and the estimated years remaining of the existing school asset; existing overcrowding; and, anticipated student Nominal Roll populations. These will be assessed through a national School Priority Ranking Framework (SPRF). New projects, not already underway, will have to consider the 2023 updated School Space Accommodation Standards (SASS) which includes the completion of a demographic study by a qualified demographer. The primary focus/ranking of school projects is centered on immediate health and safety needs.

Funding Methodology:

Funding is project-based and allocated in accordance with eligibility requirements. All approved projects will be funded based on an approved cash flow projection by the First Nation.

Additional Funding Information:

First Nations submit their FNIIP with the proposed school project, including planned grade distribution. BC Region will assess against Regional and National prioritization variables, including completing an SPRF. If approved, a formal application will be required. For additional information about the proposal and application process, contact your Capital Management Officer. Eligible projects are identified, reviewed and selected by ISC regional offices based on the FNIIP's annual process and priority ranking. Potential projects are assessed by criteria such as the following, although other factors may also be considered:

- level of cost sharing or use of alternative financing models;
- use of alternative procurement models (e.g., design-build); and
- use of alternative construction models (e.g., modular or prefabricated buildings).

Housing

ISC BC Region's Housing Support Program (HSP) provides funding support for housing related projects through the allocation of subsidies. The HSP was designed to support First Nations along a continuum of sustainable housing to develop and implement longer term housing strategies, and to be flexible in supporting housing related capacity enhancement and training, including the creation of housing policies and plans. The HSP also supports housing renovations (regular and health & safety), new home construction and energy efficiency projects. Eligible energy efficiency upgrades that can demonstrate increased energy efficiency to the home may include a heat pump, roofing, exterior doors, siding, new windows, and insulation. The HSP has two (2) separate applications. Each application targets the continuum of sustainable housing from planning to construction. First Nations applicants complete the relevant application(s) which support the housing priorities in their community:

- Governance & Capacity Application: Supports the creation of housing policies and plans, as well as training/capacity enhancement.
- Housing Support Project Application: Provides a subsidy towards new home construction or purchase, regular and health and safety renovations, energy efficiency renovations and is inclusive of building inspection costs.

Due to the increased requests for housing funding, the annual level of funding commitments is subject to available to regional Community Infrastructure budgets. Please note, that ISC BC Region does not accept applications from individual First Nations members and that we encourage those members to work with their First Nations Administration for supporting and/or resolving their housing needs.

Funding Methodology:

Funding is allocated in accordance with program eligibility requirements. First Nations with a Block or a NFR Grant funding arrangement, a portion of the capital core is to be allocated towards housing needs.

Additional Funding Information:

All housing construction projects are required to be inspected to meet or exceed the current British Columbia building and fire codes. As ISC's funding for inspections may not cover the full cost of inspection services, First Nations are advised to confirm rates of independent inspectors in advance to ensure construction budgets allow for all necessary inspections. The number and type of inspections vary according to the scope of the project but include site, foundation, framing, electrical, plumbing, insulation, fire, lock-up, and others through to the completion certificate for occupancy.

Inspectors must have a valid certification through the BC Building Officials Association (BOABC) www.boabc.org. Where a certified BOABC building inspector is not available, ISC may consider the First Nation's use of a skilled and qualified inspector who is in good standing with a recognized professional industry organization, such as a professional engineer or architect, to perform BC Building Code inspections or other required regulatory inspections for the project.

Other federal/provincial agencies or programs, such as Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC), BC Housing - Indigenous, the First Nations Market Housing Fund (FNMHF), and Partners in Indigenous Energy Efficiency & Resilience (PIEER), can provide funding support for construction, renovation, energy efficiency rebates, or capacity building.

Further to the Housing Support Program, additional streams of funding for housing include:

First Nations Housing Management & Capacity Enhancement Funding

The First Nations Housing Management & Capacity Enhancement funding has been confirmed for 2023-2024 and was scheduled to sunset at the end of 2026-2027. Budget 2024 Housing Capacity Enhancement now provides a continuation of this funding through 2028-2029 to better support effective management of housing on reserve, which is a key component of closing the infrastructure gap between Indigenous and non- Indigenous communities.

BC Region has decided to apply a 5% escalator to the amount you received in 2023-2024 each subsequent year until the end of 2028-2029.

This is a direct allocation, with no requirement for an application. Funding is intended to support the hiring of a housing manager or supplement an existing housing manager's salary. There is flexibility to use the funds for other housing management considerations, such as supporting additional housing-related positions when a fully-funded Housing Manager is already in place, or supporting other housing management activities in communities where creating a Housing Manager position is not yet feasible.

First Nations Children's Housing Fund

The First Nations Children's Housing Fund is allocated annually through an amendment to the existing funding arrangement and is set to expire on March 31, 2028. Funding is intended to meet the expressed needs of housing for children and youth at risk through the following activities: purchase, construction and/or renovations of homes, major/minor repairs, lot servicing, and subdivision development.

Housing Technical Services Funding

The Housing Technical Services Funding began in 2025-2026 and has been confirmed until the end of 2026-2027. These funds intend to further support First Nations in BC with achieving their housing priorities and enhancing their housing technical services capacity. Categories of funding include: technical support services, technical service delivery hubs, circuit rider initiatives or programs, and technical services initiatives or programs.

Ministerial Loan Guarantee

The department can provide Ministerial Loan Guarantees (MLG) to secure financing for on-reserve housing loans. Departmental information on MLGs can be found at the following link: Ministerial Loan Guarantees (sac-isc.gc.ca)

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS:	PAW #	PAW Name	Due Date
	Applications for MLG's must be submitted to ISC by the First Nations for both individual and First Nation housing projects.

Funding Methodology:

ISC administers the Ministerial Loan Guarantee program to provide the loan security needed by lenders when providing financing to First Nations or individual First Nation members for construction, acquisition or renovation of housing located on the reserve.

Extended Asset Condition Reporting System (E-ACRS)

All on-reserve community assets that are recorded in the Integrated Capital Management System (ICMS), formerly the Capital Asset Inventory System (CAIS), and receiving operations and maintenance (O&M) funding are inspected every three years. Experienced and qualified contractors inspect the condition of the community assets and identify maintenance works that need to be completed to maintain the assets in good operating condition. Inspections begin in April and end in September. In 2026-2027 E-ACRS inspections will take place in 67 First Nations located in Vancouver Island - Sunshine Coast and North Coast BC.

ISC provides additional funding for E-ACRS identified projects that address health and safety concerns related to major repairs or replacements of components of water and wastewater systems; fire protection assets; and school facilities ("E-ACRS Group 2 Priority Maintenance Projects"), depending on the arrangement type of the recipient:

[2] The first E-ACRS cycle of a First Nation entering a NFR Grant Funding Agreement is considered transitional, and the First Nation is eligible to apply for additional capital funding to complete E- ACRS Group 2 Priority Projects for water and wastewater, schools and fire protection assets.

[3] First Nations with a Block-funding agreements entering a NFR Grant funding agreement will be funded for E-ACRS Group 2 Priority Projects as per their Block funding agreement and must complete water, wastewater, fire protection and school Priority Projects using their minor capital allocation.

[2,3] Moving forward E-ACRS Group 2 Priority Projects for all asset types must be addressed within the minor capital Grant allocation. E-ACRS inspections will continue to support the operations and maintenance and asset management of a community's infrastructure.

Water and Wastewater Systems

First Nations Water and Wastewater Enhanced Program (FNWWEP)

The First Nations Water and Wastewater Enhanced Program (FNWWEP) supports First Nations communities to ensure they have access to safe and reliable drinking water. ISC BC Region will continue its efforts to maintain zero long-term drinking water advisories and support First Nation water and wastewater projects, including annual assessment of existing water and wastewater facilities; strengthen capacity for water and wastewater operators; review of existing policies related to small water and septic systems and agreements for water and wastewater services.

The FNWWEP will continue over the next three years and capital resources will be committed to supporting programs focused on developing strategies that will help with community water and wastewater systems. Financial support is available for systems that provide service for community housing on First Nation lands of at least five homes.

Funding Methodology:

Funding is project based and will be allocated in accordance with the First Nation Infrastructure Investment Plan (FNIIP). Priority will be given to high-risk projects identified in the regional FNIIP.

Water and Wastewater Systems

Safe Drinking Water and Wastewater Systems

Safe drinking water and wastewater systems are a priority for BC Region's Community Infrastructure Program. In the Federal Budget 2025, an additional three-year investment was committed to on-reserve water and wastewater infrastructure to address health and safety needs, ensure proper facility operation and maintenance, and to end long-term drinking water advisories on reserve.

Annual Performance Inspections

Annual inspections are required as part of ISC's water and wastewater protocols to track system performance, deficiencies and the progress of system risk ranking in the Integrated Capital Management System (ICMS) for each community water and wastewater system. In BC Region these inspections are undertaken by consultants. The Annual Performance Inspection report is distributed to Chief and Council at the end of each fiscal year.

Circuit Rider Training Program (CRTP)

The Circuit Rider Training Program is a long-term capacity enhancement program that provides on-site training and mentoring services to operators of First Nation's drinking water and wastewater systems. Qualified experts rotate through a circuit of First Nation's communities, training the people responsible for operating, monitoring and maintaining drinking water and wastewater systems. Participation in the CRTP is encouraged where operators may benefit from additional support to achieve and maintain certification, or where the Annual Performance Inspection of the water or wastewater system indicates the need to work on operations and maintenance, operator training to enhance their experience to operate and maintain the facility in an appropriate, effective, and safe manner or recording data and providing the required reports. For more information please contact the Circuit Rider Training Program at: bccicrtp@sac-isc.gc.ca

Operator Training and Certification Program

This program complements the on-site support provided under the Circuit Rider Training Program. The Operator Training and Certification Program aims to develop operator knowledge and skills through classroom training, leading to operator certification under the Environmental Operators Certification Program (EOCP). For more information please contact the Operator Training and Certification Program at: bcoperators@sac-isc-gc.ca

Operations & Maintenance (O&M)

General Information & What's New

Urgent O&M Funding Requests

Additional funding requests can be submitted to address urgent situations that affect the health, safety or security of a First Nation and its infrastructure. Examples of urgent situations include a main distribution line that breaks during a cold snap, a drinking water well with a failed pump, or an entire control system that is knocked out by a surge of electricity. These are situations that impact the safe delivery of services to membership and are within the scope of minor capital / maintenance. For these situations, First Nations are requested to immediately inform their Circuit Rider (if water and wastewater related) and Capital Management Officer (CMO) of the event, and if possible, to assess the scope of work, estimated expenditures, and determine if eligible for reimbursement. In many cases, due to the urgency of the event, First Nations may need to resolve the issues prior to discussions with ISC. Once the situation is under control, the First Nation can submit to the CMO details of the required repairs, along with costs incurred and invoices to request reimbursement for eligible expenses.

First Nations with a Block-funding arrangement or an NFR Grant funding arrangement may submit an Urgent O&M funding request if they have expended a majority of their minor capital on addressing their outstanding E-ACRS Group 2 Priority Maintenance Projects for their water, wastewater, and fire protection assets.

O&M Funding Package

An annual O&M funding package will be sent to communities by the beginning of the fiscal year to support the operations and maintenance of community infrastructure assets and services and ensure First Nations' leadership and public works managers have a timely breakdown of O&M funding by asset on a yearly basis so they can make effective financial decisions regarding infrastructure in their communities.

The O&M funding package includes: a summary of your community's O&M initial funding included in your funding arrangement and lists of funded assets, outstanding asset deficiencies identified during the last E-ACRS inspection and Municipal Type Service Agreements (MTSAs), if applicable. This package also includes an O&M Program Overview document which explains the O&M program's key concepts, the funded asset list and funding methodology; and other related O&M related documents.

Sharing this information with individuals directly involved in maintaining your community's infrastructure services, will assist in improving maintenance plans and procedures.

NFR Grant Infrastructure O&M Rebase Requests

In recent years, ISC BC Region has heard from First Nation communities that the O&M funding in a community's NFR Grant funding arrangement, including the NFR Grant escalator, may not be sufficient due to operational needs or cost increases. Recognizing this may be an obstacle for some First Nations communities, in 2024-2025 ISC BC Region approved guidelines which enable NFR Grant First Nations to request a rebase of your community's O&M funding.

NFR Grant recipients may request a rebase of their infrastructure O&M budget activity for both water/wastewater and other community infrastructure (OCI) which includes Municipal Type Service Agreements (MTSA), ISC O&M funded assets and fire protection subsidy funding, as applicable, and subject to funding availability. Please note, a funding adjustment will only be considered if the total adjustment is 10% or higher than your community's current O&M allocation, including the escalator amount. To request a 2026-2027 NFR Grant O&M Infrastructure O&M Rebase Application package, please email the Allocation Officer after April 1, 2026 at: bcfsppallocationofficer@sac-isc.gc.ca. The application deadline for 2026-2027 is September 30, 2026.

Operation and Maintenance (O&M) of Infrastructure Assets and Facilities

Support is provided for the operation and maintenance (O&M) of community facilities and infrastructures such as community buildings or water treatment systems, and community assets such as fire trucks. Eligible assets for O&M funding are listed in the Cost Reference Manual for O&M posted on line.

Process for Updating the Asset Inventory:

At the conclusion of capital projects that include ISC funding support the resulting eligible capital assets are recorded in the Integrated Capital Management System (ICMS). Once recorded in the ICMS database, the assets will receive O&M funding and be part of the E-ACRS inspections.

Application process for Assets resulting from capital projects funded by third parties:

First Nations should contact and inform the Capital Management Officer (CMO) of any third parties investments (i.e.: no funding support from ISC) related to infrastructure and community buildings at the earlier stages of community consultations, in the event the Nation contemplates applying for O&M funding. The CMO will advise on the technical documentation that is required to be submitted to ISC for review, on eligible assets for O&M, and availability of O&M funding. When all conditions are met and the required documentation has been reviewed and deemed complete by a Senior Engineer, the resulting asset may be added to the ICMS Asset Inventory. This means that once the asset is added, the Department funds O&M for that asset going forward, and the asset is eligible for E-ACRS inspections.

Contact Information:

Capital Management Officer (CMO)	1-800-665-9320 (Toll-free) Press #5 for Community Infrastructure

Funding Methodology:

The O&M funding is captured in the non-Block/non-NFR Grant First Nation arrangements on an annual basis. First Nations with a Block or a NFR Grant funding agreement have this program built into their core funding.

Funding is based on formula funding calculations (see Funding Calculation on the next page) and cost-sharing criteria:

	Cost-shared Funding Levels
Asset Type	ISC Subsidies	First Nation Contribution
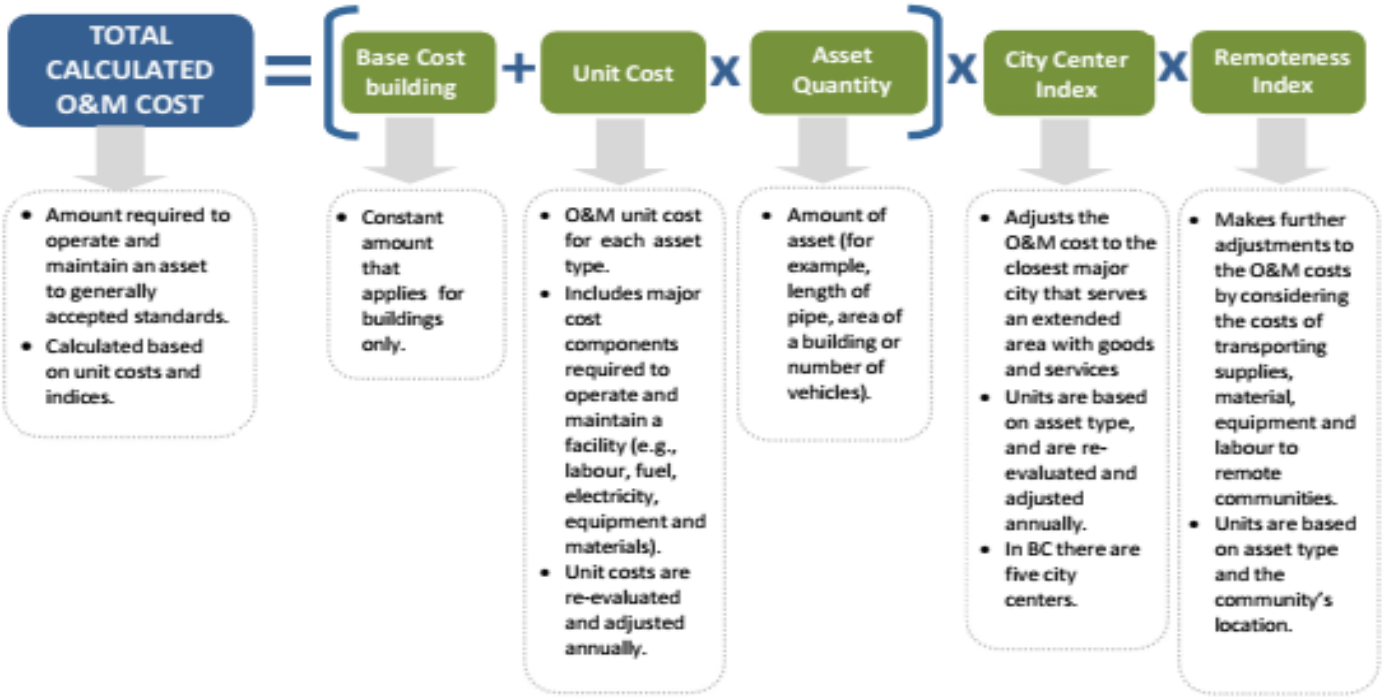
Teacherages	100%	0%
Fire Protection	90%	10%
Roads/Bridges	90%	10%
Community Electrical Services	90%	10%
Water/Wastewater	100%	0%
Solid Waste	80%	20%
Dykes	90%	10%

Community Buildings	45%	55%

NOTE: O&M funding for school facilities is included in the funding provided under the BC Tripartite Education Agreement (BCTEA).

How is O&M funding calculated for eligible assets?

To determine the O&M contribution funds for eligible assets the information contained in the ICMS Asset Inventory is applied against an O&M funding formula:



Municipal Type Service Agreements (MTSA)

ISC supports the purchase of essential municipal services from a neighboring local government, private contractor, individual or third-party that provides municipal services. These services include:

- Water supply and distribution
- Wastewater collection and disposal
- Fire (structural) suppression services
- Garbage collection and disposal (landfill fees)
- Recycling services
- Street lighting services
- 9-1-1 emergency telephone dispatch services
- Other: Maintenance of railway crossings (on roads to residential areas)

Contact Information:

Allocation Officer	bcfsppallocationofficer@sac-isc.gc.ca
Capital Management Officer	1-800-665-9320 (Toll-free) Press #5 for Community Infrastructure

Funding Methodology:

On April 1 each year, 100% of MTSA funding for non-Block/non-NFR Grant recipients will be calculated based on a community's approved allocation from the prior year, including an annual 2% MTSA adjustment factor. First Nations can apply for additional funding if the community's combined total eligible municipal service costs for new or existing services have increased 10% or more than the approved MTSA funding currently allocated to the community. Adjustments may be made after the MTSA funding application review process is complete. To apply for additional funding, a 2026-2027 MTSA Application Package may be requested by emailing the Allocation Officer at the beginning of June 2026 at bcfsppallocationofficer@sac-isc.gc.ca.

MTSA applications are reviewed for the reasonableness of the funding request, the level of service requested and compliance with the policies in the Capital Facilities and Maintenance Program. Funding is based on the cost of services identified in an MTSA or in supporting invoices, which is funded at 100% by ISC for eligible costs. Only the portion of the MTSA which services First Nation member residences will be funded.

First Nations with a Block or NFR Grant funding arrangement have their MTSA funding built into their annual agreement, if applicable.

Fire Protection

ISC's Capital Facilities and Maintenance Program can provide funding support for fire protection services to First Nations communities. ISC BC Region's funding for Tier 1: Home Fire Protection and Tier 2: Community Fire Protection is allocated through an annual subsidy of $60 per household, as part of a community's annual funding agreement, to assist with the costs of fire protection in First Nations. The general Fire Protection funding subsidy may be used for:

- Community fire prevention training;
- A home fire safety inspection program;
- Installing smoke alarms, carbon monoxide detectors or maintaining fire extinguishers;
- Training community volunteers; and
- Any other activities that support community fire protections that are deemed eligible by ISC.

BC Region implemented the Fire Safety Assessment (FSA) program to assess the fire protection programs and capabilities of First Nation communities in BC and provide an overview of the existing fire protection operations as well as with recommendations on enhancing the community's overall level of fire protection.

ISC BC Region has partnered with First Nations' Emergency Services Society (FNESS) to conduct the FSA's and provide a variety of training and resources related to structural fire protection to First Nations. FNESS's structural fire protection programs support ISC's objectives to mitigate health and safety risks in First Nations communities and protect, maintain and maximize the lifecycle of community facilities and housing. FNESS supports the safety and well-being of First Nations through structural fire protection governance education, community fire safety awareness, structural fire suppression training and other related initiatives. FNESS offers a comprehensive approach to communities' structural fire protection that is consistent with BC Region's tiered approach service model for structural fire protection services in First Nations communities. Contact FNESS at www.fness.bc.ca/fire-services for more information on services related to fire protection on reserve.

ISC's Level of Service Standard (LOSS) for Fire Protection Services is the departmental directive which operates under the CFMP and aims to provide comparable service to what would be available in off-reserve communities of similar size and circumstance.

Application Information:

Any request for capital investments for fire protection that result from the Fire Safety Assessment, must be identified through the community's First Nations Infrastructure Investment Plan (FNIIP). Items supported may include fire halls, fire trucks, equipment, and tools. FSA's will be completed on a three-year cycle.

ISC may also provide funding through a subsidy of 90% of the calculated costs for operations and maintenance of fire halls, fire boxes, and fire trucks. The ongoing costs of operating and maintaining a fire department typically exceed the funding assistance that ISC can provide.

Contact Information:

Capital Management Officer (CMO)	1-800-665-9320 (Toll-free) Press #5 for Community Infrastructure

Funding Methodology:

In addition to funding provided through the FNIIP, there is an allocation of $60 per household as indicated above, to support fire protection activities.

A formula-based allocation system utilizes the Housing and Infrastructure (H&I) database to determine the number of houses on-reserve. A subsidy of $60 per house is allocated for each First Nation. The number of houses is calculated based on the previous year's Housing and Infrastructure (H&I) database collection exercise.

ISC provides annual funding to and collaboratively works with FNESS to develop and deliver a variety of structural fire protection projects which provides the opportunity to address identified gaps and build enhanced structural fire protection capacity within First Nations communities. These activities are delivered at no cost to the communities and include:

- Distribution of smoke/carbon monoxide alarms and kitchen fire extinguishers for First Nations homes;
- Public education programs for community members and leadership;
- Assistance with the development of community fire prevention programs;
- Workshops for Chief and Councils and First Nation Administrators on governance for successful fire protection planning and initiatives; and,
- Firefighter certification training.

Block and NFR Grant funded recipients must utilize their core funding to support fire protection activities.

General Information & What's New

Lands and natural resources are among the most valuable assets held by First Nations communities and their effective and sustainable use is critical for Indigenous economic development. ISC supports economic potential of Indigenous peoples, their communities and their businesses by promoting Indigenous partnerships with the provinces and territories and the private sector.

The Lands and Economic Development Directorate (LED) operates to promote and support sustainable development of First Nations lands, resources, and Indigenous economies, while protecting the environment. In Partnership with First Nations, LED works to deliver programs and services that are suited to the specific needs and objectives of each Indigenous community.

LED's operations in British Columbia are divided into three (3) major service areas: Economic Development, Lands Management, and Environment and Natural Resources. The functions of each are described below, together with the specific funding programs they offer and administrate for Indigenous Services Canada (ISC).

NOTE*: Additional details on funding for each of the programs listed below can be found later in this section, including information on how to apply to them through Indigenous Services Canada.

1. Economic Development

The Economic Development Unit supports First Nations with planning and development of economic opportunities and provides capital contributions to support ongoing jobs and revenues for First Nations communities; with funding support through following programs:

- Lands and Economic Development Services Program (LEDSP) – Core
- Lands and Economic Development Services Program (LEDSP) – Targeted
- Community Opportunity Readiness Program (CORP)

2. Lands Management

The Lands Management section is divided into 3 separate units: Lands Operations, Lands Modernization, and Program and Project Support.

The Lands Operations Unit provides a variety of land management services to those First Nations in British Columbia that continue to operate under the land and resource management provisions of the Indian Act. On this basis, Lands Operations' staff are responsible for:

- Indian Land Registry services, including the registration of leases, permits, or mortgages, as well as helping using the land registry system;
- Individual Land Holding transactions, such as allotments, transfers, and cancellations;
- Processing payments received from leasing activities, which are then transferred to First Nations and their members;
- Processing land surveys for Indian Reserve territories; and

- Monitoring and compliance activities relating to the terms and conditions included within leases and permits for reserve lands.

The Lands Modernization unit works with First Nations supporting First Nation capacity enhancement to manage reserve lands under the Indian Act, and initiatives which provide alternatives to the Indian Act. This program and initiative allow Indigenous communities to gain greater control over management of their reserve lands, resources, and environment thereby facilitating new economic development opportunities. They include:

- Reserve Land and Environment Management Program (RLEMP)
- First Nation Lands Management (FNLM)

The Program and Project Support (PPS) unit provides First Nations with services and guidance in relation to Additions to Reserve (ATR) projects, as well as land transactions authorized under Section 35 of the Indian Act. In some cases, funding for ATR projects can be authorized for

First Nations under the following ISC program, if the purpose of the reserve addition is in support of economic development initiatives: Lands and Economic Development Services Program (LEDSP).

For more information on Canada's Additions to Reserve policy and procedures, please visit: https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1332267668918/1611930372477

3. Environment and Natural Resources

The Environment and Natural Resources (ENR) unit plays a significant role in ensuring the health and safety of First Nations people by supporting programs designed to protect the natural environment on both reserve lands and other lands under ISC's jurisdiction. Environmental protection programs are delivered in partnership with First Nations, guided by federal environmental laws, regulations, policies and guidelines. In the BC Region, the ENR unit is responsible for the administration of Environmental Management and Natural Resources and Timber and Sand & Gravel Permits.

Environmental Management

The Environmental Management team works to resolve historic land contamination issues on First Nation reserve lands, ensuring ongoing compliance with federal environmental laws, and to reduce the potential for future environmental degradation. Specific services include:

- Management of Contaminated Sites
- Environmental Operations
- Waste Management and Environmental Capacity Building Workshops

Most projects on First Nation lands require an environmental assessment. These assessments are used to anticipate potentially significant environmental impacts that a project may have before the project begins. There is a departmental responsibility to meet the requirements of the Canadian Environmental Assessment Act. The department's Environmental Review Process sets out the requirements for the environmental screening and assessment of projects on reserve lands, including how measures are implemented to minimize potential impacts to the environment.

For community projects that could have a negative impact the environment, the ENR Unit also facilitates funding to BC First Nations through the following support program:

- Lands and Economic Development Services Program (LEDSP) – Targeted

For more information about ISC's environmental management visit: https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1100100034649/1612813702740

For more information on environmental assessments, visit: https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1345141628060/1612813855724

Natural Resources: Timber and Sand & Gravel Permits

Under the Indian Act, Indigenous Services Canada's statutory authority for First Nations reserve timber and non-metallic substances (such as sand or gravel) is limited to the granting of permits to cut timber or the removal of non-metallic substances on First Nations reserve lands. This includes imposing terms, conditions and restrictions on permit holders.

In granting and administering these permits, ISC works with First Nations to secure benefits for communities in the form of revenues and royalties, employment and other economic benefits, environmental protection, and forest regeneration.

The Environment and Natural Resources Unit is responsible for administering the Indian Timber Regulations and the provisions of the Indian Act to both support First Nations with the permit application process and increase Indigenous participation in the forest industry.

For more information about ISC's Environment and Natural Resources role, visit: https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1100100034243/1612298633640.

Lands and Economic Development Services Program (LEDSP) Core

The Lands and Economic Development Services Program (LEDSP) provides support to First Nation and Inuit communities who wish to increase their level of participation in their economy.

LEDSP Core funding annual allocations support operational costs for recipients to undertake economic development activities, including community economic development planning and capacity development initiatives, as well as developing proposals and managing financial resources. First Nations and Tribal Councils are eligible to apply.

Application Requirements: Annual applications are no longer required. Funds are advanced as part of Recipients' annual initial allocation.

Eligible Activities for Lands and Economic Development Services Program (LEDSP) Targeted Funding:

Lands Support

- Initiatives that support the development of community control over lands and resources.
- Initiatives that support communities undertaking the land designation process and the processing of land administrative instruments such as leases and permits under the Indian Act.
- Additions to Reserve (ATR) projects that support economic development initiatives.

Environmental Management Support

- Projects or initiatives that enhance environmental planning, awareness and support efforts towards pollution prevention on reserve, with an emphasis on waste management.
- Initiatives that support environmental management “best practices” for land and community assets on reserve.
- Initiatives designed to improve environmental regulatory compliance on-reserve.

Economic Development Support

- Initiatives that support First Nations and Inuit communities to undertake economic development activities, including capacity development and community economic development planning.

Community Opportunity Readiness Program (CORP)

Block and 10-year Grant funded applicants are eligible to apply, as CORP funding is not built into core budgets.

Reserve Land and Environment Management Program (RLEMP)

The Reserve Land and Environment Management Program (RLEMP) provides funding to First Nations to develop the capacity to manage and exercise increased responsibility over their reserve land, resources and environment pursuant to the legislative requirements of the Indian Act. For those First Nations that are accepted into the program, funding is available to train and certify a professional land manager as well as on-going funding to support land and environmental activities.

First Nations seeking to participate in RLEMP must apply by submitting an RLEMP Expression of Interest Form to the ISC BC Regional office (see link below). If accepted into the program, the First Nation must also submit a Band Council Resolution consenting to all of the Terms and Conditions of the Program.

RLEMP has been designed to provide support funding to a First Nation to operate a lands office while building their capacity to manage land activities such as land use planning, environmental monitoring, and compliance management.

Lands Modernization staff with Indigenous Services Canada processes RLEMP applications, funding, reporting and compliance with the Statement of Work: Roles and Responsibilities for the program. Lands Operations staff provides the ongoing technical support to First Nations that are accepted into the RLEMP, where necessary, and this can include training and transaction review services.

Lands Modernization Team: modernisationdesterres-landsmodernization@sac-isc.gc.ca

Funding Methodology:

Following Budget 2023 announcement of $30 million for RLEMP over five years, Indigenous Services Canada is implementing a base-level of funding for each level of responsibility of the program, starting in FY 2023-24.

The new minimum level of funding is intended to support participating First Nations to meet their responsibilities within the program and to support First Nations to exercise increased responsibility over their lands, resources, and environment. Annual funding in RLEMP will continue to be determined using a formula that considers a First Nation's population, reserve land area, land instruments (i.e. leases, permits, certificates of possession, etc.) registered in the Indian Land Registry System, and community-based plans.

Different rates of funding will apply depending on the level of responsibilities (i.e., training and development level, operational level, etc.) obtained by the First Nation. Additional funds (subject to availability) can be provided to First Nations who wish to undertake the development and implementation of a Land Use Plan, a Community Environmental Sustainability Plan and a Compliance Framework.

The RLEMP Expression of Interest Form is available on ISC's website, or downloadable at the link here, and can be submitted to the nearest regional office once complete. There is no deadline to apply, and forms may be submitted at any time.

First Nations Land Management (FNLM)

First Nations Land Management (FNLM) enables First Nations to transition away from the application of the 44 sections of the Indian Act relating to land, resource, and environmental management through the Framework Agreement on First Nation Land Management. First Nations can then develop their own laws about land use, the environment and natural resources, and take advantage of cultural and economic development opportunities with their new land management authorities.

The Land Advisory Board (LAB) and the First Nation Land Management Resource Centre (FNLMRC) are Indigenous-led organizations which support First Nations that want to enter the FNLM initiative. The Lands Advisory Board established and provides strategic direction to the Resource Centre as the technical and professional support to First Nations as they develop and implement their land codes.

The completion of a Band Council Resolution is the first step for communities to be considered for entry into the initiative. Completed Band Council Resolutions are accepted on an ongoing basis.

Opting into FNLM

Participating First Nations are provided with funding to develop a land code, negotiate an individual agreement with Canada, and hold a ratification vote in the community. These activities are laid out in a Developmental Phase Funding Agreement (DPFA), and this phase of activity is commonly referred to as the 'developmental phase.' If the vote is successful, the First Nations moves on to the 'operational phase'. Operational First Nations that manage their lands under their own Land Code are no longer bound by the land and resource management sections of the Indian Act and receive funding in support of the administration and management of their lands, resources and environment.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS:	PAW #	PAW Name	Due Date
	Not Applicable
	DCI #	DCI Name	Due Date

REPORTING DUE DATES:	During the Developmental Phase, reporting is submitted to the First Nations Land Management Resource Centre (FNLMRC). The Developmental Phase Funding Agreement outlines the Developmental Phase reporting requirements as follows: 1. Annex A sets out the milestones which must be completed by the First Nation to proceed to a vote on a proposed land code and Individual Agreement. 2. Annex B outlines the roles and responsibilities of the Parties; and 3. Annex C sets out the funding which the FNLMRC will provide to the First Nation towards completion of milestones identified under this Agreement and outlines reporting requirements (reports are submitted to the FNLMRC and are available and explained online at www.labrc.com). There is no DCI for the Operational Phase of FNLM as the FNLM allocations are Grant funding.

Funding Methodology:

1. Developmental phase funding flows from the Land Advisory Board Resource Centre as agreed to in the Developmental Phase Funding Agreement entered by the First Nation once they have been formally integrated into FNLM.
2. Operational phase funding is distributed to fully participating FNLM communities at the start of each fiscal year by Indigenous Services Canada.

Federal Contaminated Site Action Plan (FCSAP) & Contaminated Sites On-Reserve (CSOR)

The Federal Contaminated Site Action Plan (FCSAP) is a federal program (cost shared between ISC and Environment Canada) addressing contaminated sites on federal lands. The extent of FCSAP funding and the scope of the program (regarding the number and size of the projects that can be implemented) is determined on a year-to-year basis.

Contaminated site management includes ongoing remediation and closure of known contaminated sites and identification and assessment of newly discovered sites.

BC Region's Contaminated Sites On-Reserve Program targets projects on sites with high human health and ecological risks. Funding is prioritized based on the National Contaminated Site Classification System developed by Environment Canada. There are three types of projects that are eligible for funding under FCSAP: Assessment, remediation/risk management, and care and maintenance.

Other environmental issues may be eligible for funding through the Lands and Economic Development Directorate.

A list of known, on-reserve, contaminated sites is available on the Integrated Environmental Management System (IEMS), which is updated annually.

Leasing Land on Reserve

Leasing land is one method by which First Nations can create economic activity and employment opportunities on reserve. First Nations can request that the honourable Mandy Gull-Masty, Minister of Indigenous Services Canada authorize the leasing of reserve land that a First Nation has specifically designated for that purpose.

Individual First Nation members that have been allocated reserve land by certificate of possession may also request that the Minister prepare a lease of their allocated land.

The ISC Lands Management Manual contains more information on the process of leasing First Nation land and can be found online. See Chapter 5 for a description of the land designation process, and Chapter 7 for the leasing process:

Contact Information:

Lands Operations Team: bclandregistry@sac-isc.gc.ca for registry inquiries, or bclands@sac-isc.gc.ca for general inquiries

Land Survey Requests

ISC has limited funding for land surveys needed by First Nations, with the goal of achieving clear boundary definitions in support of economic development and the settlement of estates.

First Nations are invited to submit all known survey needs through a call letter process held each year in January. Submission requests are due in early January of the following year. Requests are made through a Band Council Resolution which also authorizes a surveyor to perform the work, if funded.

The potential categories for survey requests include:

- Designations for leasing purposes
- Additions to Reserve
- Reserve boundary investigations and/or surveys (e.g., for the purposes of a Section 50 of the Indian Act Sale of estate lands)

Survey requests are subject to available funding. Surveys for capital projects are not an approved category for this program because survey funding can be included in capital project submissions.

First Nations Commercial and Industrial Development Act (FNCIDA)

The First Nations Commercial and Industrial Development Act (FNCIDA) provide regulatory support to First Nations that are pursuing large-scale, on-reserve, commercial or industrial projects. Specifically, it allows First Nations to request that the federal government develop regulations that apply to a specific project on a specific piece of reserve land. FNCIDA duplicates relevant portions of provincial laws and regulations that apply to similar large-scale commercial or industrial projects off reserve. This approach facilitates access to the appropriate parts of a provincial regime

Eligibility Requirements:

Regulatory gaps occur on reserve lands where there is an absence of applicable and appropriate laws to govern complex commercial or industrial activities. To be eligible, projects must (a) identify a regulatory gap; (b) have a commercial or industrial partner; and (c) have formal support from the province.

For application requirements and further information on FNCIDA please visit:

What's New

BC Tripartite Education Agreement

The BC Tripartite Education Agreement: Supporting First Nation Student Success (BCTEA) signed in 2018 by the Government of Canada, the Government of British Columbia, and the First Nations Education Steering Committee (FNESC) in support of First Nations control of First Nations education has been extended through to June 30, 2027. The Agreement been instrumental in achieving amendments to provincial legislation, tangible improvements in student outcomes including enhanced language and culture programming, equitable transportation services, and data-informed policy improvements. For updates, please see www.fnesc.ca/bctea/.

2026-2027 School Year: Changes to BC Public School Tuition Funding Flow from ISC for all Eligible Students on the Nominal Roll Report

Starting in the 2026-2027 school year, Indigenous Services Canada (ISC) will automatically flow BC public school tuition funding for all eligible students reported on the Nominal Roll report directly to BC First Nations, regardless of whether a Local Education Agreement (LEA) is in place with a school district. This includes funding for both registered (status) students and non-registered (non-status) students.

As a result of this change, First Nations who receive BC public school tuition funding from ISC will be responsible for paying invoices provided by the school districts where your students attend BC public schools as reported on your Nominal Roll report and confirmed through the Joint Verification Process.

If a First Nation prefers that ISC transfers their student's BC public school tuition funding to the Ministry of Education and Child Care on their behalf, a Band Council Resolution outlining this request can be sent to the Education Programs team at: BCEducation@sac-isc.gc.ca by August 1, 2026 to take effect for the 2026-2027 school year, or by October 15 to take effect for future school years.

For more information, refer to ISC's letter sent by email sent to BC First Nations on May 1, 2026, and the ISC BC Region 2026-2027 Nominal Roll Instructions (Appendix 4), or reach out to the Education Programs team at BCEducation@sac-isc.gc.ca.

2026-2027 Fiscal Year: Accommodation Supports Adjustment

Effective the 2026–2027 fiscal year, Indigenous Services Canada (ISC) BC Region has replaced the Guidance and Counselling and Comprehensive Instructional Services components for students in accommodations with Student Transition Counselling and a Student Allowance, respectively, in order to mirror the rates used Nationally. This change applies to all students approved and selected for Accommodation Supports, regardless of the type of accommodation selected or location of the First Nation. An email was sent to BC First Nations by ISC on July 14, 2026 regarding this change, and the 2026-2027 fiscal year rates are reflected in the Student Accommodation Services section of this Guide.

For any questions regarding this change or Accommodation Supports, please contact the Education Programs team at bceducation@sac-isc.gc.ca.

National School Food Program

Budget 2024 announced $1 billion over five years (2024-2025 to 2028-2029) for a National School Food Program. Budget 2025 announced plans to make the program permanent with an ongoing annual investment of $216.6 million starting in 2029. The intention of this program is to implement and expand access to school food programs across Canada, with the goal of ensuring all children have access to nutritious school meals. Starting fiscal year 2025-2026, the eligibility of students for the National School Food Program allocation was expanded to include homeschooled, distance, and virtual students, in addition to students attending in-person classroom settings. First Nations have the flexibility to use this funding to meet the unique school food needs of students included on the First Nation's Nominal Roll Report. ISC will distribute funding allocations to First Nations as Amendments to Funding Arrangements. The funding will show in budgets as "School Food Enhancement." For questions regarding this investment, please reach out to the Education Programs team at bceducation@sac-isc.gc.ca.

Post-Secondary Education Enhancement (2024-2025 to 2026-2027)

Budget 2024 announced a three-year investment of $242.7 million nationally to increase access to post-secondary education students through the Post-Secondary Student Support Program. This enhancement renews a previous five-year budget commitment (2019-2020 to 2023-2024) with a small increase for inflation. These funds are allocated to First Nations using a capita calculation based on total population data (on-and off-reserve).

Programs Administered by the FNESC & the FNSA

The following ISC programs are administered by the First Nations Education Steering Committee (FNESC) and the First Nations Schools Association (FNSA). For more information on the programs and proposal and application information and deadlines, please visit www.fnesc.ca and www.fnsa.ca.

First Nations and Inuit Youth Employment Strategy (FNIYES)

This strategy represents a component of the Government of Canada's Youth Employment Strategy led by Service Canada. This program provides educational opportunities and summer work opportunities for First Nations and Inuit youth, including post-secondary students, to improve their job skills and participate effectively in the labour market.

The two programs under the FNIYES are the Skills Link Program and the Summer Work Experience Program, including the Co-operative Education Program. To access these funds, First Nation community and school representatives are encouraged to refer to the FNESC website for the call for proposal, reporting templates and deadlines for the Summer Work Experience Program at www.fnesc.ca/programs/summer-work-experience-program-swep/, the Skills Link Program at www.fnesc.ca/slp/, and Co-operative Education Program at www.fnesc.ca/programs/cooperative-education-coop/.

Supports for Students with Exceptionalities Program (SSEP) for First Nations Schools

As outlined in BCTEA, Supports for Students with Exceptionalities (SSEP) funding for First Nations schools is administered by the FNESC. To access these funds, and to learn more about support services provided by the FNESC, First Nations school administrators are encouraged to refer to the FNESC website for work plan, application and reporting deadlines at www.fnesc.ca/ssep/.

Inclusive Education funding for public and Independent (private) schools is included in the First Nation Student Rate. For more information, please visit: Operating Grants - Province of British Columbia. (See Appendix – First Nation Student Rates for the First Nation Student Rates by School District).

BC First Nations Post-Secondary Partnerships Program (PSPP)

The Post-Secondary Partnerships Program (PSPP) is a First Nations-directed and regionally delivered proposal-driven program supporting First Nations established post-secondary education institutions and First Nations-directed community-based programming.

Since 2020-2021, the FNESC in partnership with the Indigenous Adult and Higher Learning Association (IAHLA) has administered the PSPP in BC as provided for under option 1 of the PSPP National Program Guidelines. More information is available on the FNESC and the IAHLA websites at www.fnesc.ca/pspp/ and www.iahla.ca/pspp/

Services Administered by the FNESC & the FNSA

The following services are administered by the First Nations Education Steering Committee (FNESC) and the First Nations Schools Association (FNSA). For more information, please visit www.fnesc.ca and www.fnsa.ca.

First Nations School Assessments
For a First Nations school, a school evaluation must be completed once every 5 years using one of the following processes:

- An assessment through the First Nations Schools Assessment and Certification Process; or
- An external evaluation and inspection conducted in accordance with the BC Independent School Act.

To discuss the school assessment process and related reporting requirements, please contact the FNESC by phone at 1-877-422-3672 (toll-free) or by email at fnsa@fnesc.ca.

First Nations Language and Culture Program (FNLCP)
Under BCTEA, funding for language and culture programming is provided to support students attending First Nation schools. For most schools in the BC Region, the per capita amount is calculated using ISC's Nominal Roll, including school-age and adult students living on reserve and attending programs from K4 through to the Grade 12 level. First Nations schools access their FNLCP grants through the submission of work plans that detail the activities to be undertaken according to the eligible expenditures. To access these funds, First Nations school administrators are encouraged to refer to the FNESC website for work plan, application and reporting deadlines at www.fnesc.ca/first-nations-languages/.

Online Resources
The FNESC and the FNSA have many online resources including Curriculum and Teacher Resources; Education Coordinator supports, Post-Secondary education supports and timely bulletins which share information regarding the BCTEA. For more information, see www.fnesc.ca and www.fnsa.ca.

Second & Third Level Services
Under BCTEA, the FNESC and the FNSA provide Second and Third Level Services to First Nations and First Nations schools in BC. These services include curriculum supports, student assessments, school assessments, parents club, the Connected Classrooms Initiative, and data management. For more information on available supports, see www.fnesc.ca.

Elementary/Secondary Education Program (K-12)

Indigenous Services Canada's BC Region is dedicated to supporting students who are ordinarily resident on reserve and enrolled in Kindergarten through Grade 12 programs, including adult learners. Through the Elementary/Secondary Education Program, ISC provides core funding tied to the annual Nominal Roll report to ensure culturally responsive, high-quality education that aligns with learners' needs.

Central to this effort is the BC Tripartite Education Agreement (BCTEA), a landmark collaboration between Canada, the Province of BC (Ministry of Education and Child Care), and the First Nations Education Steering Committee (FNESC). Under BCTEA, ISC delivers enhanced and equitable funding through a provincial-style formula—tailored for First Nations contexts. Through BCTEA, the FNESC and the First Nations Schools Association (FNSA) provide crucial second and third level supports to First Nation schools and learners, such as language and culture programs, supports for students with exceptionalities, transportation funding, curriculum development, and school assessments.

For more information on the supports the FNESC and the FNSA offer to First Nation schools and students, please visit their websites at www.fnesc.ca and www.fnsa.ca.

The Nominal Roll Report (DCI#462572)

The Nominal Roll is the annual register of all eligible elementary and secondary students funded by ISC to attend a First Nations, public (provincial), or Independent (private) school, including tuition and student supports. To be eligible to be included on the Nominal Roll, the following three requirements must be met for each student each school year.

1. Students must be enrolled in one of the following as of the count date (last instructional day of September):
   - Public school
   - ISC approved First Nations school (including First Nations Independent Schools)
   - Independent (private) school (Group 1 & 2) recognized by the province

2. Students must be at least age 4 as of December 31 of the school year:
   - School Age Student: Age 4 to 21 and enrolled in K4 through grade 12
   - Adult Student: Age 18 and older (no limit) and who are either:
     - ungraduated and working toward a BC Dogwood or Adult Dogwood diploma, or
     - graduated and enrolled in certain eligible secondary level courses for graduated adults as listed on the Ministry of Education and Child Care's website: https://www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/education-training/adult-education/adult-upgrading/already-graduated

3. Students must meet one of the following residency requirements as of the count date (last instructional day of September):
   - Registered First Nations student (status) ordinarily resident on reserve or leased reserve lands
   - Non-registered First Nations student (non-status) or other Indigenous students ordinarily resident on reserve.

For more information or questions regarding the Nominal Roll report, or students who are homeschooled or enrolled in an Online Learning Program, contact the Education Programs team at bceducation@sac-isc.gc.ca.

Funding Cycle for the 2026-2027 Fiscal Year by Agreement Type

Contribution Agreement

Month of Payment	Percentage	Period Covered	Payments Based on Which Nominal Roll
April 2026	30%	April to June 2026	School year starting September 2024

September 2026	70%	September 2026 to March 2027	School year starting September 2025

Effective as of the 2023-2024 fiscal year, for those First Nations with Block or 10 Year Grant (or New Fiscal Relationship) Agreements which were formerly under a Block Agreement, the Elementary/Secondary Education program funding is adjusted on an annual basis based on the prior year's Nominal Roll for student enrollment levels.

Application to Add Grade(s) or Program(s) to a First Nations School

First Nations who wish to add a grade or program to an existing First Nations school must apply to ISC and be approved before the new grade or program can be implemented. Although applications are accepted year-round, applications to add grade(s) or program(s) must be submitted by January 31 to be considered for implementation for the following school year. For more information or to apply, contact the Education Programs team at bceducation@sac-isc.gc.ca.

Junior Kindergarten (Age 4/K4)

ISC's Elementary/Secondary Education Program terms and conditions allow for First Nations across Canada to provide full-time K4 as a part of the comprehensive K-12 curriculum that supports First Nation student progression towards a recognized secondary certification. This is available to BC First Nations even though an equivalent option is not being provided to BC provincial students. The National Education Program Guidelines allow First Nation operated schools to meet or exceed the provincial practice, if the student will be four years old on December 31 of the school year in which funding support is required.

Kindergarten – Grade 12 Reciprocal Tuition

In November 2009, the Province of British Columbia (BC) and the FNESC signed a Reciprocal Tuition Agreement. According to that agreement, the Ministry of Education and Child Care will pay reciprocal tuition for the education of off-reserve students who are attending First Nation schools that have FNSA or First Nations Education Authority (FNEA) certification and who are not eligible for federal funding on the Nominal Roll. First Nation Schools which are FNSA certified and do not have Independent School status can apply for funding from the Ministry of Education and Child Care. For information on the application process visit: www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/education- training/k-12/administration/program-management/indigenous-education/reciprocal-tuition. More information about the reciprocal tuition agreement is available from the FNESC at www.fnesc.ca.

Education Information System (EIS)

The Education Information System (EIS) was designed to support the reporting process for ISC's Education Programs and is utilized by both ISC and Recipients. For EIS access and training support, please contact the Funding Services team email at BCFundingServices-cbservicesdefinancement@sac-isc.gc.ca.

First Nation School Tuition: BCTEA Funding Model

The BC Tripartite Education Agreement (BCTEA) funding model is based on the provincial funding formula, with additions and adaptations to reflect the needs of First Nation schools and learners. It provides increased flexibility for First Nations to choose how to spend their school funding to meet their priorities while reducing the amount of reporting.

BCTEA funding is allocated to First Nation schools for costs associated with education for eligible on-reserve students (K4 to Grade 12). These include instructional costs such as school staff, recruitment, salaries, books, supplies, low-cost special education services, and language and curriculum development. School Operations and Maintenance (O&M) are factored into the formula, as well as transportation. The First Nation operating the school is responsible for transportation of students. For more information on BCTEA funding, visit www.fnesc.ca/BCTEA/.

Note: First Nations schools must have ISC Education approval for the grades and programs they offer to receive this funding. If you are unsure of your approved grades or programs, please contact the Education Programs team at BCEducation@sac-isc.gc.ca.

REPORTING DUE DATES:	DCI Name	Due Date

Contact Information:
Education Programs Team bceducation@sac-isc.gc.ca Toll-free: 1-800-655-9320, press 7 for Education

Funding Methodology:
The BCTEA funding model for First Nations schools is formula-based funding calculated using the annual Nominal Roll count. Recipients that administer First Nations schools on reserve receive BCTEA funding for all attending students regardless of the reserve of residence.

The sources used to develop the BCTEA funding formula are the Ministry of Education and Child Care Operating Grants Manual (OGM) and the School District Statements of Financial Information (SOFI) detailing the funding received and expenses and other sources of data. The BCTEA Funding Handbook is available through FNESC at www.fnesc.ca/bctea/.

BCTEA Funding Formula Factors/Rates:
Please note that the rates for the current school year will be finalized in June and shared with First Nations through their Budget Allocation Reports. The following table provides rates from the previous school year for reference.

Public Tuition

Public tuition funding provides education services for eligible, on-reserve students attending public schools in grades Kindergarten for Age 5 to grade 12. Please refer to the Ministry of Education and Child Care's Operating Grants Manual for a detailed description of which services are included in the First Nation Student Rates (see Appendix – Education for the latest First Nation Student Rates). Starting in the 2026-2027 school year, Indigenous Services Canada (ISC) will automatically flow BC public school tuition funding for all eligible students reported on the Nominal Roll report directly to BC First Nations, regardless of whether a Local Education Agreement (LEA) is in place with a school district. This includes funding for both registered (status) students and non-registered (non-status) students. A First Nation may also opt to have ISC fund the province directly by making a request in writing, including a Band Council Resolution, to the Education Programs team at bceducation@sac-isc.gc.ca.

Under BCTEA, the parties agreed to… "develop and implement a strategy, and related policies, to support the negotiation and implementation of Local Education Agreements (LEAs) between First Nations and boards of education or BC Independent Schools."

First Nations without an LEA have the option of entering into a Model LEA, which was co-developed by FNESC and the Ministry of Education and Child Care (ECC) based on FNESC's previously drafted Provincial LEA template and is intended to ensure a minimum standard on LEAs across the province. A fillable template letter and Model LEA (along with other resources including guiding principles) are available at this link: https://www.fnesc.ca/lea/ under the heading "LEA Resources".

The terms public schools and public tuition may be referred to as provincial schools or provincial tuition in First Nations' budgets.

Funding Methodology:

Initial allocations for public school tuition are based on the prior year Nominal Roll report and the prior year First Nation Student Rates provided by the Ministry of Education and Child Care. In June, allocations are adjusted for price and volume changes after the current year Nominal Roll has been verified and confirmed and the latest First Nation Student Rates updated. For information on the calculation for your community, please refer to your Budget Allocation Report or connect with your Funding Services Officer.

Allocations for public school tuition for schools located outside of BC is determined based on the applicable provincial rate. If the public school is located outside of Canada, for example, in the United States, the rate for Independent (private) schools is used. For First Nations under a Contribution Agreement with First Nation Students attending a public school located outside of BC, you must submit invoices to ISC for tuition funding to flow. First Nations in a Block or Grant (NFR) agreement will receive the funding generated by the applicable rate, with no invoicing required, as per normal cash flow timing.

Independent (Private) School Tuition

Independent (private) school tuition funding provides education services for eligible, on-reserve students attending recognized off-reserve Group 1 & 2 Independent (private) schools in Kindergarten for Age 5 to grade 12. Schools must be certified by the Ministry of Education and Child Care's Independent Schools Branch to be considered recognized. Groups 3 and 4 Independent (private) Schools are not eligible. Please refer to the Ministry of Education and Child Care's Schools List to confirm certification and category: School District and Contact Information App.

First Nations are strongly encouraged to have a Local Education Agreement (LEA) in place with the off-reserve school where their students are enrolled, regardless of the number of students attending from the First Nation. First Nations with more than 10 students attending an off-reserve Independent (private) school must have an LEA in place. The FNESC has resources regarding LEAs including a toolkit and template at www.fnesc.ca/lea/.

Note: First Nations operated Independent (private) Schools are funded differently from off-reserve Independent (private) Schools. For these schools, please refer to First Nation Schools – BC Tripartite Education Agreement (BCTEA) Funding Model. Additionally, the terms Independent (private) school tuition may be referred to as Private school or Private school tuition in First Nations' budgets.

Funding Methodology:

Tuition funding is available for eligible on reserve K5 to grade 12 students attending certified Group 1 or 2 Independent (private) schools within BC. The maximum payable amount per eligible student on the Nominal Roll is the same amount that would apply if the student attended the nearest public school—the First Nation Student Rate (FNSR) for the School District where the independent (private) school is located. The FNSR includes inclusive education funding.

For Independent (private) schools outside BC, the institution must be provincially recognized as an elementary or secondary institution, and the maximum payable amount per eligible student on the Nominal Roll is the First Nation Student Rate (FNSR) for the school district nearest to the students' home community.

Initial allocations are based on the prior year Nominal Roll report submitted by the First Nation and the prior year First Nation Student Rates provided by the Ministry of Education and Child Care. In June, allocations are adjusted for price and enrollment changes after the current year Nominal Roll has been verified and confirmed and the latest First Nation Student Rates updated. For information on the calculation for your community, please refer to your Budget Allocation Report or reach out to your Funding Services Officer.

Student Supports: Public/Independent (Private) Schools

For eligible students living on reserve and attending public/non-First Nation Independent (private) schools in British Columbia, funds are available for supplementary services such as school supplies, equipment, specialized educational services, and fees for specialized classes.

Funding Methodology:

Allocations are based on the rate of $287 per student (per year) listed on the Nominal Roll for public or non-First Nations Independent (private) schools. Adult students are eligible for this funding. The initial allocation is based on the number of students on the prior year Nominal Roll. In June, allocations are adjusted for enrollment changes after the current year Nominal Roll has been verified and confirmed.

Example: A First Nation has 44 students on the Nominal Roll attending a public or non-First Nations Independent (private) school. The funding agreement Recipient receives $287 X 44 students = $12,628 for Ancillary Services.

Comprehensive Instructional K-12 Support Services (All School Types)

All First Nation funding agreement Recipients receive additional funding for their students attending First Nation, public, and Independent (private) schools, to be used towards school supplies, accommodation, transportation, financial assistance, or guidance and counselling. All students on the Nominal Roll receive student support funding regardless of the school type they are attending.

Allocations are $221 per student (per year) based on the Nominal Roll. Adult students are also eligible for this funding. The initial allocation is based on the number of students on the prior year Nominal Roll. In June, allocations are adjusted for enrollment changes after the current year Nominal Roll has been verified and confirmed.

Example: A First Nation has 44 students on the Nominal Roll attending a public or non-First Nations Independent (private) school. The funding agreement Recipient receives $221 X 44 = $9,724 for Comprehensive Instructional Support Services (CISS).

Financial Assistance (Student Allowance): Secondary Student Support Services

To provide student allowances to eligible students in grades 8 to 12. These allowances may be provided to the students directly or used by the First Nation for education purposes such as:

1. the cost of purchase or rental of books and supplies;
2. specialized clothing (including a graduation allowance);
3. equipment or specialized educational services; and,
4. additional fees for specialized classes.

Funding Methodology:

The allocation is based on the number of students in grades 8 to 12 including ungraded students who may be taking courses at two different grade levels on the Nominal Roll. Adult students are eligible for this funding. The initial allocation is based on the number of students on the prior year Nominal Roll. In June, allocations are adjusted for enrollment changes after the current year Nominal Roll has been verified and confirmed.

The annual amount funded per student is as follows:

- Ungraded Secondary Students - $144
- Grade 8 - 10 - $144
- Grade 11 - $287
- Grade 12 - $431

Example: Based on the current year's Nominal Roll, there are 34 students in grades 8 to 10 and ungraded secondary, 5 students in grade 11, and 5 students in grade 12. All students attend public, Independent (private) or First Nation schools.

- 34 Students X $144 = $4,896
- 5 Students X $287 = $1,435
- 5 Students X $431 = $2,155

Total 44 students = $8,486. The funding agreement Recipient is entitled to receive $8,486 for Student Allowance.

Guidance and Counselling: Elementary/Secondary Student Support Services

Funding is provided to assist in the provision of K-12 Guidance and Counselling administration services, including the Nominal Roll.

Funding Methodology:

Funds for Guidance and Counselling administration include base salary and associated costs such as benefits, travel, and telephone service. The formula is $179 per student per year. Adult students aged 22 and older are eligible for the base formula but not the supplement for student accommodation services. The initial allocation is based on the number of students on the prior year Nominal Roll. In June, allocations are adjusted for enrollment changes after the current year Nominal Roll has been verified and confirmed.

Example*:* A funding agreement Recipient with 44 students on the Nominal Roll. The funding agreement Recipient receives $179 X 44 students or $7,876.

National School Food Program

The intention of this program is to implement and expand access to school food programs across Canada, with the goal of ensuring all children have access to nutritious school meals.

The eligibility of students for the National School Food Program allocation includes homeschooled, distance, and virtual students, in addition to students attending in-person classroom settings.

First Nations have the flexibility to use this funding to meet the unique school food needs of students included on the First Nation's Nominal Roll Report. ISC will distribute funding allocations to First Nations as Amendments to Funding Arrangements. The funding will show in budgets as "School Food Enhancement."

Funding Methodology:

The funding is calculated first and foremost to enhance provincially comparable levels of related school food funding to a national standard of $385 per headcount student in 2026-2027. Where existing formula supports are greater than $385 per student, an additional amount of $10 per headcount student is being provided to support the further expansion of school food programming and ensure that every student is benefitting from a base amount of new program funding as a part of the National School Food Policy.

For First Nation Students attending First Nation Schools, a calculation is run to determine existing supports using the non-OGM component.

Example: Variable rate depending on existing support (amount) by headcount student (factor).

Menstrual Products

Funding is available for the purchase and distribution of free menstrual products based on Nominal Roll submissions for all students reported as female or other gender, aged 8 and older (including adults) residing on reserve. Eligible types of products include (but are not limited to) pads, tampons, menstrual cups and dispensers to deliver these products to students.

For new First Nation Schools, one-time funding is provided to purchase menstrual product dispensers.

The initial allocation is based on the number of students on the prior year Nominal Roll. In June, allocations are adjusted for enrollment changes after the current year Nominal Roll has been verified and confirmed.

Example: A funding agreement Recipient reports 23 students on the Nominal Roll as female or another gender, aged 8 years and older. The funding agreement Recipient receives $165.71 X 23 students or $3,811.33.

Student Accommodation Services

Accommodation services may be available for students who must temporarily board outside of their home community to attend school under the circumstances described below. Students must be school aged (4-21), enrolled in and attending K4-Grade 12, and ordinarily reside on reserve.

Circumstances for Accommodation Services

Funding be available for situations where:

- There is no school within reasonable travelling distance that offers the appropriate grade levels or programs;
- The student requires placement in order to be near medical facilities/services; or,
- Other unique circumstances (reviewed on a case-by-case basis).

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS:	For new accommodation supports requests, or if a student was previously approved for accommodation supports and has had a change in circumstance, contact the Education Programs team at bceducation@sac-isc.gc.ca before including them on the Nominal Roll report.	Due Date October 15

Application

First Nations must submit requests to ISC for approval by October 15 to the Education Programs team at bceducation@sac-isc.gc.ca, with relevant student details. Supporting documentation will be required as part of the application. (e.g., letter, proof of enrolment, medical note if applicable).

Students listed on ISC's Pre-Approved Accommodation List do not require an application. This List is published yearly alongside the Nominal Roll Instructions. Contact the Education Programs team at bceducation@sac-isc.gc.ca for any questions regarding this list.

Funding Methodology

Funding is flowed annually based on the number of approved students and the type of Accommodation Supports selected by the First Nation. Please refer to your Education Budget Allocation Report for the rates for your First Nation.

Per-student Accommodation Support Rates for the 2026–2027 Fiscal Year

Component	Rate 5-Day Room and Board (non-isolated)	Rate 7-Day Room and Board (non-isolated)	Rate 7-Day Room and Board (isolated)
Room and Board	$4,629	$6,480	$6,480

Seasonal Travel	$1,491.40	$1,491.40	$4,117-$9,424
5% Administration for students in public or independent schools

Important Notes: Accommodation Support Rates

- Rates on accommodations may undergo updates. Any changes will be communicated.
- Effective as of the 2026–2027 fiscal year, the Guidance and Counselling and Comprehensive Instructional Services components for students in accommodations were replaced with Student Transition Counselling and a Student Allowance, respectively, in order to mirror the rates used Nationally. An email was sent to BC First Nations by ISC on July 14, 2026 regarding this change, and the new rates are bolded above.
- Isolated communities are defined as locations qualifying as an Isolated Post under the National Joint Council.
- 5% administration amount is included in the total, to support coordination of services.
- This is meant to be a funding formula, not a spending formula— funding may be allocated flexibly within eligible categories to meet students' needs while in room and board. (e.g., unused chaperone or bus pass funds may be redirected to food and lodging).
- Initial allocations are based on prior-year Nominal Roll; adjustments occur in June after current-year verification.

Eligible expenses

- Room and board (food and lodging of students living in a private home placement/residence)
- Ancillary (additional expenses related to being in accommodation)
- Transition support (materials and services required for moving between school systems)
- Travel chaperone (to support the accompaniment of minors in their travel from community)
- Criminal record check (to support the screening of boarding home parents, at the discretion of the First Nation)
- Seasonal travel (to support round trips during the school year, or the various transportation requirements for students in accommodation)

Example: A non-isolated funding agreement Recipient is pre-approved for Accommodation Supports for Grades 10–12, as nearby schools only offer up to Grade 9. They report 14 students under 7-Day Room and Board on their 2025-2026. Nominal Roll. Using the 2026–2027 fiscal year rates, this results in funding of 14 × $16,805 = $235,281 (not including the 5% administrative amount, if applicable).

First Nations and Inuit Cultural Education Centres Program (FNICECP)

This program supports First Nations and Inuit communities in expressing, preserving, developing, revitalizing and promoting their culture, language and heritage, through the creation and operation of First Nations and Inuit cultural education centres. The program also helps make relevant cultural programming and services available to First Nations and Inuit students.

The goal of the program is to:

- revive traditional cultural skills among First Nations and Inuit people;
- develop contemporary cultural skills among First Nations and Inuit people;
- develop First Nations and Inuit peoples' knowledge and use of their traditional languages; and,
- promote cross-cultural awareness in mainstream educational programs and institutions.

Post-Secondary Education (PSE)

General Information

The PSE program has two components: the Post-Secondary Student Support Program (PSSSP) and University and College Entrance Preparation Program (UCEPP), and the Post-Secondary Partnerships Program (PSPP) - each with its own objectives and delivery format. Indigenous Services Canada works to address the variations in demand for post-secondary funding, both within and between funding agreement Recipients. If you have questions regarding these programs, please reach out to the Education Programs team at BCEducation@sac-isc.gc.ca.

Post-Secondary Education Resource Line

The FNESC Post-Secondary Resource Line provides support to Education Coordinators related to the administration of PSSSP/UCEPP. The resource line can be reached toll free at: 1-877-280-4151 or via email at pse@fnesc.ca. More information is also available at: www.fnesc.ca/pse-coordinators- resources/.

Post-Secondary Student Support Program (PSSSP) and University and College Entrance Preparation Program (UCEPP)

The Post-Secondary Student Support Program (PSSSP) and University and College Entrance Preparation Program (UCEPP) provide Post-Secondary Education (PSE) funding to First Nations to assist eligible their eligible First Nations students attending eligible post-secondary institutions and programs.

The PSSSP provides non-repayable financial support for First Nations (registered Indian) students to advance towards a recognized post-secondary education credential, including, First Nations designated and directed institutions, as prioritized and directed by First Nations, community college, undergraduate studies, advanced professional or post-graduate studies at eligible colleges and universities in Canada and abroad, and Collège d'enseignement général et professionnel (CEGEP).

The UCEPP provides non-repayable financial support for First Nations (registered Indian) students who are enrolled in accepted university and college entrance preparation programs to help them to achieve the academic level required for entrance into degree and diploma credit programs, as prioritized and directed by First Nations.

Funding for PSSSP/UCEPP is provided directly to First Nations by ISC, and they administer the program to their members in adherence to ISC's National Program Guidelines available at: https://sac- isc.gc.ca/eng/1415377531020/1531401688567.

Individuals who are on the BC General List as well as those who have affiliation with a BC First Nation but do not have membership can apply to access PSSSP and UCEPP funding through the British Columbia Association of Aboriginal Friendship Centres. For more information regarding their application process, visit their website at www.bcaafc.com/education/psssp/.

Funding Methodology:

1. Initial Allocation: The BC Region PSE allocation for student supports is allocated to each First Nation through an initial allocation. This funding is based on the lesser of: 1. reported audited annual expenditures; or 2. a per capita amount calculated using the regional budget and the total population as of December 31.

2. Protected Pool: If audited annual expenditures are lower than the calculated per capita amount, the difference is placed in the Protected Pool for each individual First Nation. First Nations must apply to access the funds in their Protected Pool.

3. General Pool: If a First Nation does not apply for some or all their Protected Pool, the residual funds are placed in a General Pool accessible to other First Nations. Eligible First Nations that demonstrate the need for funds above their initial and Protected Pool budget can apply for additional funds from the General Pool. Notification of the opportunity to apply for additional PSSSP funding for each fiscal year will be sent in the Spring.

   This funding allocation methodology does not apply to Treaty or Self-Government Agreement First Nations and First Nations which have block or New Fiscal Relationship (NFR) Grant funding arrangements with ISC. Effective as of 2024-2025 and beyond, First Nations with NFR Grant funding arrangements will not be eligible to apply for the General Pool given that they are now in receipt of an escalator for PSSSP/UCEPP.

   For questions or more information, contact the Education Programs team at bceducation@sac-isc.gc.ca.

Post-Secondary Partnerships Program (PSPP)

In BC Region, the Post-Secondary Partnerships Program (PSPP) is administered and led by the First Nations Education Steering Committee (FNESC), working with the Indigenous Adult and Higher Learning Association (IAHLA). The FNESC and the IAHLA's role includes setting regional guidelines, distributing the BC PSPP Calls for Proposals, and establishing a PSPP Review Committee to adjudicate proposals.

The goal of the program is to support the development and delivery of First Nations established post-secondary education institutions and First Nations-directed community-based programming to increase the number of First Nations students pursuing post-secondary education.

To learn more about the call for proposals process and how the PSPP is delivered in BC region, visit the FNESC's website at www.fnesc.ca/pspp/ or the IAHLA's website at https://iahla.ca/pspp/.

Income Assistance

General Information

ISC BC Region's Income Support Programs funds First Nations and organizations to administer benefits and services to individuals and families living on reserve.

Income Assistance National Program Guidelines 2025 to 2026
https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1640176530565/1640176589896

The Income Assistance National Program Guidelines set out the Income Supports program requirements for the Income Assistance on-reserve for recipients that have entered into a funding agreement with Indigenous Services Canada (ISC).

National Directive on the Administration of Shelter Allowance to Income Assistance Clients on Reserve
https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1484944009933/1533304463313

The purpose of this national directive is to provide clarification and direction on the administration of Shelter Allowance to Income Assistance clients on-reserve. In addition, this directive provides clarification regarding the conditions under which Shelter Allowance may be paid to Income Assistance clients on-reserve as well as information about the Universal/Community Wide Rental Regime.

Grants and contributions to provide income support to on-reserve residents

https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1386172237937/1615722708031

This document explains the purpose and requirements of Indigenous Services Canada's Income Assistance funding. It describes how grants and contributions help eligible low-income First Nations individuals and families living on reserve meet basic and special needs. The document outlines program expectations, accountability, and how Income Assistance supports financial stability, reduces poverty, and promotes greater independence.

Information, procedures, and policies specific to the BC Region's Income Assistance programs are published in the Social Development Policy and Procedures Handbook, BC Region, Volume 1, and are accessible on GCCollab. If you do not have access to GCCollab, please contact the BC Region Band Social Development Worker Policy Support Line at 1-888-440-4080 (toll-free) or email at tsdbsoutien-bsdwsupport-bc@sac-isc.gc.ca

Income Assistance Family Supports (IAFS)

The program activities which were formerly part of the National Child Benefit Reinvestment (NCBR) initiative program will continue to be distributed through the Income Assistance (IA) budget under the title “Income Assistance Family Supports” for the sole benefit of IA clients and their dependents residing on reserve in BC.

- Child Nutrition
- Support to Parents
- Cultural Enrichment
- Home-to-Work Transition
- Childcare

First Nations will continue to be funded at the same level and for the same activities as they were under the former NCBR in 2016-2017 for 2025-2026. If funding recipients wish to reallocate funds in their budget between these activities, they may contact their Funding Services Officer.

For more information about this funding, please contact the BC Region Band Social Development Worker Policy Support Line at 1-888-440-4080 (toll-free) or email at tsdbsoutien-bsdwsupport-bc@sac-isc.gc.ca

Basic Needs

The Income Assistance Program provides funds to individuals and families who are ordinarily residents on reserve. This funding is used as a last resort where all other means of generating income to cover basic needs have been exhausted. The Income Assistance program is a component of Canada's social safety net meant to align with provincial income assistance programs off-reserve. The objective of the program is to ensure that eligible individuals and families residing on reserve receive funds to cover the basic expenses of daily living (such as food, clothing and shelter).

See the chapters noted below in the Social Development Policy and Procedures Handbook, BC Region, Volume 1 for details.

- Basic Support Allowance (Chapter 4, Volume 1)
- Persons with Persistent Multiple Barriers (PPMB) Designation and Assistance (Ch. 4, Volume1)
- Persons with Disabilities (PWD) Designation and Assistance (Chapter 8, Volume 1)
- Shelter Allowances (Chapter 5, Volume 1) may be paid to cover actual documented costs such as rent, utilities, and in limited cases, home maintenance.

To request a copy of the policy handbook and related forms, please contact the BC Region Band Social Development Worker Policy Support Line (as noted below).

REPORTING DUE DATES:	DCI #	DCI Name	Due Date

Funding Methodology:
Recipient allocations are based on the previous year's audited financial expenditures and are adjusted based on Income Assistance Reports and forecasts to year-end. Funds are allocated as reimbursements of eligible expenditures.

For First Nations operating under a Block or NFR Grant funding agreement, this program is incorporated into their core funding.

Children Out of the Parental Home Assistance (Legacy Program)

As of March 31, 2012, the Children Out of the Parental Home (COPH) Program closed to new applications. Families who applied prior to this date were assessed and approved based on the policies in effect at that time and continue to receive support as legacy COPH clients. Band Social Development Workers (BSDWs) will continue to administer the COPH program for these legacy clients.

The COPH program provides financial support for a child in the home of a relative on-reserve when the child's parents have placed the child in the care of that relative. To be eligible for financial support all adults in the home must have completed an enhanced screening requirement.

Each person 18 years of age or older who has not yet gone through the enhanced screening process, must complete the enhanced screening consent form. The BSDW will submit the form to the Ministry of Children and Family Development's Centralized Screening Hub by fax at 250-387-7756 or by email at CSH.GeneralEnquiries@gov.bc.ca

See Eligibility for Grand parented Children Out of the Parental Home (COPH) Assistance (Chapter 6, Volume 1) in the Social Development Policy and Procedures Handbook, BC Region, Volume 1 for details.

Funding Methodology:

The BC Ministry of Children and Family Development (MCFD) conducts screening checks on behalf of the First Nation administering authority to support the ongoing eligibility of legacy COPH files. The BC Region reimburses MCFD directly for the cost of these screening checks from the Basic Needs budget.

Recipient allocations are based on the previous year's audited financial expenditures and are adjusted to reflect actual requirements reported in Income Assistance Reports and year-end forecasts. Funds are provided as reimbursements of actual eligible expenditures.

For First Nations operating under a Block or NFR Grant funding agreement, this program is incorporated into their core funding.

Non-Status Health Benefits

This program provides health benefits to eligible, non-status, income assistance recipients that are resident on-reserve, with Medical Service Plan and Fair Pharma Care coverage. Examples of non-status health benefits include:

- Dental
- Orthodontia
- Optical Services
- Health Related Travel
- Medical Equipment

Health benefits are limited, and rate schedules for each benefit are to be applied in accordance with the Non-Status Health Benefits (Chapter 10, Volume 1) in the Social Development Policy and Procedures Handbook, BC Region, Volume 1.

Expenditures exceeding $500 require the approval of your Funding Services Officer using the “SA- 205 Non-Status Health Benefit Request & Authorization form”.

For First Nations operating under a Block or NFR Grant funding agreement, this program is incorporated into their core funding.

Hardship Assistance

Hardship assistance is a distinct category of income assistance with its own eligibility criteria. Assessment for hardship assistance is undertaken as a last resort, only after an eligibility test for regular basic income assistance benefits has been applied, and the applicant has been determined to be ineligible.

Hardship assistance is intended to meet basic needs only, up to the maximum rates as set out in Hardship Assistance (Chapter 7, Volume 1) in the Social Development Policy and Procedures Handbook, BC Region, Volume 1. Applicants are expected to use any and all other resources available to them before hardship assistance is issued.

Service Delivery

This program provides funds to assist in the administration of the Income Assistance program

REPORTING DUE DATES:	DCI #	DCI Name	Due Date

Contact Information:

BC Region Band Social Development Worker Policy Support Line at 1-888-440-4080 (toll-free) or email at tsdbsoutien-bsdwsupport-bc@sac-isc.gc.ca

Funding Methodology:

Effective March 2025, funding for the service delivery model is based on an annual per-client amount. Client numbers are calculated using the previous fiscal year's Data Collection Instrument (DCI) reports, based on the average number of clients across all four quarters. If data from the previous fiscal year is not available, client numbers are calculated using DCI data from earlier years. Data is collected every two fiscal years.

Under the national service delivery funding model, funding is provided as follows:

- $1,225 per client per year for non-remote communities
- $1,350 per client per year for remote communities
- $1,500 per client per year for communities with no road access

Minimum annual funding amounts apply:

- $50,000 for non-remote communities
- $55,000 for remote communities
- $60,000 for communities with no road access

For First Nations operating under a Block or NFR Grant funding agreement, this program is incorporated into their core funding.

Example

- If a First Nation has an average of 20 clients and is in a remote community:
  20 × $1,350 = $27,000.
  Because this amount is below the minimum for a remote community, the annual allocation is adjusted to $55,000.
- If a First Nation has an average of 50 clients and is in a remote community:
  50 × $1,350 = $67,500 is used as the annual allocation.

Special Needs

This program provides special allowances to purchase goods and services necessary for a client's physical or social well-being, or to support pre-employment activities, including:

- Community Volunteer Supplement
- Crisis Supplement (formerly Special Needs Allowance) with rate table for food, clothing and shelter.
- Essential Utilities Crisis Supplement and Utility Security Deposits
- Emergency/Disaster Supplement
- Pet Damage Deposits Supplement
- Guide Animal Supplement
- Camp Fee Supplement
- School Start-up Allowance
- Confirmed Job Supplement
- Moving, Transportation and Living Costs
- Identification Supplement
- food allowance, including special diets.

See Special Needs Allowances (Chapter 9, Volume 1) in the Social Development Policy and Procedures Handbook, BC Region, Volume 1 for details.

REPORTING DUE DATES:	DCI #	DCI Name	Due Date

Contact Information:
BC Region Band Social Development Worker Policy Support Line at 1-888-440-4080 (toll-free) or email at tsdbsoutien-bsdwsupport-bc@sac-isc.gc.ca

Funding Methodology:

Effective March 2025, a new interim funding approach was implemented. Each eligible recipient's special needs funding is calculated as a percentage (25% for 2024-2025, then 20% for 2025-2026) of the recipient's basic needs' expenditures. For consistency, program staff used Data Collection Instrument (DCI) information, primarily from 2019-2020 (or 2018-2019, or earlier, if 2019-2020 data was unavailable), to reflect the baseline closest to pre-COVID-19/inflation relief funding levels. For recipients below the standard, the interim approach provides an increase in funding to meet the standard. If a recipient's existing special needs funding is above the 25%/20% standard, that higher funding level remains intact, but they will not receive any additional funding. The actual annual funding amounts provided to recipients by the regions may increase or decrease depending on actual expenditures and updated DCI data, reflecting changes in caseloads and rates. For First Nations operating under a Block or NFR Grant funding agreement, this program is incorporated into their core funding.

Pre-Employment Supports Program

General Information
BC Region is providing case management and pre-employment supports funding to 74 First Nation communities in 2025-2026 through 8 Pre-Employment sites:

- Cariboo Chilcotin Aboriginal Training Employment (CCATEC),
- Cowichan,
- Nuu-chah-nulth-Tribal Council,
- Okanagan Indian Band,
- Prince George Nechako Aboriginal Employment and Training Association (PGNAETA),
- Seabird Island Indian Band,
- Sts'ailes, and
- Tribal Resources Investment Corporation (TRICORP).

Since 2018, the program expanded the age range to 18-64 and removed the expectation that clients would be employable within one year. The program requires clients to be 'ordinarily resident on reserve" and to meet the definition "expected to work" in the 74 First Nation communities where the Pre-Employment Supports program is being delivered; this includes individuals with Persons with Persistent Multiple Barriers (PPMB) designation or a Persons with Disabilities (PWD) designation.

Pre-Employment Supports Program Guidelines
https://gccollab.ca/file/group/1968288/all#16602007

These guidelines outline how Income Assistance Pre-Employment Supports funding is delivered to help eligible clients and dependents reduce barriers to employment or education. They set out eligibility requirements, case management standards, allowable expenditures, partnership expectations, and reporting obligations to ensure consistent, accountable delivery that supports client readiness, self-sufficiency, and successful transitions to work or training, and are accessible on GCCollab. If you do not have access to GCCollab, please contact the BC Region Band Social Development Worker Policy Support Line at 1-888-440-4080 (toll-free) or email at tsdbsoutien-bsdwsupport-bc@sac-isc.gc.ca

Pre-Employment Supports Program

Pre-Employment Supports (PES) is an Income Assistance–related program that provides funding to help eligible clients and dependents reduce barriers to employment or education. The program supports activities such as skills development, training readiness, and participation supports, with the goal of improving employability, increasing self-sufficiency, and supporting successful transitions into the labour market or further education.

Program eligibility continues to be subject to available funding for Pre-Employment Supports sites; a Band Resolution is required from First Nation Leadership to participate.

REPORTING DUE DATES:	DCI #	DCI Name	Due Date
	455897A	Income Assistance Report	Quarterly: July 30, October 30, January 30 and April 30

Contact Information:
BC Region Band Social Development Worker Policy Support Line at 1-888-440-4080 (toll-free) or email at tsdbsoutien-bsdwsupport-bc@sac-isc.gc.ca

Funding Methodology:
The allocation for the eight (8) Pre-Employment Supports sites is based on predetermined Income Assistance population figures within each Pre-Employment Supports catchment area. Pre-Employment Supports funding is allocated across three streams:

- Client Supports represents 60% of funding and provides direct assistance to help clients address barriers to employment or education;
- Case Management Capacity accounts for 30% and supports assessment, planning, and ongoing client support; and
- Service Delivery Infrastructure, at 10%, funds administrative and coordination functions necessary for effective and consistent program delivery.

All First Nations and First Nation organizations with funding agreements receive the allocations as targeted funding.

Assisted Living Program

In 2026-2027, the Disabilities Initiative will be on hold.

Assisted Living

Adult In-Home Care Services

The program provides funding for (a) the administration of the Assisted Living program and (b) for non-medical home care support services and the administration of the program under the Assisted Living program.

Non-medical home care supports includes social support services which help individuals maintain independence and the ability to remain in their own home and maintain independence. Services may range from housekeeping, meal preparation, and attendant care to community supports, such as adult day programs care, meals on wheels, psycho-social programs, short-term respite care for caregivers, and non-health transportation. Before the delivery of Adult In-Home Care Services, also known as "homemaker services", an assessment is required to support the applicant's eligibility for funding.

Funding Methodology:

The initial budget is set at a fixed budget (85% program and 15% service delivery) based on the funding formula of $2,000 base per First Nation, plus a per capita component (total number of a First Nation's registered members aged 19 and older who are residing on their own reserves).

The 15% service delivery amount is intended to support the administration and delivery of the following Assisted Living Programs: Adult In-Home Care, Adult Institutional Care, and Adult Family Care Homes. With a fixed budget, Adult In-Home Care Services funding shortfalls are not reimbursed.

First Nations with a Block or a NFR Grant funding agreement have this program built into their core funding.

Assisted Living Adult Institutional Care

The Adult Institutional Care (AIC) Program provides financial assistance to eligible adult residents living on-reserve who, by reason of incapacity, require placement in a licensed assisted living care continuing care facility. Eligibility criteria is set by the provincial Ministry of Health Services and ISC, BC Region. It is the responsibility of the local Health Authority to determine the nature, amount, cost and duration of the service to be provided to the client. This program is application based.

It is highly recommended that an Adult Institutional Care application is submitted to ISC before a client is placed in an assisted living long-term care facility for Adult Institutional Care, to determine eligibility and to calculate funding

The application consists of four forms (HLTH 1.1, HLTH 1.6, ISC Application Form, Medical Release Form), which covers the health, financial, accredited facility, ages, and residence assessments to support the applicant's eligibility for funding.

It is the responsibility of the First Nations/Tribal Councils community to inform ISC BC Region of any changes to the client's application status. A change in status includes, but is not limited to, a change in level of care, change of facility, change of finances, etc.

For a First Nation or Tribal Council to receive reimbursement through their reporting submissions, approval from ISC BC Region is required for Adult Institutional Care applicants.

Funding Methodology:

Budgets are established based on the actual funding requirement reported in the previous fiscal year and adjusted based on actual approved requirements for each individual in the current year. Budgets have not been established for First Nations that have not provided reports or did not have approved clients in the 2018-2019 fiscal years.

Budgets are established based on approved applications that have been submitted by ISC BC Region to determine eligibility.

First Nations with a Block or a NFR Grant funding agreement have this program built into their core funding.

Funding Information for NFR 10-Year Grant Recipients:

Where a new client is placed into an assisted living care facility Long-Term Residential Care and requires funding support AIC program support, First Nations with a NFR Grant Funding Agreement have the following two options to request additional funding for the client:

1) Completing and submitting to ISC a the new AIC application package, or
2) Requesting a rebase for the Assisted Living program funding included in the First Nations funding agreement. Please note, Assisted Living rebase requests are subject to ISC Headquarters Q review and decision approval.

Disabilities Initiative

The Disabilities Initiative provides funding for projects and activities that increase awareness of disability issues and available supports; and/or improve the coordination and accessibility to these programs and supports among individuals with disabilities living on-reserve.

Funding support is directed to projects and activities that increase awareness of disability issues and available supports and/or improve the coordination and accessibility to these programs and supports among individuals with disabilities living on reserve.

Eligible activities for the 2024-2025 Disabilities Initiative include:

- New or innovative approaches to client navigator services for disability supports (assistance applying for services, including appeals processes where services have been denied);
- Advocacy, education and awareness initiatives and campaigns; and,
- Research and surveys on disability issues on-reserve.

Family Violence Prevention Program (FVPP)

The Family Violence Prevention Program (FVPP) funds the operations of emergency shelters and transitional (second stage) housing to improve the safety and security of Indigenous women, children, families and 2SLGBTQQIA+ people across Canada, including in the North and in urban centers. FVPP also provides funding for community-driven proposals for family violence prevention projects. The FVPP has the following components:

Prevention and Awareness

- Funding for culturally appropriate community-driven prevention projects to raise awareness and focus on First Nations, Inuit, Métis, urban and 2SLGBTQQIA+ people facing gender-based violence such as public awareness campaigns, conferences, workshops, stress and anger management seminars and support groups

Operations and Capacity Building for Shelters and Transitional (second-stage) Housing

- Funding for the daily operations of emergency shelters that provide services for Indigenous women, children and families across Canada, including First Nations (on and off reserve), Inuit, Métis, urban and 2SLGBTQQIA+ people
- Funding for the daily operations of transitional (second-stage) housing that provide services for Indigenous women, children and families across Canada, including First Nations (on and off reserve), Inuit, Métis, urban and 2SLGBTQQIA+ people
- Funding to provide support to shelters, transitional homes and their staff through training forums, gatherings and development and distribution of resources and research

Funding Methodology:

Operations and capacity building for shelters and transitional (second-stage) housing - Operations funding is formula based. The funding formula is in the process of being updated and modernized. Shelters and Transitional Homes can apply for additional funding to support capacity building and prevention and awareness projects.

Family Violence Prevention Program funding allocations to First Nations are based on the funding formula of $1,000 base per First Nation, plus a geographic 'weighted' per capita formula. The weighted population is the First Nation's Total on and off reserve Population (Indian Registry population codes 1 through 6 as of December 31 of the previous fiscal year) multiplied by the First Nations' Remoteness Index Factor.

Violence Prevention and Awareness: BC Region has additional funding to support violence prevention activities on and off-reserve in BC. A project is prioritized as follows:

- It addresses a specific and critical/urgent need, i.e., a FN community needs support to address rise in violence such as domestic violence, youth violence, suicide/ suicidal pacts; other responses to trauma, or
- The project links to a community plan / prioritized and identified need, or
- There is strong community participation (such as a large event)

These requests will be assessed for eligibility and prioritized on a case-by-case needs-basis. The number of approved requests will depend on a variety of factors including the number of requests received and total available funding.

Contact Mercy Mura, Regional Program Development Advisor at mercy.mura@sac-isc.gc.ca to request additional violence prevention and awareness project funding.

General Information & What's New

In January 2016, in response to a 2007 complaint by the Assembly of First Nations and the First Nations Child and Family Caring Society, the Canadian Human Rights Tribunal (CHRT) found the First Nations Child and Family Services (FNCFS) program to be discriminatorily underfunded under the Canadian Human Rights Act. The tribunal ordered the department to cease its discriminatory practices and to reform the program to reflect the findings in its decision.

Indigenous Services Canada (ISC) continues to advance a new First Nations-led approach to reforming the First Nations Child and Family Services program and reducing the number of First Nation children in care. A new evidence-informed funding approach will provide First Nations and First Nations-authorized service providers with non-discriminatory, stable and predictable funding to deliver the necessary services and supports to promote family wellness and address the factors linked to the significant over-representation of First Nations children in care.

An Act respecting First Nations, Inuit and Métis children, youth and families (the "Act") came into force on January 1, 2020. The Act establishes national standards for the delivery of child and family services to Indigenous children, such as the best interests of the child, cultural continuity and substantive equality. It also affirms that the inherent right to self-government includes jurisdiction over child and family services, including the right to make, administer and enforce laws. The key areas within the federal approach to implement the Act include: capacity-building, coordination agreement discussions and implementation of Indigenous child and family service models.

First Nations Child and Family Services

ISC reaffirmed its commitment to implementing the program in accordance with applicable Canadian Human Rights Tribunal orders and to providing funding under the First Nations Child and Family Services Transitional Terms and Conditions (https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1100100035204/1533307858805) following the Assembly of First Nations Special Chiefs Assembly on October 17, 2024 where the draft Final Settlement Agreement was not approved.

On December 22, 2025, the Honourable Mandy Gull-Masty, Minister of Indigenous Services Canada, announced a plan for program reform in response to Canadian Human Rights Tribunal Order 80. In the interim, ISC remains committed to implementing the First Nations Child and Family Services Program in accordance with the applicable Canadian Human Rights Tribunal orders, First Nations Child and Family Services Transitional Terms and Conditions (https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1100100035204/1533307858805) and guidance set out in First Nations Child and Family Services Information bulletins.

Currently, the First Nations Child and Family Services Program in British Columbia continues to support 19 Indigenous Child and Family Services Agencies, and over 200 First Nations.

Funding:

On April 1, 2022, following the following the CHRT 8 Order, Canada began implementing a series of immediate measures that would begin the process of reforming the First Nations Child and Family Services Program:

- Prevention based on a formula of $2,500 per registered First Nation person resident on reserve and in the Yukon (to be allocated among agencies and First Nations and to be adjusted annually for inflation and population changes);
- First Nations Representative Services based on a formula of $283 per registered First Nation person resident on reserve and in the Yukon (adjusted annually for inflation and population changes);
- Post-Majority Support Services based on actual costs to assist youth aging out of care and young adults formerly in care as they transition into adulthood. In the Province of British Columbia, youth and young adults are funded up to their 27th birthday.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS:	PAW #	Name	Due Date
	Applications are not required for Prevention and First Nations Representative Services.
	No PAW	• For Post Majority Support Services information is available at : https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1650377737799/1650377806807. • To request funding, contact: bccfs@sac-isc.gc.ca	Applications accepted on an on-going basis

Information on eligible activities and expenditures is available in the First Nations Child and Family Services Transitional Terms and Conditions https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1648577221890/1648577242550.

Funding Methodology:

The funding is based on Canadian Human Rights Tribunal Orders. For funding formula and administrative procedure information, contact the British Columbia Regional Child and Family Services Unit: bccfs@sac-isc.gc.ca

2021 Canadian Human Rights Tribunal (CHRT) Order 41 - Capital Funding:
Under the 2021 Canadian Human Rights Tribunal Order 41, First Nations, First Nations child and family services agencies , First Nations or First Nations-authorized service providers that deliver Jordan's Principle services to eligible funding requesters can access funding for the purchase and construction of capital assets needed to:

- Support the delivery of funded First Nations Child and Family Services programming to First Nations children and families on-reserve and in the Yukon;
- Provide safe, accessible, confidential and culturally- and age-appropriate spaces needed to support the delivery of Jordan's Principle funded services on-reserve, which can include space to administer those services.

On January 18, 2022, the Canadian Human Rights Tribunal issued consent order 2021 CHRT 41 (amended), requiring Canada to fund the planning, purchase and construction of capital assets on-reserve for the delivery of First Nations Child and Family Services or for the delivery of services under Jordan's Principle, based on actual costs incurred. The construction or purchase of off reserve property is eligible where there is no suitable property available on reserve for construction, or where off reserve construction is more accessible for First Nations children, youth and families on reserve and in Yukon to receive services. Claims for reimbursement related to expenses incurred by the requestor in one fiscal year can be submitted until September 30th of the following fiscal year.

Housing:
The First Nations Child and Family Services Housing Fund is a dedicated, time-limited funding (from 2023-2024 to 2027-2028) to support the purchase, construction, or renovation of housing units in First Nation communities to address the needs of children and families. In British Columbia, this funding is administered by the ISC Community Infrastructure Directorate. Refer to the Housing section of this Program Guide. For more information, contact: HousingBC-logementcb@sac-isc.gc.ca.

For all enquiries related to the First Nation Child and Family Services, contact the British Columbia Regional Child and Family Services Unit at bccfs@sac-isc-.gc.ca.

Indigenous Child and Family Services Agencies

The First Nations Child and Family Services Program provides funding to assist in ensuring the safety and well-being of First Nations children ordinarily resident on reserve by supporting culturally appropriate prevention and protection services for First Nations children and families.

First Nations and Indigenous Child and Family Services Agencies (ICFSA) and service providers will have flexibility to share prevention resources so long as the allocations are consistent with the promotion of family wellness and the prevention of child maltreatment and fulfill statutory child welfare requirements.

As of fiscal year 2026-2027, all First Nations Child and Family Services agencies in the British Columbia region meet the definition of small agencies, and therefore all eligible operational expenses are funded based on actual costs. The First Nations Child and Family Services Program in British Columbia administers funding for all categories of operational funding, with the exception of maintenance and care costs, through the annual business planning process.

Details regarding eligible costs and assessment are included in the First Nations Child and Family Services Transitional Terms and Conditions https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1648577221890/1648577242550 with additional guidance available in First Nations Child and Family Services Information Bulletins.

Maintenance and Care Costs:

Maintenance funding is meant to cover the costs directly related to maintaining a child that is placed out of the parental home, in accordance with provincial standards. Maintenance costs for children-in-care are submitted on a monthly basis by both Ministry of Child and Family Development (MCFD) and Indigenous Child and Family Services agencies. Such costs include:

1. Actual costs required for a child/children in care, and,

2. Actual costs of goods and services required as a least disruptive measure for a child/children not in care as a result of a child maltreatment assessment or investigation, as defined in section 5.1 of the First Nations Child and Family Services Transitional Terms and Conditions https://www.sac-isc.gc.ca/eng/1648577221890/1648577242550.

Costs for maintenance will continue to be reimbursed based on actual costs incurred as reported on DCI #455917 "Child and Family Services Maintenance Report."

ADDITIONAL MAINTENANCE FORMS	PAW	Name
	493710	Notice of Admission (NOA) Submitted by the Indigenous Child and Family Services Agency to allow ISC to determine whether it has financial responsibility for a child the Agency wishes to include on the monthly maintenance report.

	493738	Notice of Discharge (NOD) Submitted by the Indigenous Child and Family Services Agency to notify that a child has been discharged or transferred out and is no longer in the Agency's care.

Jordan’s Principle

Jordan's Principle is named in memory of Jordan River Anderson. He was a young boy from Norway House Cree Nation in Manitoba.

Jordan's Principle makes sure all First Nations children living in Canada can access the products, services and supports they need, when they need them. Funding can help address a wide range of health, social, and educational needs, including the unique needs of First Nations Two-Spirit and LGBTQQIA children, and those of children with disabilities.

Between July 2016 and August 31, 2025, more than 10 million products, services and supports were approved under Jordan's Principle, across Canada. These included speech therapy, educational supports, medical equipment, mental health services and more.

Updates on Jordan’s Principle

The 2021 Agreement-in-Principle on Long Term Reform of the First Nations Child and Family Services (FNCFS) Program and Jordan's Principle provides a framework for improved implementation of Jordan's Principle, and to reform Indigenous Services Canada to prevent the recurrence of discrimination.

ISC is reviewing Jordan's Principle processes and policies at regional and national levels with long-term sustainability in mind. This will ensure more consistent and clearer policies and communications about the services First Nations children can access through Jordan's Principle and the required documentation to access those services and supports.

To learn more about the latest legal decisions on Jordan's Principle, and updates to the implementation of Jordan’s Principle, consult:

- Timeline: Jordan's Principle and First Nations child and family services
- Jordan’s Principle Operational Bulletin

What We Are Doing

Jordan's Principle is intended to make sure that First Nations children have substantively equal access to government services, taking into account their distinct circumstances, experiences, and needs as First Nations children.

As of June 2025, nearly $10 billion has been announced since 2016 to meet the distinct needs of First Nations children through Jordan's Principle.

In addition, Jordan’s Principle BC Region works with Indigenous partners delivering the Enhanced Service Coordination Model, and has placed over 40 Community-Based Service Coordinators and Regional Service Coordinators across the province. Service Coordinators support children and their families to navigate existing federal and provincial services and supports, and to submit a request for products, services and supports under Jordan’s Principle. To connect with a Service Coordinator, please consult the Service Coordinator Directory.

Enhanced Service Coordination partners hosting Jordan's Principle Service Coordinators are Indigenous-led organizations including: tribal councils, nations, delegated Aboriginal agencies, friendship centres, and other First Nations non-governmental organizations and not-for-profit organizations. Regional staff work closely with Service Coordinators to receive requests, follow up to obtain additional information as needed, and ensure decisions are shared with families.

The majority of Enhanced Service Coordination partners collaborate with ISC to deliver the Approved Request Contingency (ARC) Fund. ARC Fund partners directly process payment for approved individual Jordan's Principle requests that were submitted through their organization.

ISC-approved requests in BC may be managed through the FNHA-operated payments administration model. Payments continue to be processed by the BC Region Jordan's Principle Payments Team and ARC Fund partners.

INDIVIDUAL AND GROUP REQUESTS

Who Is Covered

On November 25, 2020, the Canadian Human Rights Tribunal (CHRT) released a ruling about Jordan's Principle eligibility. A child under the age of majority in their province or territory of residence can access Jordan's Principle, if they permanently reside in Canada and if the child meets one of the following criteria:

- Is registered or eligible to be registered under the Indian Act;
- Has one parent or guardian who is registered or eligible to be registered under the Indian Act;
- Is recognized by their Nation for the purposes of Jordan's Principle;
- Is ordinarily a resident on reserve.

Who Can Send Requests

A request for a child or children in the same family or with the same guardian can be submitted by:

- a parent or guardian of a First Nations or Indigenous child who ordinarily resides on reserve
- a First Nations, or Indigenous child who ordinarily resides on reserve, at the age of consent in their province or territory of residence. A child at the age of consent can make decisions on their own about the care they need. Age of consent varies by province or territory
- an authorized representative of the child, parent or guardian
    - written or verbal consent must be provided by the parent or guardian

A request for a group of children from multiple families or guardians can be submitted by:

- A community or tribal council
- A community organization or institution
- A service coordinator, navigator or case manager

Requests are reviewed on a case-by-case basis and there is no list of approved items. Some examples of what has been funded under Jordan's Principle include but are not limited to:

Health	Social	Education
• Child-specific addiction services • Professional mental health services • Specialized hearing aids • Assessments and screenings for a medical or educational need • Transportation to child-specific medical appointments • Medical supplies and equipment • Therapeutic services for individuals or groups (speech therapy, physiotherapy, occupational therapy) • Medical respite care (individual or group) • Mobility aids • Wheelchair ramps	• Child-specific land-based activities on reserve • Child-specific specialized programs based on cultural beliefs and practices on reserve	• Tutoring services • Teaching assistants on reserve • Assessments and screenings for educational needs • Assistive technologies and electronics related to child-specific educational needs • Specialized school transportation

REQUESTS FOR CAPITAL ASSETS

On January 26, 2016, the Canadian Human Rights Tribunal (CHRT) ruled that Canada's provision of First Nations child and family services and Jordan's Principle was discriminatory on the prohibited grounds of race and national or ethnic origin. The ruling specifically noted capital as one area requiring redress.

On November 16, 2021, the CHRT issued 2021 CHRT 41: First Nations Child & Family Caring Society of Canada et al. v. Attorney General of Canada (representing the Minister of Indigenous and Northern Affairs Canada).

This decision contains orders for Canada to fund the purchase and construction of capital assets for the delivery of:

- First Nations child and family services
- services under Jordan's Principle

Following the submission of a consent motion from Canada and the parties, on January 18, 2022, the CHRT amended the orders in the decision of November 16, 2021.

To learn more about this and past decisions of the federal court and the CHRT on First Nations child and family services and Jordan's Principle, consult the Timeline: Jordan's Principle and First Nations child and family services.

Child and Family Services Jurisdiction

An Act respecting First Nations, Inuit and Métis children, youth and families (the "Act") came into force on January 1, 2020. The Act establishes national standards for the delivery of child and family services to Indigenous children, such as the best interests of the child, cultural continuity and substantive equality. It also affirms that the inherent right to self-government includes jurisdiction over child and family services, including the right to make, administer and enforce laws.

The key areas within the federal approach to implementation of the Act include: Capacity Building, Coordination Agreement Discussions, and Implementation of Coordination Agreements.

Capacity Building

Jurisdiction planning capacity-building funding is available to Indigenous governing bodies and section 35 rights-holding communities planning for the exercise of jurisdiction over child and family services. Among other activities, capacity building funding supports community engagement, readiness and needs assessments, the codification of Indigenous laws and the development of child and family service models and budgets.

Helpful links:

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS:	PAW #	Name	Due Date
	Capacity Building Funding Funding application package to include: • Work Plan - vision, expected outcomes, objectives and activities planned • Budget - estimated costs and detailed breakdowns based on quotes and actuals • Information about deferred revenue, if applicable - surplus from capacity- building funding from previous fiscal year and plans to use the surplus • Indigenous governing body documentation - (e.g. Band Council Resolution or a letter) which authorizes a government or entity to act on behalf of an Indigenous group, community or people that holds rights recognized and affirmed by section 35 of the Constitution Act, 1982. Documentation should be signed to demonstrate quorum was reached in accordance with governance requirements.		Please contact Program for further details.

	• Child and Family Services (CFS) reporting, for both jurisdiction-related funding and First Nations Child and Family Services (FNCFS) program funding, must be completed in order to avoid automatic funding halts.
REPORTING DUE DATES:	DCI #	DCI Name	Due Date
	4548549	Activities and Expenditures Report – Jurisdiction Capacity Development (Capacity- building)	April 30, 2027

Funding Methodology:

Jurisdiction capacity-building funding will be comparable for all groups and distinctions and based on the distinct circumstances of each Indigenous community or Indigenous governing body, including population, geographic location (remoteness), and the number of section 35 rights- holding communities the Indigenous governing body represents.

Funding amounts are subject to:

- Yearly maximums outline in the chart below
- The number of proposals received
- The total funding available, if demand exceeds available funding.

Community Size	Urban	Remote
Indigenous communities under 1,500 people	$250,000	$300,000
Indigenous communities over 1,500 people	$550,000	$650,000
Indigenous groups representing multiple communities	$1,000,000	$1,200,000
Indigenous communities or groups representing over 10,000 people	$1,750,000	$2,000,000
Large organizations on a Treaty or regional scale	$1,750,000	$2,000,000

Coordination Agreement Discussions

Coordination agreement discussions (CAD) tables are tripartite discussions involving the Indigenous governing body, the federal government, and the respective provincial and/or territorial governments. The CAD table is a forum for discussing coordinating measures to support the Indigenous governing body in the exercise of jurisdiction over child and family services. Discussions are initiated by the Indigenous governing body, who have completed their jurisdiction planning, by submitting a sub-section 20(2) request).

CAD table funding is available to support table discussions.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS:	PAW#	Name	Due Date
	Coordination Agreement Discussion (CAD) Table Funding – no application form available Available to communities who have completed jurisdiction planning work, have had their sub-section 20(2) request to enter into CAD processed, and the table has started.		Please contact the Program for further details.

Implementation of Coordination Agreements

Coordination agreements are tripartite agreements between the Indigenous governing body, the federal government, and respective provincial and/or territorial governments and serve as a framework for collaboration and coordination between different service providers and governments involved in Indigenous child and family services.

Indigenous Services Canada is committed to supporting the implementation of Indigenous laws and child and family services models through funding arrangements that are needs-based, and consistent with the principle of substantive equality.

Once a coordination agreement is signed, federal funding for implementation of the agreement is provided in the form of a grant.

General Information & What's New

Emergency Management is a shared responsibility. It begins with individual community members and is a partnership among First Nations, the federal government and the provincial government.

Indigenous Services Canada (ISC) supports communities on reserve to access emergency management services under the authority of the Emergency Management Assistance Program (EMAP).

Funding through EMAP supports First Nations to build resiliency, prepare for emergencies (e.g. emergencies such as wildfires, flooding, severe weather events) and to respond and recover from emergencies. EMAP includes all four pillars of emergency management:

1. Mitigation
2. Preparedness
3. Response
4. Recovery

When an emergency exceeds the capacity of a First Nation, Emergency Management and Climate Readiness British Columbia (EMCR, 1-800-663-3456) is available to support emergency coordination. Through EMCR, ISC reimburses eligible response costs incurred by First Nations on reserve. In addition, ISC supports First Nations in their efforts to increase community-based capacity and disaster resilience through mitigation and preparedness activities.

ISC also has the Building Back Better (BBB) Strategy Guide, under EMAP, which outlines additional supports during response (e.g., social and cultural supports for evacuees) and Recovery phases (e.g., mitigative enhancements post-disaster, support for personal losses).

This document is intended to offer information on EMAP and BBB, in the context of British Columbian emergencies and emergency management partners, and to support conversations between BC First Nations and ISC on how EMAP supports communities and who to contact during an emergency event. ISC BC Region can further be reached at bcaandc.do@sac-isc.gc.ca.

Emergency Management (EM) Assistance Program Preparedness & Non-Structural Mitigation

The EMAP authority allows for non-structural mitigation and preparedness activities such as risk assessment, hazard mapping, planning, training and simulation exercises. Structural mitigation activities such as new capital equipment and construction are specifically excluded and must be undertaken under other appropriate departmental authorities, including but not limited to the Capital authority.

Under the Canada - BC Emergency Management Services Agreement, Emergency Management and Climate Readiness BC (EMCR) may provide guidance, training and workshops at no cost to First Nations. ISC's non-structural mitigation and preparedness funding through the application based program additional supports First Nations to build capacity, knowledge, skills and abilities to respond to and recover from emergency situations.

First Nation representatives may also contact EMCR's Regional Offices directly for more information on services available under the Canada - BC Emergency Management Service Agreement:

EMCR Central (Kamloops) 250-371-5240
EMCR South West (Surrey) 604-586-4390
EMCR North East (Prince George) 250-612-4172
EMCR South East (Nelson) 250-354-5904
EMCR North West (Terrace) 250-615-4800
EMCR Vancouver Isl. (Saanichton) 250-952-5848

Funding Methodology:

ISC carries out an annual funding call for EMAP Non-Structural Mitigation and Preparedness projects, applications are accepted on an ongoing bases as funding is available. Applications are reviewed periodically through the year using a risk based approach and other criteria which are updated from time to time

Emergency Management Assistance Program Response

Response involves actions to deal with the short-term consequences of an imminent or occurring natural hazards emergency to protect First Nation members from loss of life or injury, and to protect houses and other infrastructure. Under the Canada – BC Emergency Management Service Agreement, Emergency Management and Climate Readiness BC's (EMCR) Emergency Coordination Centre (1-800-663-3456) is available should an emergency occur day or night.

First Nations may work through EMCR to access response support through EMCR's expense authorization form (EAF) process. The EAF forms and process, associated claims materials, and guidelines, can be obtained from EMCR Regional Offices.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS:	PAW #	PAW Name	Due Date
	See Funding Methodology (there is no deadline to apply)
REPORTING DUE DATES:	DCI #	DCI Name	Due Date
	Response reimbursements are approved based on determination of eligible expenditures from review of supporting documentation such as invoices, time sheets and proof of payment by ISC.

Contact Information:

Emergency Management Duty Officer bcaandc.do@sac-isc.gc.ca 604-209-9709

EMCR's Emergency Coordination Centre (1 800 663-3456) is available when a First Nation experiences an emergency. EMCR's Regional Offices may also be contacted directly for more information on services available under the Canada - BC Emergency Management Service Agreement:

EMCR Central (Kamloops) 250-371-5240
EMCR South West (Surrey) 604-586-4390
EMCR North East (Prince George) 250-612-4172
EMCR South East (Nelson) 250-354-5904
EMCR North West (Terrace) 250-615-4800
EMCR Vancouver Isl. (Saanichton) 250-952-5848

Funding Methodology:

EMCR reimburses First Nations for 100% of eligible response costs incurred during an emergency on-reserve. ISC then reimburses EMCR.
First Nations may contact their regional EMCR office regarding the process to submit a response claim, and may work directly with ISC staff to discuss response inquiries.

Emergency Management Assistance Program Recovery

Recovery involves measures to restore essential community infrastructure to acceptable level that existed prior to the natural hazards emergency event as quickly as possible. Recovery may include a mitigation component to reduce the vulnerabilities of the impacted community to improve resiliency for future emergency events.

ISC works closely with First Nations after an emergency event that impacts on reserve community infrastructure and housing. To receive EMAP funding for an emergency recovery project, the First Nation is required to obtain, and provide to ISC, an inspection report that details the damages caused by the emergency event on primary residences or infrastructure. Secondary residences, such as cottages, are not considered eligible.

The provincial platform for recovery is the Disaster Financial Assistance (DFA) program is available to First Nations when an emergency is identified as DFA eligible. If a First Nation choose to work through the DFA program they are responsible for completing their own DFA applications and must do this by provincially set due dates..

What is a targeted program?

A targeted Program is a program that is subject to funding availability each fiscal year. Therefore, a targeted Program is only delivered once the budget for that program and fiscal year has been secured. The targeted programs included in this information handbook are:

Social Programs
- Family Violence Prevention Program (FVPP)

Emergency Management
- Emergency Management Assistance Program – Non-Structural Mitigation & Preparedness (NSMP)

Lands & Economic Development
- Community Opportunity Readiness Program (CORP)

Community Development
- Professional & Institutional Development (P&ID)

Child and Family Services
- Jordan's Principle
- Jurisdiction & Engagement (JE)
- Delegated Aboriginal Child & Family Services Agencies (DACFSA)
- Community Wellbeing & Jurisdiction Initiative (CWJI)

Funding Agreement Cash Flow Regime

The following is the BC Region regime regarding the distribution of funds for the initial allocation provided in funding arrangements with First Nations and Tribal Councils. This regime is established to provide funding to allow recipients to meet their cash flow requirements while respecting the cash management guidelines, Section 6.4 of the Treasury Board Transfer Payments Directive (www.tbs-sct.gc.ca/pol/doc- eng.aspx?id=14208).

In addition to the cash flow regime, funding may be pooled and will be released upon receipt and approval of necessary applications, reports, operational and work plans, i.e. Tribal Council Application and Work Plan, capital projects, etc.

Recipients may adjust their expenditure plans based on actual cash flow requirements. Please contact the relevant Program Officer to discuss changes to the cash flow.

Concerning compliance with reporting requirements, the Grants and Contributions Information Management System (GCIMS) system may automatically halt funds in accordance with Directive 123 Reporting Management for all Prior Year overdue reports.

National Funding Agreement Models 2026-2027

According to the Treasury Board Secretariat Directive on Transfer Payments, a funding agreement is a written agreement or documentation constituting an agreement between the Government of Canada and an applicant or a recipient setting out the obligations or understandings of both with respect to one or more transfer payments. It describes the requirements needed to maintain the accountability relationship between Indigenous Services Canada (ISC) and the funding recipient. ISC has published the National Funding Agreement models below:

- Provincial/Territorial Governments Funding Agreement Model 2026-2027
- Comprehensive Funding Agreement (with 10-year grant) 2026-2027
- Funding Agreement Model: Other 2026-2027
